RACKET JURY CALLS SENATOR

WARRIOR TAKES AFGHAN THRONE AMID GLITTER

Nadir Khan Seated in Tribal Pageant.

KABUL, Afghanistan, Oct. 19. — From atop the lofty mountains which encircle Kabul fireworks are blazing tonight and within the city there is great merrymaking, for the new king officially assumed the throne.

Nadir Khan, hero of the "war of independence" in 1919, which freed Afghanistan entirely from British connection, now sits on the throne left by the ill fated Amanullah, whose impatience to make this tribal nation European over night, brought about his overthrow by Bacho Sachao, hardy son of a water carrier, and a bandit chieftain.

Named King Year Ago.

Nadir Khan was named king by tribal chiefs and Afghan troops just a year ago today. Five days before he had taken Kabul from the water boy's son and forced the bandit king to evacuate. He then stepped aside, pleading ill health, but the army which idolized him threatened to flee the capital if he refused the throne. At a hurriedly convoked meeting of army leaders and tribal chiefs he was proclaimed king, sounding the death knell to Amanullah's hopes in getting the lost kingdom back.

At King Nadir's request today's ceremonies were simple, for the years of revolution and the reign of a bandit, brief though it was, played havoc with the treasury.

Still it was a glorious pageant. Chieftains in multicolored tribal dress mingled with cabinet ministers, diplomatic representatives and European visitors attired in full evening dress—the customary garb for morning ceremonies in eastern countries.

Arrives in Rolls-Royce.

Tribesmen came with their rifles slung over their shoulders and embroidered cartridge belts strapped around their waists. The gentry and nobility drove to the parade grounds in American automobiles, while the king and his family arrived in the latest Rolls-Royce model.

Fifteen thousand troops paraded before their monarch, including a regiment of warriors from the Waziri and Mangal tribes in tall turbans and flowing robes, the fiercest fighters in central Asia. Behind them marched the royal guard in scarlet coats, gold braided blue trousers and high bearskin helmets. All are six feet tall or more, and look exactly like the guard at Buckingham palace.

Overhead planes from the Afghan air force roared. King Nadir Khan's speech was broadcast to the multitude by radio.

"The Country Is Yours."

The king, clad in a scarlet uniform, talked in a gentle voice strange for a man who has spent his life leading troops amid the hardships of mountain warfare. He assured them he had no intention of following Amanullah's lead. There is to be no hasty Europeanizing, no drastic reforms of Islam's religious dictates and customs, he announced.

"The country is yours to do with what you want," he said.

But he appealed to the people to send their children to school—a new idea in tribal civilization.

Later in the day, the public beamed with pride as their youngsters, all pupils of public schools, wearing European sports clothes, galloped about the field showing their elders how football, volley ball, basketball and tennis are played.

A Crownless Crowning.

There was no crowning of the king at today's ceremony, for Afghan kings wear no crowns.

At 10 o'clock the king, accompanied by Crown Prince Mohammed Zahir Khan, 19 years old, drove from the royal palace down a flag lined avenue to the parade grounds. His speech and the replies of Hazrat, chief of the Afghan Moslem religion, and Soviet Minister Bahela, representing the diplomatic corps, took but a few minutes. Stepping down from the platform the king mounted a horse and reviewed his troops. At noon he unveiled a new inscription on a monument erected in 1920 in honor of the victory over the British the year before.

The afternoon was occupied with dancing and games. Mangal tribesmen performed a war dance reminiscent of an American Indian dance, with the same beat of tom toms and the same wild whoops and single file formation about a fire.

The festivities will continue for four days, with games, sports, and fire-

INQUIRY TODAY ON $11,000 FEE IN BARKER CASE

Jenkins Also Faces Questioning.

State Senator Victor P. Michel of Peoria was subpœnaed yesterday for questioning by the grand jury here today in its investigation of the release of George [Red] Barker, public enemy and labor racketeer, from Pontiac reformatory a year ago. It is charged that a legal fee of $11,000 was paid to Chauncey Jenkins, another attorney, for services to Barker.

Michel appeared as an attorney for the gangster in the habeas corpus proceedings before the late Judge T. N. Green of Peoria county which resulted in Barker's release after he had been returned to prison for violating his parole. Jenkins, who was state director of public welfare under former Gov. Small, has already been subpœnaed and is also scheduled to appear before the jury today.

Locks Himself in Office.

The grand jury subpoena was served on Senator Michel in Peoria yesterday after a contest of patience between the senator and process servers. Michel locked himself in his office for six hours while the deputy sheriffs waited outside. Finally he capitulated and accepted service on the writ.

Senator Michel denied any knowledge that Jenkins received the alleged $11,000 fee. He would not tell the amount of his own fee. The prosecutors charge the $11,000 was paid from the funds of the coal teamsters' unions, which have been dominated by Barker.

Barker is now back in Pontiac reformatory, where he was sent last Thursday by Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the Criminal court.

Attorney Milton D. Smith, one of Barker's counsel, said he had not determined what steps he would take in an effort to free his client again. At the state's attorney's office it was said there was no course open to him but an appeal to the Supreme court and the prosecutors declared they were prepared to oppose him there.

The War on Public Enemies.

With the grand jury continuing its investigation of the Barker fee matter and other cases today, the battle of Chicago and county authorities against gangsters and racketeers, many of them listed as public enemies, is renewed in full force.

The offensives today involve Terry Druggan, public enemy, whose disappearance a week ago from the University hospital, where he was a patient, was discovered on Saturday; Frank Foster, charged with complicity in the murder of Alfred Lingle; Danny Stanton, accused by Wisconsin authorities of the slaying of Jack Zuta; James [Fur] Sammons, alleged vagrant, and Frank Lawler, Capone beer agent.

Among the matters of chief concern to the grand jury is the investigation of the theft from the detective bureau of a secret police list of gangsters scheduled for arrest. The stolen list was found by federal raiders under the pillow of a Capone bondsman.

To Speed Trials of Druggan.

The discovery of Druggan's disappearance from the hospital, where he was supposedly suffering from eight diseases, caused the prosecutors to say they would ask to have the two court cases against him placed on call immediately. Druggan's hospitalization had obtained continuances for him on vagrancy charges before Judge John H. Lyle in Felony court and on income tax evasion charges before Federal Judge James Wilkerson.

Foster is scheduled for trial in the Criminal court today, but Special Assistant State's Attorney Charles F. Rathbun said he will probably ask a continuance of the case. He is not yet compelled to give Foster a trial under the four term act, he said, and is awaiting certain other developments before he will be ready to take Foster before a jury.

Fight Stanton Extradition.

The Stanton case is expected to require several days if the defense attorneys carry out their plan of fighting extradition in Judge McGoorty's court. Prosecutor Rittenhouse said he believed, however, that Stanton would go to Wisconsin for trial—that the ballistics evidence against him cannot be disproved here.

Sammons, after having his bonds cut from $50,000 to $5,000 by the Supreme court, expected to be freed on Saturday, but the prosecutors found fault with the bond offered and say they will endeavor to keep him in jail until he is tried on several charges.

Lawler, the Capone beer runner, may be taken before the grand jury for questioning about his list of payments to "squads."

GARY WIDOW, FRIEND OF CATS, FOUND SLAIN

Mrs. Mary Janovich, 65 year old widow, known as the "Cat Woman of Gary" because her home at 2245 Washington street was a haven for stray felines, was found murdered yesterday, and the Gary police say she was the victim of a moron. She had been criminally assaulted and choked to death.

The crime was discovered by Mrs. Mayme Newton and Mrs. Mattie Parrish of 2201 Broadway, Gary, while flat hunting. A realty broker had given them the key to a vacant apartment at 2155 Washington street. Entering it they stumbled over the body in the living room.

Mrs. Janovich had been missing since last Friday morning. It was her daily custom to call on her neighbors for scraps of meat for her cats, of which at the time of her death she had more than a dozen. It is believed by Inspector A. S. Woods that she was lured to the vacant apartment by her slayer on the promise of supplying her with food for her pets.

Interest in the case was enhanced by reason of Mrs. Janovich's singular habits. She was independent financially. She had been left $10,000 two years ago on the death of her husband, and she owned her home, a six room bungalow. She was considered a shrewd business woman. Her cats were her sole hobby.

Three Die in Fire as Auto Strikes Post

Three men were burned to death in an automobile last night as the result of a crash at high speed into an unlighted steel viaduct support in the center of Avenue M, near 99th street.

The dead men were Eugene P. McGovern, 136 West 69th street, an electrician, owner and driver of the car; Michael Devine of Indiana Harbor, and Stanley Novak, 35 years old, 8414 Saginaw avenue, also an electrician and the father of three sons, the oldest 13 years old. McGovern and Devine were dead when police arrived and Novak died later at the South Chicago hospital. McGovern leaves a widow and two children, while Devine was the father of five children.

The three men had spent some time at Novak's home before leaving for the plant of the Illinois Steel company, where McGovern worked and where he had secured employment for the other two.

Drenched with Gasoline.

The automobile was demolished by the impact and the gasoline tank appeared to have been ripped apart, drenching the three men and the interior of the car with gasoline an instant before the flames made a roaring furnace of the wreckage.

At the same time, the force of the crash appeared to have jammed the front doors of the car, making escape impossible for McGovern and Devine, who were trapped in the front seat. Novak, however, managed to open one of the rear doors and stumbled onto the highway wreathed in flames just as police arrived.

Capt. Dennis Malloy of the East Side police station said that a warning signal light on the steel upright which supports tracks of the New York Central railroad was not burning and that the obstacle was practically invisible to motorists. He added that there have been a number of serious accidents at the stop in the last year.

Husband and Wife Killed.

A husband and his wife were fatally injured yesterday when their automobile struck a telephone pole in front of 2420 Ogden avenue after the man had lost control of the car as it sidewiped two other automobiles.

The victims were Daniel Walker, 46 years old, a fruit dealer of 121 North Morgan street, and his wife, Mabel. They died soon after their arrival at the county hospital.

Marquette police were told that Walker was driving east when his car sidewiped another driven by Walter Fischer, 2620 South Union avenue, who was driving in the same direction.

Attempting to right the car, Walker then plunged into a third machine driven by Deputy Sheriff James Allegretti, 1916 Emerson avenue, of the Willow Springs county highway police station, then bounded over the curb and against a telephone pole. Both Walker and his wife were thrown from the car.

These five deaths and three others in Cook county raised the 1930 toll to 832. The other victims:

Mrs. Anna Miller, 37 years old, 2157 North Meade avenue. Killed when an automobile driven by her husband, James, overturned at North and Oak Park avenues, in Oak Park. Miller, who is a carpenter, said he lost control when the brakes locked as he tried to stop suddenly.

Winfred Comstock, 38 years old, 5836 Kenmore avenue, a salesman. Died at the Edgewater hospital of a skull fracture received when he was struck Oct. 10 by a car driven by Eshaya George, 2836 Burling street, at Foster avenue and Broadway.

Unidentified man about 60 years old. Died in the county hospital of injuries suffered last Wednesday when he was struck by an automobile driven by Frank Interlande, 512 North St. Louis avenue, at Washington boulevard and Union avenue.

BISHOP GRISWOLD IS CRITICALLY ILL, SAYS PHYSICIAN

The condition of Bishop Sheldon Munson Griswold of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, now in the Evanston hospital, was said yesterday to be critical because "of his age." He is 69 years old. He became ill last spring and apparently had recovered a portion of his strength through the summer, but after assuming his duties this fall suffered a relapse.

"Bishop Griswold has had a general breakdown," said his physician, Dr. Dwight F. Clark, "which includes both the heart and kidneys. A period of complete rest is imperative."

Record Cold Hits Chicago; Stays Today

Be a Good Fellow!

The unseasonable cold is causing added suffering to Chicago's unemployed. The Tribune offers its readers an opportunity to alleviate this misery through the Good Fellow movement. The story and coupon will be found on page 2. If you have a job for a jobless man, turn to page 3 and you will find another way to help out in the present distressful situation.

On the weather form sheet, Chicago had a right to expect a temperature of about 53 degrees yesterday, but the warmest it got was 36 degrees and that is an all time cold record for a mid October day during the sixty years of the weather bureau, according to Forecaster W. P. Day. Yesterday's coldest was 27 degrees and Mr. Day had to go way back to October 20, 1895, to equal that. Also yesterday's average was 22 degrees below normal for the day, which also ought to be some kind of a record, but Mr. Day called it merely "very unusual."

Will Remain 2 or 3 Days.

The premature cold wave is likely to last for two or three more days, according to the forecaster, though today and tomorrow may be slightly warmer than yesterday.

The cold caused suffering for the homeless, and hundreds tramped the wind blown streets without hope of shelter. More than 150 were turned away at the Des Plaines street station because the building was unsafe. Scores of others were taken in at the Warren avenue and North Racine avenue stations. The Wrigley shelter in North Union avenue was overcrowded, as was the old Criminal court building.

SNOW 4 FEET DEEP.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19.—(AP)—With heavy snow still falling, the freak blizzard that struck western New York Saturday blanketing some communities and missing others in the same general area tonight was tightening its grip on the south shore of Lake Erie. Traffic was blocked on highways leading south and west out of Buffalo, but only a few scattering flakes fell in the downtown section of the city. South Buffalo was blanketed with six inches.

The heaviest fall of snow was reported at Angola where it was four feet on the level. More than 200 cars from various states were stalled on the main road within a mile of the village and the occupants of the machines were cared for by residents. It was estimated that at least 1,000 motorists were stalled between Wanakah and Dunkirk.

Eight lake vessels had taken shelter from the Lake Erie gale behind Long Point, Ontario, tonight. The steamers City of Buffalo and City of Erie were held at this port and Cleveland, owing to the strong wind and high seas.

Erie Battles Snow.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Erie tonight mobilized its unemployed to fight one of the worst early season blizzards of recent years. Representatives of railroads, traction companies, and of the state highway department recruited helpers wherever they could be found to battle snow that has fallen almost steadily for 24 hours and was falling still late tonight bearing trees and telegraph and telephone wires to the ground and seriously hampering road and rail communications.

Boat Reported Missing.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A 62-foot combination sail and motor boat with four men on board was reported missing in the storm on Lake St. Clair tonight. The boat left Belle River, Ont., Thursday night and has not been reported since.

SECRET PAPERS TELL OF STRESS OVER FREE SEAS

Withheld Till Naval Parley Ended.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Diplomatic correspondence revealing for the first time the grave character of the disputes between the United States and Great Britain over freedom of the seas before the entry of this country into the war came to light today when the state department made public the supplement of papers relating to foreign relations for the year 1916.

So sharply worded were the exchanges that, after the passage of thirteen years, this government withheld the papers for more than another year because of the fear that they might adversely affect the London naval conference.

Withheld During Naval Conference.

The volume of diplomatic correspondence was scheduled for publication on Aug. 7, 1929, but instead it was ordered under lock and key when it became known that Premier Ramsay MacDonald would visit the United States and that deliberations upon the limitation of naval armaments probably would follow. At that time it was felt that the correspondence might give rise to a movement sponsored by Senator W. E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] for consideration at the conference of international maritime law.

Senator Borah was understood to have asked the state department for a copy of the volume, but so rigidly guarded was the correspondence that he failed to obtain it.

Throughout the volume the question of interference with neutral trade appeared to be paramount with the United States contending for the "freedom of the seas" doctrine it has upheld in all its history and with Great Britain standing in opposition to the American contentions. At times the exchanges evoked serious controversies thinly veiled in the polite language of diplomacy.

Near Break with Germany.

About one-fifth of the volume is devoted to the controversy over the submarine warfare program beginning with the sinking of the Lusitania. This correspondence disclosed that as early as the spring of 1916 the submarine campaign had brought President Wilson to the point of severing relations with Germany.

The tensity of the situation between the United States and Great Britain over maritime questions was evidenced repeatedly, several times resulting in suggestions by British spokesmen that it would be advisable to have the whole subject taken up for legal revision after the war.

Early in 1916 the secretary of state, Lansing, criticizing British indifference to American protests at what this country considered undue interference with its shipping, wrote the following note:

"The action of the British government in thus treating with indifference the contentions of the United States by the issuance of an additional order in council making still more rigorous the practice under those to which the United States is objecting, cannot be regarded otherwise than as an act which appears to be intentionally discourteous."

Trouble Over Knitting Needles.

One of the small items which caused trouble between the two governments was German hosiery knitting needles. With the United States dependent exclusively on Germany and many mills shutting down here because of the lack of the needles, which was estimated to amount to 5,000,000 a month, insistent inquiries by the state department disclosed that Great Britain had been importing these needles from Germany since the outbreak of the war but was not permitting them to reach the United States.

It was implied that Great Britain was doing this in order to encourage her own industry and break down that of the United States. Finally Great Britain agreed to grant permits for the exportation of a limited amount of the German needles to this country.

A somewhat similar case appeared in protests by the United States against the British order in council which, it was claimed, permitted Mediterranean and Portuguese fruits free shipment to The Netherlands, where there was a restriction on fruits from the United States. This was asserted by the state department to

Values and Styles Featured in Women's Winter Clothing

Don't blame us if you froze last Saturday. Don't say we didn't warn you. As forecast in this space just one week ago today, the weather did a turn-about some time Thursday night and a lot of people who had been putting off equipping themselves against the colder occasion were out of luck. Many a woman and girl who would have liked to have worn warmer clothes of the 1930 style and pattern didn't have time to take care of the matter. Football games don't wait on alterations and neither does the weather.

Today is Monday. The stores are open, displaying women's coats and cold weather things in tempting variety. They will be open every day this week, but the sooner a shopping trip is made, the sooner the new garments can start lending their warmth and exhibiting their style.

Now—today—is a good time to purchase women's clothing for fall and winter. Showings are complete and values high.

be a discrimination against American fruit.

American representations against British policies on the seas covered orders in council, blacklists, search and seizure of vessels, contraband lists, detention of cargoes, the manner in which blockades were carried on, and the prevention of German dyestuffs and other materials from reaching the United States.

These and other acts were termed by Secretary Lansing to be "violations of fundamental principles of international rights." He rejected one British suggestion that when the United States objected to British treatment of contraband this country might resort to British courts for satisfaction.

Several times Great Britain delayed replies to American demands for adjustment of alleged infringements of rights or responded with long, involved arguments. Secretary Lansing said, however, that he would not stand for "dilatory legal argument" when a British cruiser took 38 Germans from the American steamer China off Shanghai. He demanded their immediate release and an apology for the disrespect shown the American flag. Great Britain released the Germans and expressed regret over the incident.

British Blockade Protested.

Other acts of the British in boarding American ships for purposes of search or seizure were described by the American secretary to be "as obnoxious to this nation as in the early days of the republic." He successfully protested the hovering of British cruisers close to the American coasts as an "inevitable source of annoyance and offense."

The proximity of this country to war with Germany in 1916 was indicated in correspondence following the failure of the United States to obtain satisfaction from Germany in connection with the torpedoing of the French channel steamer Sussex on March 24 of that year. Several Americans were on board. The United States at that time was representing British diplomatic interests in Germany. Ambassador Page on April 25 received the following telegram from Secretary Lansing:

"You may orally and confidentially inquire of foreign office the wishes of British government in regard to British representation in Berlin in event of a severance of relations between the United States and Germany."

Gerard Warned of Break.

Three days later Mr. Lansing advised Ambassador Gerard that it was contemplating asking the Spanish government to represent the United States in Germany. Among Mr. Lansing's instructions on that occasion was the statement that the department feels that it is desirable to avoid the difficulties incident to the selection of a diplomatic representative from American republics, and has decided, in the event of the severance of relations, to ask the Spanish government to care for American diplomatic and consular interests.

The 1916 supplement is the third volume of American diplomatic correspondence during the war years to be made public. It is to be followed by three volumes on American relations with Russia in 1917 and 1918 and by four volumes of war papers covering 1917 and 1918, exclusive of Russian affairs.

YOUNG HOODLUM WOUNDED; IS MUM ON WHO AND WHY

Vito Montalbano, 21 years old, 906 South Loomis street, a minor hoodlum with a record as burglar and stickup man, according to the Maxwell police, was brought to Mother Cabrini hospital, 1200 Gilpin place, last night wounded in the left lung, shoulder and arm. Although physicians told him his condition was critical he refused to say how he was shot.

Sergt. John Slechter of the Maxwell station expressed the opinion it might have been Montalbano who Saturday night engaged in a gun battle with Samuel Scheglowski, 63 years old, watchman for the Polland and Lieberman department store at 1447 West Taylor street, and fatally wounded him. Scheglowski died early this morning in the county hospital.

SUNDAY IS DAY OF ACTIVITY FOR GOOD FELLOWS

Woman's Bible Class to Care for Family.

Sunday was no day of rest for the Good Fellows who are enlisting to relieve the suffering of Chicago's 75,000 destitute families this winter.

"My Bible class will adopt a family," said a Mrs. R. S. T. in a telephone call to the Good Fellows headquarters in THE TRIBUNE offices. "We want a family here on the north side near our church so that we can feel that we are helping an unfortunate neighbor.

"Some members of the Bible class wanted to distribute directly from the church but after the benefits of the Good Fellow plan were explained we were unanimous in a decision to operate through your organization. We want the trained social workers to pick a family where a little money will do lots of good. We want this trained supervision to guide the family's welfare this winter.

Want Children in Family.

"We have just one request to make in the expenditure of our donation Can we have a family with several children who, without our help, would be cold and hungry this winter?"

She was told to mail the coupon from THE TRIBUNE to the Good Fellow headquarters, in care of the newspaper. It will not be difficult to comply with her request for a family with children. A large portion of the most desperate homes are fighting the wolf at the door because a mother and her children have lost their bread winner.

The Good Fellows will not exhaust the available supply of worthy subjects for their charity. The business lull in a community of more than three million population has temporarily denied necessities to thousands of families, just as scores of homes will need assistance this winter in towns of a few thousand population However, the city dweller, with just as much generosity in his heart, does not have a personal acquaintance with the sufferers as does the villager.

Selected by the Charities.

The Good Fellows are being assigned to families recommended after investigation by the city's leading charity organizations, Catholic, Jewish, Protestant and nonsectarian. Before the end of the week there will be at least a hundred families receiving money for clothes, coal, and groceries from Good Fellows.

It takes between $75 and $100 a month to finance the minimum budget for a destitute family, the amount depending upon the number in the family. Many Good Fellows, unable to spare more, have pledged themselves to donate $2 or $5 a month as part payment of a family's support this winter. This money will be used as directed. However, the preferred plan, which is receiving a large number of recruits is for the Good Fellows to band together in clubs—of fellow office employés or fellow church members or luncheon companions—each club taking the entire financial responsibility, $75 or $100 a month, for some family whose progress they can follow through reports from THE TRIBUNE Good Fellow department or whose home they may visit if they desire.

FREE FOOD OFFER BRINGS 'NEEDY' IN DROVES TO CAFE

When Sam Stelzer announced last Friday that he would serve free meals at his restaurant, 2752 Division street, he didn't mean for every one to take advantage of him.

Stelzer published his offer of free food as a means of helping to relieve distress among the unemployed, but it seems that everybody in his neighborhood interpreted his altruism as a blanket invitation to quit paying for their meals.

The restaurant man said he has been overrun with customers, but most of them appeared to be imposing on his good intentions. He repeated his offer of free meals to the downtrodden job hunter without the price of a roll, but asked that those who do not need charity make room for those who do.

To care for the guest customers, Stelzer has engaged an unoccupied store at 1209 North California avenue, around the corner from his restaurant. He requests that his free patrons answer the dinner calls there. Breakfast of oatmeal, rolls, and coffee is served between 5 and 6 a. m. Dinner of soup, stew, bread, and coffee is ready from 4 until 5 in the afternoon.

Plan Benefit to Raise Fund for Colored Needy

To provide funds for emergency relief among colored people, the Chicago Urban league is planning a benefit show on Friday the eve of the Wilberforce-Tuskegee football game. Theatrical and radio stars are coöperating with Dave Peyton's orchestra and the Regal theater talent. Although the league is not a relief organziation, according to Elbridge Bancroft Pierce, president, its leaders have felt it desirable under the conditions to lead in coördinating the social work among the Negro population.

SOCIETY WOMEN'S CLUB WILL FEED POOR CHILDREN

Members of the Red, White and Blue club, composed of many of Chicago's foremost families, last night at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Shadwick, 209 Lake Shore drive, formulated a plan to help the dependents of the unemployed.

They adopted a suggestion of Mrs. Charles King Corsant to give a hot lunch at noon and a supper in the evening to children whose parents, investigated by accredited charities, are found to be in want. It is expected that several hundred of them will be fed daily at the clubhouse in Little Italy at 1340 Wade street.

Among those actively assisting in the plan are Miss Bertha Palmer, Mrs. James R. Offield, daughter of William Wrigley Jr., Mrs. Orville Babcock, Mrs. Wallace Kirk, Mrs. John R. Winterbotham, and Mrs. Lawrence Whiting.

REVIEW KILLING WHICH MOLDED DRY LAW POLICY

Wenger Case in Maryland Sets Precedents.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

It was in a remote wooded vale in the hills of the "free state" of Maryland that the federal prohibition enforcement policy that has resulted in so many killings of bootleggers, agents of the government, and several innocent citizens, may be said to have taken form and direction.

The killing of Lawrence Wenger, a young farm owner, on Nov. 19, 1924, is reviewed here not only because it was the starting point of a definite policy, which has never been materially modified, but it illustrates the methods by which this policy has been carried out, the head-on collision between a wet local community and a dry federal power, the theory under which such taking of human life is justified, and the vast advantage to the federal killers of trial in a federal court. It has made the prohibition agents practically immune from punishment.

No Crime in Maryland.

Under the Maryland law it is no crime to make intoxicating liquor; it is a misdemeanor only to sell it. Under no circumstances except those of self-defense would a killing become justified under the state law. The hills around the Wenger farm were dotted with stills and there was a stable market in Washington, even in the offices of congressmen and senators, for Maryland rum.

The facts about this case have never been questioned by any of the parties concerned.

On the afternoon of this memorable day in prohibition history, Agents Robert D. Ford, John M. Barton, William L. Stevens, and J. Frank Ely, with William Trabing their chauffeur, rode into the green hills near Madonna, Md., seeking for a still the location of which had been tipped off to one of them. They found the still, with mash boxes, condensers, rye meal, and a fire lighted on the banks of a little stream, but no one was around.

Hide Till Men Approach.

They took their guns and hid in the bushes at strategic places, watching a path that meandered along the stream, for the return of the operators. After a long wait they heard a dog baying and men's voices. They saw three men, who, at the warning of the dog, had turned to flee. Barton gave the signal and the agents started in pursuit. According to the story of the agents, Barton fired three or four shots in the air to stop the men, Ford fired three or four times in the same way, Ely fired one shot in the direction of the dog, while Stevens fired no shot at all.

The men escaped through the woods, and the agents, after destroying the still, started to return to town. As they walked down the hill toward their car they found a wounded man lying under a cedar tree about 300 yards from the still site. He was still conscious, but said only: "Leave me alone; I am dying." They carried him to their car and searched for a doctor, but when they reached town the man was dead. The agents said they did not recognize the man as one of those whom they had pursued. They denied having shot directly at any man. The dead man was identified as Wenger.

Not the Still Operator.

From all the evidence gathered later Wenger was not the owner or operator of this still, although he undoubtedly knew it was there. It was not on his land, but alongside a path which he took in walking from the home farm to his other farm where the cows were pastured. Liquor had been found in Wenger's home a year before this and a warrant had been issued for him, but it had never been served. It is quite probable that he had helped the men get this still in operation.

The only proof that Wenger had been a victim of the federal agents' bullets came from two of the still workers, James Patterson and Abe Woods, and Charles Bobbit, a Negro woodchopper who was working near-by. He testified that he saw the agents go toward the still, heard the shots later and heard some one shout, "There he goes! Kill him!" and saw a man running along the edge of the woods, bent over as though hurt, with two men chasing him and firing pistols.

Patterson and Woods said they were walking along the path with Wenger and near the still a man with a leather coat on [Barton] jumped out of the bushes and yelled: "Kill the ———; don't let them get away." Patterson said that Ely shot at Wenger.

Trabing, who was not armed, said that he was with Barton and Ford and that when they saw a man coming through the brush Barton cried, "Go get him, boys," and that Barton and Ford chased the man and were shooting directly at him as he went over the hill.

From all this it appears certain that Wenger came to his death as the result of a bullet fired by one of the agents. If the trial of the agents had been held in the state court they would have been convicted, in the opinion of Robert H. Archer, assistant attorney general of Maryland, who prosecuted the case.

But now the federal government intervened. Its agents, under arrest by state law, under indictment for murder, were taken away from the state prosecutors and put in the shelter of a friendly federal court. The United States attorney for the Maryland district, Amos W. W. Woodcock, now director of prohibition enforcement for the nation, put the whole force of his office behind the defense of the agents and succeeded in getting them all acquitted after the trial had been delayed until March, 1927, in Baltimore.

Decision Written by Taft.

This was not accomplished without a long legal battle in which several precedents were set. The state of Maryland fought so hard to keep these men for trial in its own courts that the case finally went to the United States Supreme court, where a decision was written by Chief Justice Taft which stands as the guiding law today in similar cases.

The protection of prohibition agents from state prosecution rests, the court said, on the act of 1833, enacted in the days of attempted nullification of revenue laws in South Carolina and extended during the civil war to those charged with collecting internal revenue.

POLAND CONFISCATES "PEACE" LETTER OF UKRAINIAN BISHOP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Poland, Oct. 19.—The Lwow district attorney today confiscated the long expected Ukrainian Greek Catholic bishop's pastoral letter issued with the intention of pacifying the aggravated situation in connection with the recent Ukrainian population terrorist activities in Galicia. According to official information this letter included several extremely inciting passages which the authorities requested Archbishop Count Szeptycki to remove. When the archbishop refused the confiscation followed.

The letter condemns sabotage and terroristic acts, stating that the Ukrainian clergy's silence has been erroneously explained as evidence of support of subversive and illegal activities. The clergy was hoping the letter would contribute to the reestablishment of normal relations in both populations and stop unjust treatment of innocent people. Ukrainian youth is particularly warned to abstain from illegal acts as the worst method of serving the Ukrainian national cause. The objected paragraphs of the letter include strong criticism of Polish methods of handling the Galician situation.

Hoover Visits Camp

Orange, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—President Hoover today paid what may be his final visit this year to his Virginia mountain camp.

The chief executive motored here this morning from Washington to see Herbert Hoover Jr., who is ill, and expected to return to the capital early tomorrow.

The President intends to go to Princeton next week-end to see the Navy-Princeton football game, and plans have been made to take his son to Asheville, N. C., the following week.

Alterations are being made to the home on Sunset mountain at Asheville which the son of the President will occupy and the family hopes these will be completed by Nov. 1 as the Presidental lodge is not equipped for comfort in cold weather.

JOB OFFERS POUR IN; SO DO PLEAS FOR WORK TO DO

Sally Joy Brown Plan Is Given Praise.

Offers of employment continued yesterday to pour in to Sally Joy Brown at the Tribune Tower. An even greater stream of letters in which the writers pleaded for work was delivered. As swiftly as possible those offering jobs and those asking for them were brought together.

Applicants for employment are again warned to apply at the Illinois free employment service, 116 North Dearborn street. Those offering employment are requested to continue telephoning to Miss Brown at Superior 0100 or addressing letters to her. Sally and her assistants will pass the jobs on to the employment service who then will assign an applicant to interview the prospective employer.

Seeks Work for Veterans.

In a letter sent to Sally Joy Brown yesterday, T. W. Creighton, superintendent of the veterans division of the United States department of labor complimented THE TRIBUNE for its system of obtaining jobs for the unemployed and continued:

"Our department has on file more than 2,000 veterans who are seeking employment of any kind, all of them willing to do any work to support their families. Inasmuch as we have this complete record, I wondered if you could not assist the veterans, all of them residents of Chicago, by referring to this office for men when you have any calls they may fill.

"It is not an exaggeration to state that among the veterans a resentment is being expressed against the government's treatment. We must act to reverse this attitude by trying to give them that backing we gave them in 1917-'18."

Offers Place in Home.

One of the letters received yesterday offering employment read: "I am a married man on a small salary. My wife is living on a small farm in Michigan. I stay in the city and work to pay for the place. If some woman is in need of a home where she would have food and shelter and a very small renumeration, I would like to offer her the shelter of my home. No objection would be raised to one child of five or thereabouts."

If a man with not a penny to spare can make such an offer, Miss Brown pointed out, there should be thousands of persons in more comfortable circumstances willing to come forward

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS STARTLE INHABITANTS AROUND NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, La., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Distinct earthquake tremors today shook thirteen or more towns and cities of southeastern Louisiana, including New Orleans, but no damage of any consequence was reported.

The only human injury reported resulting from the earthquake occurred in Morgan City when worshipers in the Catholic church scratched and bruised one another in a rush from the edifice. The congregation began a hurried exit from the church when they thought they saw the walls rock. Only a few were hurt and those only slightly.

The earthquake occurred about 6:15 a. m., literally shaking some residents of New Orleans and surrounding

In Plaquemines, La., about 85 miles northwest of New Orleans, the quake was severe enough to shake the glass from street lights.

Today's earthquake is the first ever felt in New Orleans according to older inhabitants and no historical record has ever been found of any previous similar shock.

BLAZE CAUSES, $20,000 DAMAGE AT CEMETERY

Equipment from Chicago last night helped battle a fire that destroyed a two story barn and warehouse at All Saints' Roman Catholic cemetery, two miles north of Des Plaines at the River and Central roads. The loss was estimated at $20,000. Lumber for casket cases, tractors, and two draft horses were destroyed. The origin of the fire was not determined.

Martin Hamlin, a caretaker, discovered the fire and telephoned the alarms. Besides Chicago, the villages of Des Plaines and Mount Prospect sent equipment. These succeeded in saving the two story building housing the offices of the cemetery.

Ground Glass Is Found in Child's Stomach.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, stepmother of 10 year old Leona O'Loughlin, whose body was found Friday in Berkeley park lake, was arrested for investigation tonight, after which authorities revealed that three attempts were made on the life of the child.

First, they said, she was fed ground glass in food; then she was beaten insensible with a tire iron, and lastly she was thrown into the waters of the lake to drown.

The girl, daughter of City Detective Leo O'Loughlin, who is seriously ill in St. Joseph's hospital here, disappeared from her home some time Tuesday night or early Wednesday. The father is suffering apparently from poison and physicians say he may have been given ground glass in food.

Bloody Rag and Tire Iron.

For three hours this afternoon authorities questioned Mrs. O'Loughlin, confronting her with ground glass which they said city chemists took from the slain girl's stomach; a bloody rag and a tire iron, on which there were bits of skin, blood and matted hair.

The tire iron and rag, Captain of Detectives Albert T. Clark said, were found in the O'Loughlin automobile, which last was used by Mrs. O'Loughlin to make, she claims, a trip to her hairdresser Tuesday night.

Mrs. O'Loughlin steadfastly maintains she is innocent. She said the blood on the rag came from a nose bleed her son, Douglas Millican, 8, child of her first husband from whom she now is divorced, had several days ago.

Sticks to Her First Story.

She held to the story she told Saturday when first questioned, saying that the last time she saw Leona was at 8 p. m. Tuesday, when she kissed her good-night and put her to bed. Then, she said, she visited a hairdressing parlor in the north section of the city, not far from Berkeley lake, where the child's body was found. These statements partly were verified by Mrs. Ethel Sparr, the hairdresser.

The day Leona disappeared Detective O'Loughlin was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, supposedly ill from ptomaine poisoning. Police Surgeon H. B. Culver, who is his physician, admitted tonight that symptoms of his illness might come from ground glass. Authorities, however, have not revealed what an examination of contents of his stomach revealed.

Coroner George H. Bostwick said tonight that chemists got enough powdered glass from one-third of the contents of Leona's stomach to heap upon a dime. "On that basis," he said, "her stomach probably contained a teaspoon full of the glass."

Kellogg Reaches Hague for World Court Session

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THE HAGUE, Holland, Oct. 19.—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of state and newly elected judge of the world court, arrived here today. He said that the United States generally believed the world court was adding to the progress of international sentiment and a great factor in maintaining peace. Mr. Kellogg intends to stay in Holland until the session of the world court closes at the end of the year.

BRIG. GEN. C. J. SYMMONDS.

Brig. Gen. Charles J. Symmonds, who was in charge of the general supply depots of the A. E. F. in France during the war, will retire from active duty after a military career of forty years on Oct. 31. He will be 64, the retirement age, on Oct. 6. His home is at Kenosha, Wis., where he left for West Point in 1890. His war service won for him the French War Cross, the French Legion of Honor Medal the Distinguished Service Medal of America and Great Britain, the Order of Polish Cavalier, and other decorations.

HUNT 2 THIEVES AFTER CAPTURE OF PAL IN HOLDUP

Police last night were seeking two bandits who robbed nine persons in a south side apartment and escaped after one of their pals was captured by a detective squad summoned by police radio.

The captured bandit, John Wright, 1050 North Clark street, is said to have named his accomplices. Wright was sentenced to Pontiac reformatory in 1920 and was released in 1922. Five years later he was placed on probation for a minor offense. Earlier this year a charge of robbery was nolle prossed by Judge Daniel P. Trude, and on Aug. 7 a similar charge was stricken from the call by Judge Denis J. Normoyle.

The apartment holdup was staged in the home of Dennis C. Blake, 9952 South Throop street, Beverly Hills. The loot totaled $61. Edward O'Connor, a son-in-law of Blake, saw the thieves enter. He slipped out of a side window, and telephoned police. A radio call brought Sergt. Frank Corcoran and his squad.

PROMOTER BOB'S LOSSES PLACED AT 12 MILLIONS

Receiver May Be Asked by State Bureau.

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The loss to investors in the enterprises of Charles V. Bob, missing promoter and aviation enthusiast, may amount to as much as $12,000,000, Watson Washburn, assistant attorney general in charge of the state bureau of securities, estimated today.

Of this amount, the collapse of Metal and Mining Shares, Inc., the investment trust controlled by Bob, will probably account for "pretty close to $6,000,000," Mr. Washburn said. Though Rainbow Luminous Products, Inc., another Bob concern, is believed to be still solvent, Mr. Washburn declared the loss to the public through the operations of this corporation would "probably be greater" than that caused by the metal and mining shares company, and "at any rate will run into several millions."

Former State Senator George F. Thompson, who has been retained as counsel for the Rainbow concern, and R. R. Machlett, its president, have both announced that an audit of the company's affairs now being made, will almost certainly show the corporation to be solvent.

Small Firms Also Hit.

Certain losses incurred by investors in others of the thirty-one or thirty-two concerns in which Bob was interested must be added to the principal ones sustained by stockholders of Metal and Mining and Rainbow Luminous, the assistant attorney general said, but he added these probably would be small, since most of these companies are believed to be small ones.

Mr. Washburn said the loss due to the suspension of Piperne & Co., brokers, from the curb exchange, would also probably be "very small," since he thinks this company is still solvent also.

Mr. Washburn announced today that Deputy Assistant Attorney General Henry B. Staples will apply tomorrow in the Brooklyn Supreme court for an injunction restraining the Metal and Mining Shares corporation and Mining Founders Shares, Inc., another Bob company, from the further sale of stock.

Will Ask for Receiver.

Mr. Staples will also request that a receiver be appointed for the two firms and will ask that legal steps be taken to "tie up" any available assets, so that whatever can be salvaged shall be asked for the benefit of creditors. Just how much of the firms will be able to pay on the dollar, Mr. Washburn could not definitely estimate, but of the more than $6,000,000 in securities held by the investment trust, metal and mining shares, the majority represented investments in two of Bob's which have at present little more than a speculative value, Mr. Washburn declared.

The whereabouts of Mr. Bob, who with his business associate and "right hand man," Frederick C. Russell, dropped out of sight during a visit to Chicago more than ten days ago, still remained a mystery today. The search for the missing promoter could not be extended to Chicago and elsewhere and be intensively conducted until the police had some grounds on which to act, it was said.

Turkish Liberals, Beaten in Election, Cry "Fraud"

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The People's party of Mustapha Kemal and Ismet Pasha triumphed in the Istanbul municipal elections, results published today showing that Fethi Bey's new Liberal party received only one-third of the votes cast. Liberal partisans alleged that the People's party used illegal means to insure their victory. "Elections like this," the opposition paper Yarin said, "prove that what has been given us in the guise of liberty is merely a spoonful of soothing sirup."

IF STOMACH KICKS UP—! BEWARE!!

Don't run risk of getting serious, painful troubles that often result from burning acid stomach, gnawing pains before or after eating, belching, gas, bloating, heartburn and other stomach ills. A remarkable modern prescription, ACIDINE, stops pain, gas and headaches from acidity almost instantly, and quickly soothes dangerous stomach irritation. ACIDINE is entirely different from other known remedies. Contains a marvelous digestant called Japtase. In laboratory experiments Japtase has been tested on certain very heavy, lumpy, starchy foods, which cause so much stomach distress. It digested 800 times its weight of such foods in only 30 minutes.

Five other scientific ingredients neutralize burning acid, soothe irritated stomach lining, stop gas formation from acids. No other known remedy contains the scientific combinations to end acid stomach troubles. In the space of one year thousands of people have bought ACIDINE at drug stores everywhere and are enthusiastic users.

Physicians are prescribing ACIDINE as the best thing they know of for acid indigestion and dyspepsia. Since last year over five million people had used it and praised it highly.

To get rid of acid stomach torture quick, get ACIDINE at any Walgreen or Economical drug store today. Costs only a few cents. Watch pain and gas disappear. Eat, drink and smoke all you like. Results guaranteed. If not delighted, maker refunds your money. Get ACIDINE today.

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 20.—[Monday.]—Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith took off from Port Darwin, northern Australia, at 6:30 this morning on his way to Brisbane where he will meet his fiancée, Miss Mary Powell, who is flying there to greet him. They are to be married at Melbourne next month. When Commander Kingsford-Smith landed at Port Darwin yesterday he had beaten Bert Hinkler's time for the flight from England to Australia by five days. It is calculated that he took 9 days 21 hours 40 minutes.

An incident of the Australian ace's flight has just been made known. It appears that when Commander Kingsford-Smith landed at Atamboea on Saturday, just before covering the last 500 miles of his trip, he tendered his regrets to Lieut. C. W. Hill, the man he had been racing across Asia, over the crash of his plane. Lieut. Hill said sportingly, "Have you a collapsible boat?" Commander Kingsford-Smith answered, "No." Whereupon Lieut. Hill said, "Then take mine. I shall not want it now." The commander gripped his hand gratefully, but had to turn away to hide his emotion.

He then took off across the shark infested Timor sea leaving Lieut. Hill behind, as his wrecked plane cannot be repaired locally.

FIND MISSING DRY AGENT AUTO IN DEEP CANYON

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The automobile which Ray Sutton, prohibition agent, was driving when he disappeared Aug. 28, was found in a canyon today and searchers expressed belief the man's body might be found nearby.

C. H. Stearns, prohibition administrator for New Mexico, announced the finding of the car. He said the machine was hidden in a deep, isolated canyon, thirty miles southeast of Raton, N. M. The automobile was not damaged.

A search through the wild canyon country has been under way since shortly after the agent's disappearance. Officers believe he was a victim of foul play.

United States department of justice agents and New Mexico and Raton officers and civilian volunteers are conducting the search.

Fail to "Muscle In," So Kill, Is Theory.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The killing of Mrs. Cora C. Garrison Friday night in an attempt to kidnap her husband, Clyde Garrison, gambling house proprietor, was attributed by local authorities to have thwarted efforts of Chicago racketeers to "muscle in" on easy money in Peoria gambling profits. Garrison, who was wounded, narrowly escaped being the third kidnaping victim in five months.

Gambling has been wide open in this most populous downstate city. Campaigns in past years to drive gamblers, bootleggers, and vice interests from the country have not met with success. For several years the field is said to have been dominated by William Urban and his partner, Frank Daugherty, in the Empire and Alcazar resorts. Less pretentious houses have not met with police interference nor subjected to a war of extermination by the leaders, as these were not considered dangerous.

Formerly in Booze Business.

Garrison has been reported active in the liquor business until early in 1929 when a score of persons died from "moonshine." Garrison then entered gambling in an alliance with the leaders. He operates the Windsor.

Early in June, after opening of the Chicago drive on gangsters, a Chicago mob is said to have come here to cut in on "easy money." The local leaders are said to have prevented their entrance under an alleged city-county "protection alliance"—which they are said to dominate.

Urban was kidnaped near his home on July 21. He was released two days later near Chicago. He is reported to have paid $100,000 for his release. This report has been denied by him.

On Sept. 15 Daugherty was kidnaped while riding in his automobile with a woman. The woman was put out of the car. Daugherty was released five days later for a reported $40,000. A rumor has it that Daugherty convinced his partner he paid $100,000 and pocketed the difference.

Three Are Questioned.

Urban, Daugherty, and Garrison were questioned at length today. They said nothing, although police were convinced they know the identity of the abductors. Police believe that Chicago gangsters conceived the kidnaping for ransom plan as a means of cutting in on the money after the attempt to operate here was frustrated.

Sheriff Grant Minor is carrying on his investigation of the killing secretly. With the discovery of finger and palm prints on the steering wheel of the gangsters' abandoned car and the finding of one of the slugs fired from the machine gun, he expressed the hope that the bandits will be captured. One of the gangsters was wounded by Garrison.

The slug was found embedded in the home of Miss Emaline Miller, teacher at the Columbus school, whose house is across the street from the Garrison residence. The slug is to be sent to Calvin Goddard, Chicago ballistics expert, for examination.

Mrs. Garrison, victim of Peoria's first machine gun killing, is to be buried tomorrow afternoon at Washington, Ill., after an inquest in the morning. Her husband will be unable to attend the services.

EMPLOY 2,500 IN ADDITIONS TO TRANSIT SYSTEM

Companies Report 5 Million in Expenditures.

Work has been provided for 2,500 men in the spending of $4,984,032 on improved transportation, according to Britton I. Budd, president of the "L," and Guy A. Richardson, managing vice president of the Chicago Surface Lines.

This information is contained in a letter from the transit managers to Ald. McDonough, chairman of the council local transportation committee, who requested a statement of what improvements have been made, what contemplated and the estimated cost.

The letter, received yesterday by Ald. McDonough, will be presented this morning when the local transportation committee discusses the application of the companies for an extension of time to about March 15 in which to accept the franchise passed by the city council on May 19 last. The initial period for acceptance expires Oct. 28, 120 days after the ordinance was approved in the referendum on July 1.

Expect Minor Opposition.

It is expected there may be some minor opposition to the proposed extension. Ald. Northup has announced his opposition. William Hughes Clarke has criticized the purpose of the extension. On the other hand the Citizens' committee, headed by James Simpson, has urged that the extension be granted, as "necessary, unavoidable and fully justified."

Pending acceptance the companies have been permitted to spend $12,000,000 for extension of car lines and other improvements.

"It is safe to say," reads the Budd-Richardson letters, "that the labor required for the construction in progress, the labor required for engineering and the labor required for the manufacture of materials already delivered has provided employment for 2,500 men."

The surface lines improvements in progress are detailed in the letter. It shows that $1,718,000 is being spent for 20 miles of single track extensions, $105,000 for car house tracks, $100,000 for added snow equipment, $202,000 for 15 trolley buses and $165,000 for bus garages.

Other Projects Listed.

Other work to be completed in 1930 includes 42 miles of one-way trolley bus extensions and 55 buses at an estimated cost of $1,215,232; and 8.7 miles of one-way gasoline bus extensions, including five new gasoline buses at cost of $63,800.

The rapid transit improvements are a new shop, 50 per cent complete, costing $450,000; extension of platforms, contract for fabrication of steel awarded, at $495,000; temporary extension of platforms, 40 per cent complete, at $80,000; real estate necessary for third track, $240,000; third track at Chicago avenue to relieve bottle neck when subways are built, $175,000; new station at Kinzie street, 75 per cent complete, $150,000; right of way for third track on Garfield park branch, $4,518,265.

GOVERNOR'S JOB COMMITTEE GOES IN ACTION TODAY

Plans Three Angles of Attacking Problem.

The campaign against unemployment in Chicago and Illinois begins in earnest today with the meeting this afternoon in the Hotel La Salle of Gov. Emmerson's committee of forty-five city and state leaders who will assume the direction of unemployment relief, organizing subcommittees in every industrial city in the state.

The committee, under the direction of Dr. Benjamin M. Squires, University of Chicago economist and wage arbiter of the Chicago clothing industry, will direct its attack upon unemployment from three angles. The plan will be carried out in Cook county by a committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce, led by Clifford W. Barnes, president of the Chicago Sunday Evening club.

Want U. S. Work Started.

Dr. Squires plans first, he said, to bring pressure upon governmental agencies and private industries to stimulate building construction, such as the new postoffice, the Illinois waterway, governmental appraisal stores and new railway terminals. Second, coöperation of the Illinois Manufacturers' association will be sought in an effort to inaugurate a policy of shorter hours for present job holders to afford unemployed some working time.

The third angle of approach to the problem planned by the committee involves the raising of community chests in each city for relief of the needy, recognized charity agencies to handle the funds and committees of business leaders superintending the accumulation of funds.

Randolph Names Committee.

Col. Robert I. Randolph, president of the Association of Commerce, said that six members of the association's committee had been named. The list, he said, was in the hands of Mr. Barnes and would be made public today. Six other committee members are to be named by the Cook county council of social agencies, two by Mayor Thompson, two by the county board, and the remaining nine will be selected by the sixteen original nominees.

The Building Construction Employers' association will send a delegation to President Hoover to seek speed in the construction of the new $15,000,000 postoffice, it was announced.

LAMONT PROMISES PROMPT ACTION TO HELP UNEMPLOYED

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Secretary of Commerce Robert P. Lamont announced today that if arrangements could be made he would call a meeting tomorrow of members of President Hoover's committee, named on Friday, to aid in the prevention of unemployment during the coming winter months.

After hurrying back to Washington from New York the secretary of commerce expressed the belief that not an hour should be lost in getting the wheels in motion and that the first session would be held at the earliest possible time.

This evening Mr. Lamont called to his home Edward Eyre Hunt, who was secretary of the President's unemployment conference of 1921, of which President Hoover was chairman, and John M. Gries, chief of the division of building and housing of the commerce department. He informally discussed with them the data which has been collected by the commerce department on unemployment relief.

Secretary Lamont said that the program to be followed would be determined by the committee which includes besides himself Secretaries Mellon, Davis, Hurley, Wilbur, and Hyde, and Eugene Meyer, governor of the federal reserve board.

BAD RUM KILLS 9 IN NEW YORK; POLICE TO ACT

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Nine men died today, apparently from bad liquor, and an investigation was started by health authorities, police and prohibition agents.

Hospital authorities expressed the belief that the liquor may have emanated from the same source that spread death through Newark, N. J., recently.

All of the nine died in Manhattan, three of them on the lower east side, where deaths from poisonous alcohol called "smoke" have been numerous.

PINCHOT CAUSES POLITICAL CHAOS IN PENNSYLVANIA

Party Lines Fall Before Campaign Issues.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 19. — [Special.]—Political chaos reigns in Pennsylvania, that grand old stronghold of the Grand Old Party. If that long heralded breakup of the old parties is at hand this must be a sample of it.

The Republican party in Pennsylvania has been split wide open by the issues of prohibition repeal and the power trust and by the rise of radicalism, with one wing, composed of hitherto unfaltering regulars, shamelessly and fervently supporting Capt. John M. Hemphill, dripping wet and conservative Democratic candidate for governor.

The Democratic party is no less completely divided on the question of prohibition repeal, with its dry wing leading the shouting for the Republican candidate for governor, former Gov. Gifford Pinchot, prohibition zealot, whom his conservative critics dub the eastern representative of Norris, La Follette & Co.

Industrial Heads Divided.

The captains of industry who made Pennsylvania the avatar of the machine age are arrayed against each other, with Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad; Samuel Vauclain of the Baldwin Locomotive works, the public utility magnates and affiliated interests whooping it up and raising vast campaign funds for the Democratic candidate, while Senator Joseph R. Grundy, veteran tariff lobbyist and high priest of capitalism, aligns influential members of his Pennsylvania manufacturers' association for Pinchot.

Country is arrayed against city and the two big cities of the state are arrayed against each other. Wet Philadelphia, which is almost unanimously Republican, is going hell bent for Hemphill, while wetter Pittsburgh, seat of the power of Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, whom Mr. Pinchot once called a bootlegger, is holding fast for the Republican candidate, for political reasons.

G. O. P. Machine in Trouble.

The machinery of the Republican organization, which for two generations ground so noiselessly and effectively under Bosses Cameron, Quay, and Penrose, is ominously groaning, thumping and jerking. William S. Vare, boss of Philadelphia, and numerous city and county bosslets are in open revolt against the party candidate, while the state organization is shot through with disaffection, even many of those leaders who are swearing fealty to Mr. Pinchot being suspected of finger crossing or lukewarmness—suspected, in fact, to such a degree that Mr. Pinchot has retained intact his primary organization in every county ready to jump in and get out the vote wherever lack of organization enthusiasm appears.

Orthodox expounders of the Republican faith, famous as abhorrers of mugwumpery in the past, are proclaiming it a sacred duty to bolt the nomination of Mr. Pinchot, whose campaigns against the public utilities has chilled the Pennsylvania conservatives like a blast of populism from the Nebraska prairies.

Presidential Possibilities Seen.

"Stop Pinchot now!" is the cry of the conservatives and the wets who fear that if he should be elected governor this year he would acquire such prestige and power that he would become a formidable candidate for President in 1932 with the backing of the Norris-La Follette radical Republican group and the extreme drys. They think they foresee contingencies, particularly if President Hoover should indorse a modification of prohibition, that would make Mr. Pinchot, as the champion of bone dry prohibition and radicalism, a dangerous contender for the Republican nomination for President.

In response to a newspaper reporter's inquiry last week, Mr. Pinchot emphatically denied that he is seeking the governorship as a stepping stone to the presidency, but as to whether he expects to be a candidate for President in 1932 he refused to commit himself.

The apologists of the organized bolt of the Pinchot nomination rationalize their course with the argument that it is no sin to bolt a bolter. Mr. Pinchot, they assert, bolted the Republican party in 1912 along with Theodore Roosevelt, but, unlike Roosevelt, never came back. They produce a letter written by Mr. Pinchot Oct. 20, 1915, in which he said:

Progressive Declarations Broadcast.

"I am not a Republican and I am not a Progressive Republican. Neither am I headed back toward the Republican party either all the way or half way. I am a Progressive, straight, and I propose to act with other Progressives to keep our party as it is today, the determining factor in politics, both in Pennsylvania and in the nation."

The Republican insurgents are plastering the hoardings with this letter.

For those hard shelled Republicans who are squeamish not so much at bolting, as at voting the Democratic ticket, there has been provided in Pennsylvania a new third party, the Liberal party, with only one candidate, Capt. Hemphill, the Democratic nominee for governor. The new party was organized by the Association Against Prohibition to attract wet Republicans, but its management was taken over bodily last week by the railroads, public utilities, industries, banks, brokerage houses and insurance companies which have rallied to the fight on Mr. Pinchot with the battle cry that he is a dangerous enemy of business.

Capt. Hemphill, a 39 year old lawyer and world war veteran, was nominated by the Democrats on a platform calling for repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Also in the battle, but not of it, is Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, Republican candidate for senator. Mr. Davis is regular and is speaking from the same platform daily with Mr. Pinchot. But there is no revolt against Mr. Davis.

Democrats Start Bolting.

The bolting was started on the Democratic side by Vance McCormick, leader of the dry wing, who with his newspapers went over to support of Mr. Pinchot. He was followed by Judge Eugene Bonniwell, a wet, who was Democratic candidate for governor in 1918 and 1926, by John McSparran, a dry, Democratic candidate for governor in 1922 and by Bruce Sterling, Democratic state chairman in 1920.

On the Republican side there were rumblings of revolt from the moment the courts declined to overturn the nomination of Mr. Pinchot in the Luzerne county contest. The feeling between Mr. Pinchot and the Republican organization in Philadelphia, headed by Boss Vare, is one of cordial hatred and there were early signs that Philadelphia would bolt. In and out of office Mr. Pinchot has charged that the "Philadelphia gang" was seeking to plunder the state. Also when he was governor in 1926 Mr. Pinchot angered Mr. Vare by issuing to him a "certificate of doubt" of his election to the senate.

The principal cause of the bolt of the Vare organization, however, was the impossibility of delivering wet Philadelphia to a dry.

satisfaction and high hopes of an

The bolt took formal shape when 47 of the 48 ward leaders in the city declared for Hemphill. Among them was James M. Hazlett, chairman of the Philadelphia county committee whom Gov. Edward Martin, chairman of the state committee, immediately removed on demand of Mr. Pinchot.

At the same time revolt was brewing among the big business men of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Mr. Pinchot had angered them by his persistent attacks on the public utilities.

The Philadelphia business interests organized and subscribed to a $500,000 anti-Pinchot campaign fund, which Mr. Pinchot is telling his rural audiences is to be used to buy votes for Capt. Hemphill.

Coincident with these developments was the resignation of Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, from the office of Republican national committeeman for Pennsylvania. Gen. Atterbury, who is a director of the Association Against Prohibition, resigned ostensibly because he could not support the dry Republican candidate for governor, but it is known that he shares the feeling of other business men that Mr. Pinchot is a dangerous radical.

In Pittsburgh the business men have also organized against Mr. Pinchot. Although the Mellons are remaining regular, it is noted that more than half the Pittsburgh group of bolting business men represent Mellon banks and other Mellon corporations. Although Mr. Pinchot has bitterly assailed Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon in the past, he is looking to Mr. Mellon to finance the campaign for the Republican ticket in Pittsburgh, the Republican organization in which city is loyal, superficially at least, to Mr. Pinchot.

Senator Grundy, who will be a political power again in Pennsylvania if Mr. Pinchot is elected, has contributed his $10,000 senatorial salary to the Pinchot cause. Mr. Grundy, who teamed it with Mr. Pinchot in the primary, in which the former lost and the latter won, is not alarmed by Mr Pinchot's war on the public utilities He always found Mr. Pinchot reasonable when he was governor from 1923 to 1927.

BOOK ATTACKS HOOVER AS UN-AMERICAN; ITS AUTHOR IS MYSTERY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Considerable mystery surrounds publication of a book entitled "The Great Mistake," and propounding the question, "Can Herbert Hoover explain His Past?"

According to an announcement accompanying the book, "No political organization or party has any part in the preparation, financing or publication of this book, nor do any candidates for public office have any connection with it."

H. Ralph Burton, an attorney whose name was furnished at the office from which the book was issued, declined to supply any information as to the backers of the book or the identity of the author.

The book, which is of 176 pages, sketches the life history of President Hoover, dwelling particularly upon his connection with litigation in London involving a Chinese mining venture, his British affiliations during his career as a mining engineer and effects of Hoover food control policies during the war. It quotes court documents in the Chinese mining case at considerable length.

The writer represents that the President accumulated his fortune not as a mining engineer but as a promoter of stocks in mining companies, virtually all of which made no profits except for the original promoters.

"The sum total of the record is that Mr. Hoover is not an American, except by the accident of birth," says the book in its concluding chapter. "He is not of us, he does not know us, he has in him nothing of that spark which has made America the hope of mankind for 150 years."

It was stated at the White House that publication of the book would be ignored.

HEART ILLNESS HALTS U. S. LECTURE TOUR BY TAGORE, INDIA SAVANT

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Rabindranath Tagore, 69 year old Indian poet and philosopher, is suffering from a serious case of heart trouble and all his American engagements have been cancelled, it was announced here today.

Dr. Tagore was examined today by a New Haven specialist and was ordered to take a complete rest. It was said he would return to India as soon as he can safely make the journey.

The poet arrived in this country a little more than a week ago and spent last week in Williamstown, Mass., in rest and relaxation before beginning a lecture tour.

GAS, NAUSEA

WHAT most people call indigestion is usually excess acid in the stomach. Food has soured. The instant remedy is an alkali which neutralizes acids. But don't use crude helps. Use what your doctor would advise.

The best help is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. For the 50 years since its invention, it has remained standard with physicians. You will find nothing else so quick in its effect, so harmless, so efficient.

One tasteless spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in acid. The results are immediate with no harmful after-effects.

Once you learn this perfect way you'll never deal in any other manner with the headaches, gas, bloating, nausea, dizziness, indigestion, biliousness, etc., due to an over-acid stomach and bowels.

Be sure to get genuine Phillips'. It is always a liquid; never made in tablet form. Look for the name Phillips on the bottle. All drugstores—25c and 50c.

WET RAPS GANGS, FOE HITS BREWER IN DRY DEBATE

Minister and Lawyer in Repeal Discussion.

A clergyman and a lawyer, both of whom were born in the same small town downstate, debated repeal of the prohibition law yesterday before an audience of 400 men and women in the Loyola Community theater under auspices of the Loyola forum.

The affirmative was upheld by James G. Condon, member of the firm of Ryan, Condon & Livingston and representing the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment. Opposing him was Dr. George B. Safford, a Presbyterian minister and for twenty years state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league.

"Debate Sign of Change."

Opening the discussion, Mr. Condon cited the debate itself as evidence of the changing public attitude. Five years ago he would not have considered appearing in such a debate, nor would an audience have come to listen he said.

"No man can honestly disagree with the principle of temperance," the lawyer began. "No man can defend drunkenness. I did not come here to attack the temperance cause or defend the saloon. I trust my opponent will not seek to confuse the issue nor distort my argument."

"Promises Not Fulfilled."

Temperance, which Mr. Condon described as a moral law, was everywhere winning support until the passage of the "purely political prohibition law," he declared.

"Nor has prohibition fulfilled the promise of its sponsors—preventing intoxication and reducing crime," the lawyer declared. "Rather it has created a situation under which our institutions and the government itself are threatened with destruction, a situation which neither supporters nor opponents of prohibition foresaw when the law was passed.

"An invisible government exists in our country today. Being an outlaw government, it settles its disputes by the pistol and maintains its influence by bribing public officials and corrupting the polls and the courts."

Dr. Safford Raps Brewers.

Dr. Safford devoted most of his allotted 35 minutes to a discussion of the United States Brewers' association and the French wine export commission, two organizations which he pictured as prohibition's principal foes in the United States.

Dr. Safford said the French vintners and the American brewers were subsidizing newspapers to give the American public a false picture of the progress prohibition is making and the benefits it has brought.

In conclusion Dr. Safford sketched a picture of "whisky row" prior to prohibition. "Do you ever see a drunkard on the streets now?" he asked. The crowd answered in a chorus of affirmatives. Somewhat nonplussed he admitted there might still be a few intoxicants to be found.

"Why Is Saloon Topic?"

"What has the saloon to do with this debate?" Mr. Condon demanded, in opening rebuttal. "What have the brewers to do with it? The brewers, at least, were honorable men who, when their plants were closed, turned to other pursuits. The fit characters for discussion now are not the brewers but the gang leaders.

"Dr. Safford spoke of the fact that in one state capital the liquor interests used to cram bottles in the hotel rooms of legislators, thus tempting them to indulge. Since the prohibition law was passed, I've been 'tempted' to use liquor in the homes of United States senators and the chambers of judges."

SEIZE THREE AS THEY DEBATE ON ROBBING GARAGE

Three armed men were arrested by Sergt. John Gilfeather and his detective bureau squad at Broadway and Surf street yesterday while, it is alleged, they were discussing plans for robbing the Belmont garage of the Yellow Cab company at 3226 North Halsted street. At the detective bureau it was stated that two of the prisoners confessed to Lieut. Philip Carroll that they had failed to accomplish their purpose only because one of the trio had overslept.

They identified themselves as James La Palermo, 41 years old, 3523 School street, a barber and the father of six children, Thomas Mulay, 34 years old, 5848 North Mulligan avenue, the father of two children, and Guy Dovichi, 22 years old, 1856 South Kedzie. La Palermo refused to talk, but Mulay and Dovichi confessed, according to Lieut. Carroll.

Dovichi was late keeping his appointment, Mulay said, and by the time they arrived at the garage their plans were upset by the presence of a number of chauffeurs. They drove around to consider, and were arrested after they had decided to defer the job until another time.

GOVERNOR ERRS, BANKS PAY FULL TAXES, THEY SAY

Reply to His Criticism of Assessments.

Taking exception to Gov. Emmerson's statement in support of the proposed income tax amendment to the state constitution, in which the governor said that Cook county bank stocks were assessed at only $174,000 in 1928, the Illinois Bankers' association yesterday replied that the actual figures on bank share assessments in this county two years ago exceeded $105,000,000. The association has indorsed the tax amendment.

The bankers' reply to Gov. Emmerson, made public by M. A. Graettinger, executive vice president, said it was true that the report of the Cook county clerk showed tax returns of only $104,002 in 1928, but added that the records of the board of assessors, board of review, and the tax bills would show the actual figure was in excess of $105,000,000.

Regrets "Unreliable" Figures.

Mr. Graettinger said that bank shares in Cook county and in every other county paid their full quota of taxes every year, and he expressed regret that statistics on taxes in Illinois were "so unreliable as to cause the governor to be led astray by his assertion which implies that the Cook county banks were escaping their just burden."

Mr. Graettinger cited figures showing $700,000,000 to be the total assessment on Cook county personal property, and declared that of the actual tax money collected on this assessment the banks pay considerably more than half.

O. K.'s Bank Act Amendments.

The bankers' association also announced its indorsement of the proposed amendments to the state banking act which are to be voted on at the election Nov. 4. It described the proposed changes as a means of insuring greater protection to depositors and more safety in banking practices.

The amendments, if adopted, will require new banks to provide a minimum capital of $50,000 instead of $25,000, as under the present law, and will compel the creation of ample reserve funds for charging off bad assets before dividends may be paid. The proposed changes make it necessary for new banks to set aside not less than 10 per cent of their capital as a start toward surplus reserve, and at least 5 per cent more as a reserve for operating expenses.

Another provision of the proposed amendments authorizes the issuance of capital stock at a par value, in multiples of $10 to $100, as a means of giving wider distribution of ownership in the community.

State banking authorities, under the new laws, would be given broader powers in the handling of the assets of any banks taken over for liquidation, reducing the cost of dissolution, and giving a larger return to depositors.

FORTY NOTABLES WILL BE HONOR DINNER GUESTS

Names of more than 40 notables who will be guests of honor Wednesday at a dinner to leaders in education and industry, were announced last night in a joint statement by Robert M. Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, and W. Whitfield Woods, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers.

The dinner will mark the close of the seventh conference of major industries, which will be held at the university Wednesday with the coöperation of the Chicago Association of Commerce, the Commercial club of Chicago and the Industrial club.

The speakers at the dinner will be Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, who will speak on the "General Business Situation," and Glenn Frank, president of the University of Wisconsin.

JEWS ALARMED AT BRITISH PLANS FOR HOLY LAN'

Claim Balfour Pledge Is Broken; Arabs Favored.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Bitter disappointment, coupled with concern, was voiced in a statement issued tonight by the World Union of Zionist Revisionists in advance of the publication of the outline of British policy in Palestine.

The British statement has already been delivered to a certain Jewish leader under the pledge of secrecy until the report is formally released probably tomorrow night. But the contents have leaked out, and the revisionists not only jumped the gun with an outline of the documents, but their attack is heavily clouded with resentment against its provisions.

Reveal British Plans.

In their attack they outline the provisions of the British report. Some of these are: The elimination of all international obligations in building up a Jewish national home; the surrender to the Arabs of the machinery of the Palestine government by the creation of a legislative assembly, and subjecting Jewish immigration to Palestine to the absorptive capacity of the country.

The other provisions, according to the revisionist statement, are the allocation of large sums for the development of Arab agriculture, making possible further settlement of Arabs, a provision for financial means which will make it impossible for land to be purchased by Jews, and the destruction of Jewish rights and prerogatives as laid down in the mandate.

Impatiently Await Report.

"Grave concern in regard to the future of Zionism and British Jewish relations," says the revisionist statement, "is felt in Jewish circles in London in connection with the forthcoming publication of the outline of British policy in regard to Palestine, which is impatiently awaited by the whole Jewish people. Great secrecy has been observed by the colonial office and the Zionist organization regarding this statement which, it is understood, represents a negation of the Balfour declaration and the Palestine mandate.

"It has become known in the headquarters of World Union of Zionist Revisionists that a copy of the statement reached a Jewish leader last Friday, accompanied by the intimation that it was final and did not call for a reply. The document referred to is considered a planned attack on all the bases upon which Jewish effort toward achievement in Palestine has hitherto rested.

Leader's Hands Tied.

"The pledge of secrecy forced upon the Jewish leader made impossible any early action on the part of the Jewish people in preparation of such measures as might be more fair if circumstances could have led to concerted measures with a view of amending the statement of policy.

"In addition the chain of incidents and utterances connected with the anticipated publication of the British statement must be regarded as deliberately intended to disarm the Jewish people of all necessary political activity through previous assurances that no final policy will be adopted before there is a debate in the house of commons on the whole subject of Palestine, or before the mandate commission is given possession of Sir John Hope Thompson's report. This procedure must be interpreted as a breach of faith with the permanent mandate commission with the house of commons and the Jewish people."

The measures intended by Britain will "create unquiet and alarm, which, it will be admitted, is but natural, having in view the statement and the circumstances of its publication," the revisionist statement concludes.

ROBBED OF $350 CASH.

Wilfred Boyd, 616 Groveland Park, was robbed of $350 by two colored men in front of 208 East 56th street Saturday night. A bandit robbed Otto Romspeadt of $50 in his bakery at 2333 East 71st street.

HOW PATRONS OF ROAD PERSUADED IT TO ELECTRIFY

Story of Lackawanna's Power Change.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

The latest electrification of a steam railroad service in the New York City region is that of the Lackawana suburban lines, on which the first electric train was operated on Sept. 3 last.

This electrification was brought about by the unremitting pressure of the New Jersey commuters who travel to and from their work on Manhattan island by the Lackawanna lines and the ferry between the Hoboken, N. J., terminal and New York City.

For years Montclair, Newark, the Oranges, Gladstone, and dozens of other suburbs along the Lackawanna lines had been clamoring for electrification. They formed organizations that periodically and with ever increasing frequency and persistence bore down upon the management of the road with pleas for the substitution of electric for steam power.

Commuters Push Demands.

The commuters wanted faster service and a more comfortable, cleaner ride night and morning. And in the interest of clean, quiet homes near the railroad's right of way they wanted the noisy, soot depositing steam locomotives relegated to the transportation limbo.

The officers of the Lackawanna in these sessions with the representatives of the organizations of suburbanites always agreed that electrification was highly to be desired in the interest of improved service. They always insisted that the company intended to electrify the suburban lines just as soon as it could be done without putting its finances into the red.

Electrification was an expensive proposition, the company officials asked the commuters to bear in mind. In view of the low level of suburban fares, which had not been increased in many years, electrification, they said, would be anything but a profitable venture. And railroads are not in business for pleasure. If, however, fares were raised to some extent the company would be able to afford electrification.

Accept Fare Raise Proposal.

In this way the company contrived to convey to the commuters the delicate hint that they might indulge in the luxury of electric train service if they were willing to pay for it in the form of higher fares. There followed more than a year of consideration of the proposition in this light on the part of the suburbanites. Eventually their spokesmen returned to another meeting with the company officials prepared to accept the suggestion.

On this occasion the suburban organizations gave assurances that if the company would electrify no opposition would be raised to a reasonable increase of fares. By "reasonable," it appeared, the commuters meant such increase as would yield additional revenue equivalent to the interest on the cost of changing motive power.

On the basis of this agreement with the suburbs the company in March, 1928, authorized the electrification of its suburban lines. The undertaking is to be completed by the end of this year. The company recently filed with the interstate commerce commission schedules of fare increases averaging 3½ cents a mile between Hoboken and Montclair and the Oranges.

Electrify 70 Miles of Line.

The electrification is being carried out on the main line of the Lackawanna between Hoboken and Dover, N. J., and on two branch lines—one between Newark and Montclair and the other between Summit and Gladstone. When it is complete there will be 70 miles of route and 160 miles of track electrified. The total cost is estimated at between $16,000,000 and $18,000,000.

Direct current of 3,000 volts transmitted by overhead wires is used. This is the first use of so high a voltage in railroad suburban service. The necessity for so high a voltage arises from the requirement of great power on the grades in the hill region served by the Lackawanna.

New Equipment Purchased.

The company purchased 141 motor cars and converted the same number of passenger coaches into trailers. One motor car and one trailer constitute one unit, and trains consist of from one to six units. In a train of several units the motive power is supplied by the motor in each unit, though all are controlled by one motorman. As a result the train can be started and stopped more quickly than a steam train and without jolts and jerks.

The speed of the electric train is accelerated one and one-half miles per hour every second on level tracks until it reaches the maximum of between fifty and sixty miles an hour. This acceleration is about four times that of a steam train.

The unusually rapid acceleration of electric trains has provided the Lackawanna commuters with a new experience, particularly those commuters who calculate that if they leave the house when they hear the train whistle they can flip the last coach before it disappears from the station. Gone now are those old fashioned days. The commuter not on the station platform when the train pulls in is likely to find it gone when he gets there.

One of the most significant results of the Lackawanna's electrification is the real estate boom in the suburbs served by the road. The realization of rapid electric transit has caused a rush of home buyers to this region despite the fact that the railroad has no rail terminal on Manhattan island. The commuters calculate that the time lost by ferry is offset by the reduced time of the electric trains. It is apparent that electrification is bringing about a development of this New York suburban region, the increased patronage from which in time will compensate the railroad handsomely for the outlay.

Lackawanna officers say it is too early to determine whether operation is more economical with electric than with steam power. Just now they are most concerned over the expense of the change in motive power. One item is illustrative. The company, when the electrification is complete, will have 75 steam locomotives, many of them comparatively new, for which it will have no further use. This represents a considerable loss save to the extent it can be reduced by the sale of second hand locomotives. These engines, however, are of a special type, designed for fast suburban service on heavy grades. They are totally unfit for long passenger hauls or for freight service. No market has been found for them in the United States and the company is now preparing to send a drummer to South America offering bargains in used steam locomotives.

First Cost Is High.

This is one of the elements of the first cost of electrification to which railroad officials generally attribute reluctance to change motive power. Other elements are the cost of power generation, transmission and conversion, distribution and contact, motive power on trains, track rearrangement, acquisition of additional real estate, changes in or removal of structures and radical changes in signal and communication systems.

"It is because of high first cost that the progress of electrifying steam railways has been quite slow," said George Gibbs, who has directed all of the Pennsylvania's electrification.

"The direct economies secured from electric traction are practically all in fuel saving, in train labor and in cost of repairs of motive power."

In an analysis of operations before and after electrification of steam railroads, Kent Tenney Healy found, on the other hand, that there was a profit by electric operation over and above the fixed charges. In the case of one road there were operating savings after electrification aggregating $586,424 and fixed charges amounting to $522,277, leaving a net annual saving of $64,147. In another case, that of a suburban electrification, there were operating savings of $570,977, fixed charges of $400,592, and a net annual saving of $170,385.

TURKEYS TO BE CHEAP THIS THANKSGIVING, IS MARKET PROMISE

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Thanksgiving turkeys will be cheaper this year than they have been for nearly a generation, according to local market experts.

This will not be due to a heavy carryover of frozen turkeys from last year, but will be the result of increased production and the tendency of economic conditions to lower food prices.

For thirty-six years Texas has supplied most of the Thanksgiving turkeys, but recently the northwestern and Rocky mountain states have entered the industry and nearly doubled this year's holiday supply.

How Old People Now Get That Youthful Feeling

Prove It in 4 Weeks at a Cost of 85 Cents—Gain Vigor—Energy—Vitality.

Vitalizing minerals are always needed if buoyant health is to be yours.

So when people who are getting along in years take the little daily dose of Kruschen, it carries to liver, kidneys, nerves, glands and to every internal organ a combination of six magical and rejuvenating salts that daily keep the system free from acid and harmful toxins.

When you take Kruschen Salts internal faults are corrected and blissful bowel regularity is yours—you obtain the same beneficial results that you would have to pay handsomely to get at the famous and expensive spas of Europe.

Petty and disturbing ailments such as headache, gas, dizzy spells and biliousness won't bother you and you will feel better, spryer and more forceful than you have for years.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents—at any drug store in the world—Take one-half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

A "RENO RING" FOR DIVORCEES, NEW INVENTION

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A "Reno ring" to distinguish divorcees from married women, single women, or widows is the idea of Mrs. Nan Barclay, recently divorced from McClelland Barclay, illustrator.

The ring she has invented is a perfectly plain one of black onyx. It is worn on the third finger of the left hand and inside it, where in wedding circlets the entwined initials of bride and bridegroom appear, are the four letters, "FREE."

DIES SUDDENLY AT DEPOT.

Ross Burkholder, 40 years old, a farmer of Marshall, Ill., was stricken with a heart attack at the Dearborn station on his arrival in Chicago yesterday and died in the office of Fred McMahon, the stationmaster.

HOODLUMS AND THE LAW.

The Supreme court's decision in the Sammons bail case inferentially approves the application of the vagrancy law to the modern type of moneyed hoodlums and quiets such doubts as have been felt in some quarters on this point. We have not shared these doubts and it is reassuring to know that they are not considered valid by our distinguished tribunal. If the framers of the statute did not foresee the dilemma into which the huge profits of prohibition and the resourcefulness of modern criminal organization has thrust the agencies of the law, they made it clear in the sweeping terms of the statute that they intended it to meet all possible extensions of lawless living, hoodlumism, in effect the general conditions we have today. There is nothing better established in our jurisprudence than the duty of reinterpreting the phraseology of laws to conform to changes in conditions. This duty does not justify the distortion of words or intendment, but it does require the interpretation of statutes to prevent the defeat of justice and the underlying intent of the law through a mere change of the form of offenses or the appearance of new offenses in character essentially the same as those which the legislator had concretely in his mind. Such interpretations are a commonplace of our jurisprudence, and the reports are full of ruling cases in which laws have been interpreted with far greater liberality than is required in the case of the statute of vagabonds.

This statute defines vagabonds as "all persons who are idle and dissolute, and who go about begging; all persons who use any juggling or other unlawful games or plays; runaways; pilferers; confidence men; common drunkards; common night walkers; lewd, wanton and lascivious persons in speech or behavior; common railers and brawlers; persons who are habitually neglectful of their employment or their calling and do not lawfully provide for themselves or for the support of their families; and all other persons who are idle or dissolute and who neglect all lawful business, and who habitually misspend their time by frequenting houses of ill fame, gaming houses or tippling shops; all persons lodging or found in the night time in outhouses, sheds, barns, or unoccupied buildings or lodging in the open air, and not giving a good account of themselves; and all persons who are known to be thieves, burglars or pickpockets, either by their own confession or otherwise, or having been convicted of larceny, burglary, or other crime against the state, punishable by imprisonment in the state prison, or in a house of correction of any city, and having no lawful means of support, are habitually found prowling around any steamboat landing, railroad depot, banking institution, broker's office, place of public amusement, auction room, store, shop or crowded thoroughfare, car, omnibus, or at any public gathering or assembly, or lounging about any courtroom, private dwelling houses or outhouses, or are found in any house of ill fame, gambling house, or tippling shop."

If the intention of these words does not reach the modern gangster, gunman, or hoodlum, even under the rule of strictest interpretation of criminal statutes, then it is impossible for legislative language to express a clear general intent. The intent in this statute is to bring under the discipline of the law and protect society from "idle, dissolute persons" who do "not lawfully provide for themselves," who "neglect all lawful business," and live the life of what we nowadays call the underworld. The fact that a hoodlum has or can obtain money does not remove him from the category of vagabond. The language is as definitely descriptive as the experience of the time permitted, and its effort to cover the whole field of dissolute and lawless living is as obvious as words can make it. That it does not reach some modern fashions in vagabonds, and especially the more sinister types of lawless livers, men who go abroad armed without lawful excuse with deadly weapons, frequenters of gang hangouts, racketeers and hoodlums, men who do not "lawfully provide for themselves," offends not only common sense but in our judgment the strictest principles of judicial interpretation.

The prosecuting officials and the judges who are making use of this statute in the war on organized and habitual criminality are on sound legal ground, it now seems certain, and have shown a resourcefulness as well justified in legal principle as it is welcome to a community long and sorely afflicted.

FOOTBALL BY REFERENDUM.

A curiosity to know what the young men discuss when they huddle before a play was considerably increased by an incident in a recent game, that of Northwestern and Ohio at Evanston. Northwestern, as the circumstances are recalled, had the ball close to the Ohio goal line, within a yard, and, with two downs remaining, seemed in a fair way to make the score.

It has been assumed that the players went into the huddle to get their signals and that they received them from the man who was running the team, selecting and directing the attack; but this huddle apparently became a convention. Some issue arose which had to be disposed of by public discussion, and the next thing Northwestern knew it was six yards from the Ohio line instead of one, having acquired a five yard setback for taking too much time in starting the play. The touchdown which any decision arrived at in time might be given on the next play disappeared among the other things that might have been.

It seemed as if there might be a moral in it, possibly relating to war by referendum. There seem to be limitations to the conduct of affairs by democratic discussion and a poll of the freemen.

THE TYRANNY OF BUREAUCRACY.

The President's reference in his speech at King's Mountain to "the tyranny of bureaucracy" needs no elaboration for Americans who understand and value their heritage of liberty. But there are many Americans who do not. If there were not many we should not have had in recent years a vast growth of bureaucracy, repeated invasions by government in spheres of private activity, the tendency of discontent or impatient reform to turn to politics and government for relief which could better be had from private initiative and cooperation.

To radicals, to headlong reformers preoccupied with the symptoms of social evil rather than their cause or judicious remedy, to dreamers of the so-called intelligentsia, the state is an infallible and benign mother. If a wrong appears it is the state which will correct it, a wise and beneficent doctor for all our ills, a mysterious potency worshiped and exalted.

Our fathers knew better. They were wisely jealous of all forms of political or governmental power, and sought earnestly to put checks upon it and to restrict it within the limits of essential authority. For they knew that the state is government, and government is officialdom and politics. They knew that neither is infallible nor disinterested nor reliably benign.

Socialism seeks to escape from the oppressions of private self-interest by submitting us to the oppression of government. Its appeal is based upon a fallacious idealization of the state and of the nature of officialdom. Socialism in actuality is and can be nothing but bureaucracy, the imposition upon the individual of the will of the official. That we can thus escape the shortcomings of human nature is a fallacy, proved in human experience. The bureaucrat is not only a fallible man, but he is one ridden by routine, exposed to the temptations of power, removed from the direct correction of failure, involved in the petty rivalries of rank and office. Men of superior character rise above these evils, but there are not enough of them to combat or alter the general characteristics of officialdom.

To establish the tyranny of bureaucracy in America would be not only to barter our heritage for a mess of pottage, turning away from the inspired lessons of our own progress, but it would put a fatal check upon that progress and submit American freemen to an intolerable régime of pestiferous interference and restriction. Moreover, it would be the most difficult of all forms of tyranny to escape or overthrow. Its evils would be subtle and pervasive, not concentrated and dramatic. A monarch may be beheaded. But the tyrant bureaucracy, a many headed monster, entrenched at the sources of all power, would be almost impossible to destroy.

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.

Americans have bought power companies in the British isles and the natives, as might be expected, have protested against what they term the exploitation of their resources by foreigners. The anxiety of the British in this matter is somewhat heightened, perhaps, by intimate knowledge of the consequences of the entrance of foreign capital into backward countries. As the point is made in a recent issue of the London Statist:

"It is well known that one of the results if not one of the objects of the British ownership of foreign electrical concerns was to provide British manufacturers with an almost complete monopoly of supply in the market of these firms. Will similar results now follow the acquisition of British electricity companies by American interests?"

In attempting to answer the question, trade statistics are examined. They show that British imports of electrical goods and apparatus have increased some 60 per cent over 1923 while exports have increased only 3 per cent.

"It is not unnatural to suggest," the article concludes, "that between the marked increase in imports of electrical goods and in the expansion of American interests in British electricity there exists some connection."

That is putting it with somewhat less heat than will be found in the writings of Indian and Egyptian propagandists, but the burden of the complaint is the same. Perhaps here will be found the solution of the British colonial problem. The Indians will be reconciled to their position of inferiority by the realization that Great Britain is in the same boat.

PREPARING FOR HARD TIMES.

[New York World.]

In the last few months we have heard a lot about the desirability of preparing for bad times while good times are still with us. The President of the United States, with his plan for public works, was one of the first to enunciate this doctrine; the American Federation of Labor is the latest, and no doubt there will be others before the tide begins to turn. Unquestionably it is a sound idea, but it would run into a formidable snag if anybody tried to put it into actual practice. The snag is that in good times to talk about the possibility of bad times is a crime somewhat similar to imagining the king's death. A year ago the man who so much as wondered about bad times would have been denounced as a sort of public enemy. All sorts of arguments were advanced to prove that the boom would last forever; securities had acquired a "scarcity value" quite apart from their intrinsic worth, like the autographs of Button Gwinnett; the population was increasing; living standards were going up; the country had found an unlimited capacity to consume whatever was produced in it. What chance, at that feverish time, for the man who asked congress to appropriate money for dams, steamboat channels, and postoffices, frankly on the ground that their construction would provide jobs during the dark hours ahead? He would have been lucky to get out of the capitol alive.

TESTING CIRCULATION.

THERE is some chance that a practical method of testing poor circulation has been found. Up to now, when a man came to a physician complaining of poor circulation, cold feet, and a number of other mild discomforts, the physician had to take his word for it. Now there is a test for disturbance of circulation that is sensitive enough to help in diabetes when gangrene of the feet is being guarded against. Possibly there are other conditions in which it is of service, and maybe it will throw some light on poor circulation and cold feet.

The test is made as follows: A solution of histamin, 1 in 1,000, is made, and chloretone is added to make a strength of 1 in 200. The purpose of the chloretone is to prevent the histamin solution from spoiling. The patient lies flat, or sits with his legs in a horizontal position.

Four points are selected for testing—just above the knee, six inches below the kneecap, six inches above the ankle, and on top of the foot. The skin of these areas is washed clean with alcohol, and then thoroughly dried. A drop of the solution is placed on the skin. With a sharp needle the skin is pricked several times through the solution. The needle pricks are arranged in a circle somewhat larger than a pea.

Almost immediately after the pricking the histamin reaction starts. First, there is a red spot. Then a wheal, or red raised place like nettlerash or a bee sting. Lastly, there is a red flare and itching. If the circulation is good, this progression of reactions is completed in five minutes. If the circulation is poor the reaction is delayed and atypical. If the course of the tests around the knee is normal, while that of the back of the foot is slow and abnormal, this is proof that the circulation in the foot is poor. The reactions are classed as grade 1, 2, or 3.

This method of testing has proved of value in picking out the cases of diabetes in which gangrene threatened, and for that purpose is regarded as of value in caring for diabetics. It has also been used with advantage in testing the circulation of diabetics, with carbuncles and boils, in various forms of heart and kidney disease, and in chilling of the body under different circumstances. There is every reason to think it will be tried in Raynaud's disease, intermittent claudication, Brueger's disease. In time it may be of common use in what is called "poor circulation."

COATING ON THE TONGUE.

K. C. writes: With reference to J. R.'s complaint about the coating of the tongue, I would not advise the use of chewing gum. If I were in Hindustan, where I came from, I would advise chewing beetle nuts with all kinds of spices and a bit of calcium dioxide, but a chewing gum would form more coating. I have been noticing a coat on my tongue and I have been eating apple with salt, which helps much. I think it is caused by smoking dozens of cigars of a kind which are sweetened with molasses. Alas, how I miss the beetle nut to supply the calcium in my system.

REPLY:

Eating apple with salt may help.

RINGWORM OF FEET.

Mrs. R. K. writes: What will cure ringworm of the feet?

REPLY:

Mild cases are cured by ointments for the purpose, sold in drug stores. There are many such on the market now. Among these are sulphur ointments and chloretone ointments. More severe cases will require medical service.

Sunning the shoes and stockings helps; so does going barefoot, or wearing sandals without stockings.

JAUNDICE ONLY A SYMPTOM.

R. W. writes: Is there a cure for a man 73 years old with yellow jaundice? His skin and the whites of his eyes are yellow.

REPLY:

Jaundice is a symptom. It may indicate cancer of the liver, gall stones, infected gall bladder, or any one of several other diseases. Some of them are very serious. Some are not. Find the cause in your case and base treatment on that.

BAN ON DUMPING.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—[Friend of the People.]—I wish to call your attention to an alley situated between Barry avenue and Fletcher street, under the elevated. The neighbors seem to think this is an authorized public dumping ground, with the result of making a neighborhood eyesore.
MRS. R. M.

Report is made that notices have been served throughout neighborhood referred to to stop further dumping and location will be kept under observation to see that notices are complied with.

INTEREST ON DEBT.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—For the last four years I have been indebted to an undertaker to the amount of $50. Recently I have been served with bills demanding 5 per cent interest on the money I owe. I have informed him that I will pay what I owe, but will not pay the interest. I am now served with a court summons which sets forth an amount twice that which I owe. I am earning only a living wage and cannot pay the amount asked. What steps shall I take?

MAD DOG!

Chicago, Oct. 16.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In our absence my dog is said to have bitten a woman. My neighbor says the dog got out of the yard through a loose picket in the fence, which he repaired, after putting the dog back. We do not know whether the dog was out or not. We are presented with a doctor bill of $2. 1. Should I pay this bill? 2. If I do, can she make further claim?
A. C. M.

1. Do as you choose.

2. Yes, but in order to force you to pay she would have to show that you had knowledge of the dog's vicious disposition.

JUST A DOG STORY.

And, therefore, you can skip it hastily if you don't like dogs and turn over to the more thrilling tales of what the gangsters, hijackers, rum runners, bootleggers, and so forth are doing on the front and other pages. This concerns antiques and heroic legends which are much more sacred in the east than out here in the west, and maybe you can't see much of a story in this even if you read it, so perhaps you'd better skip it anyhow. This story concerns the sacred bed of Betty Washington, which is again at lovely old "Kenmore," the Betty Washington house at Fredericksburg, Va. You have to keep all this in mind, or after you get through with it you'll be certain it isn't much of a story. It isn't too late to skip it right now, and if you don't want to read about gangsters and such you can turn over to the sporting pages and read the alibis and post-mortems of the football teams that got their headgear licked off of 'em Saturday. Anyhow, you have to know that "Kenmore" is a national shrine, and a national shrine is a very sacred thing where tourists all file in with sad, serious faces and speak in low hushed tones, saying one to the other, "Huh, I don't think this is a very swell show; I wish I had my two bits back."

Anyhow, the legend of the Betty Washington bed is that her brother George, after Yorktown, tired of fighting the British for eight long years and having people say that he stood up in the boat when the ragged Continentals crossed the Delaware in the ice, came down to Betty's house in Fredericksburg to rest up and get away from the autograph collectors and people who wanted him to indorse things. Sister Betty and her family were away when George arrived and he stumbled around trying to find a place to rest. Finally he saw Betty's bed and hurled himself across it, boots and all, and slept the clock twice around, he was that tired. Now the bed is the most revered thing in Betty's revered house, and has big cords drawn around it so the tourists can't cut hunks out of the counterpane to take home as souvenirs. (If you're tired of the story by this time drop it right here before the dog part starts.)

Well, anyhow, into this sacred room one afternoon came Thomas Atkins, a small bowlegged Sealyham terrier who was born in England and is probably pro-British anyhow. The lady guide told how George Washington slept the clock twice around in that very bed and she had the bed and the clock to prove it. "Since then," said the lady guide, "no one has occupied that bed. Betty Washington said it should remain untenanted in the future and just as it was after her noble brother had occupied it."

A long silence followed this solemn announcement, only broken by the slight scratching noise made by a tourist trying to steal the fireplace in the bedroom. Again the lady guide said impressively, "This bed has never been occupied since the immortal Washington reposed there." This was too much for Mr. Atkins, the celebrated Sealyham terrier. With one prodigious bound he leaped from the floor and landed squarely in the middle of the hallowed bed. He not only landed there but he immediately rolled over on his side, shut his eyes, and gave every indication of a high resolve to sleep in that bed twenty-four hours, just as George had done. Of course, we could tell of how the lady guide and several of the tourists fainted and how Tommy Atkins was hurriedly dragged off the bed and out of the house; but really that's all there is to the story; and, anyhow, we told you that maybe you had better read other things and you're probably sorry you didn't.

SUPPOSE WE DO.

Suppose we let the autumn wind
Decide upon the place;
And let the moon denote the time—
There's such a little space
Between the kiss at evening-star
And parting-time at dawn,
While moments are like sky-blown leaves:
Once scattered, quickly gone.

Suppose we kindle carefully
A dry-leaf midnight-fire,
And add to it our faded dreams
To make the flames reach higher;
For autumn-time's a time to lose
The old, to find the new—
Let's blow a kiss to what's gone by

Your Committee on Selections for the New Linebook—

hereby report it has read with interest the many letters from Line readers regarding what should appear in the forthcoming Linebook for 1930. Your committee is in sympathetic accord with most of the suggestions made, but reports a lack of entire agreement, owing to the attitude of Hank, who stands solid against what he is pleased to denominate "too many dam pomes." However, it is hoped that this matter will finally be adjusted with satisfaction to all. Among the things high on the voting list are Dorothy Kissling's The Poet, Chivalry Liveth Yet, Marjorie F. W.'s Cloud and Pillar, Eolus' Physician Bereft, Snowshoe Al's Thirty Years from Now, If I Were Conan Doyle, Judy Shea's Prepaid, Duke Pakrak's The Missus Wants a Credit Acct., Ferry Adams' Fog, Colorado Pete's Filigree, Chicago in Sudden Daze, and various things by Ethelyn Bryant Chapman, Anchusa, Oracle, Helen Welshimer, and Clarence P. Milligan. Your committee in submitting its report deeply regrets that the new Linebook, like its predecessors, will consist of only 64 pages, but that Hank will use rubber type and hopes to compress as many of the things asked for as possible into the new book.

OCTOBER 20, 1914.

LONDON.—Fighting of the most desperate character today marked the attempt of the Germans to break the extreme left wing of the allies' army, advance westward on the Belgian and French coast, and strike Dunkirk and Calais. The heavy artillery of the Germans is bombarding the line from Nieuport to Vladsloo, to the east of Dixmude, in Belgium. The British fleet has taken part in the battle, the ships lying in close to the shore firing on the Germans. Both Paris and Berlin claim the advantage of the battle lies with their troops. A Berlin message says the Germans are so close to Dunkirk that the people are in a panic and are fleeing to England.

LONDON.—The Morning Post correspondent in the north of France says that he learns on excellent authority that the allies have recaptured Ostend.

BERLIN.—[By wireless to Sayville, L. I.]—The Austrian offensive is declared in Berlin to be advancing. During the assault on Przemysl the Russians lost 40,000 men in killed and wounded.

TOKIO.—It is officially announced that the Japanese cruiser Takachiho was sunk by a mine in Kiau-Chau bay, with a loss of 272 men. Only one officer and eleven members of the crew are known to have been saved.

CHICAGO.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt spoke to an audience of 15,000 at the Coliseum in behalf of Raymond Robins' candidacy for the United States senatorship. Fully that many more stood outside the doors shrieking and yelling for admission. It was the same old Roosevelt, full of vim and fight, thrilling the vast audience with his verbal punches as he tore into both the old parties. He denounced Senator Sherman, the Republican, and Roger Sullivan, the Democrat, with equal vehemence.

NEW YORK.—Frank E. Vogel, who with Henry Siegel was soon to have gone on trial on numerous charges of larceny growing out of the failure of the bank of Henry Siegel & Co., died suddenly at the Hotel Biltmore.

OCTOBER 20, 1900.

CHICAGO.—Franklin MacVeagh, a sound money Democrat, who six years ago was the candidate of his party for United States senator, came out for the reëlection of President McKinley. He declares that Bryan is unsafe and stands for every dangerous policy enunciated by the Chicago platform.

CHICAGO.—Simeon I. Morris, who 10 years ago was a rich contractor and associated with the Illinois Steel company, was arrested on charges of threatening the lives of John W. Gates and W. G. Brimson. The charge was drawn up by Attorney Clyde A. Morrison of the legal department of the American Steel and Wire company.

ITHACA, N. Y.—For more than an hour William Jennings Bryan faced a big crowd largely composed of Cornell students and, contrary to the general expectation before he began, he talked most of that time. It takes more than a crowd of college students to make Mr. Bryan stop talking. He was constantly interrupted by cheers and Cornell yells.

CHICAGO.—This is Chicago's first great football day of the season. Down by the Midway Stagg's men will meet Brown's warriors, while up at Evanston Northwestern will battle Illinois.

OCTOBER 20, 1880.

HOLLAND, Mich.—The steamer Alpena, of the Goodrich line, missing since the recent storm, has certainly gone down. Debris from the ship is floating near this harbor. At Saugatuck one of its lifeboats and its piano with some life preservers were found on shore.

CHICAGO.—Goodrich line officials remained at their offices throughout the day and at evening announced that they had given up hope for the safety of the Alpena and its passengers, believed to number about 30.

CHICAGO.—Judge Gary, after hearing the argument by Attorney McClenahan, quashed the indictment against Edward Wood, the straw bailer, for perjury. Wood was charged with falsely swearing to the ownership of property offered for bail before a justice of the peace.

PARIS.—Edouard Wolff, the Polish pianist, is dead.

A CALL FOR PERSONAL SERVICE.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—In a time of unemployment like this money given ever so generously for relief agencies, for rent and food and coal, is not enough, and no intelligent citizenship will be content with this. Unemployment means insecurity, unguided, and the lessening of self-confidence and the courage of men and women and boys and girls. It means that spirits are broken and that few inhibitions are left. Our child labor laws are breaking down, children are out of school, for they have no food or clothes; men are deserting their families, girls are going into prostitution for purely economic reasons, boys are turning to crime, which is profitable and where jobs seem to be always open. One feels more and more the bitterness in the hearts of those who are facing a situation which they cannot understand and before which they are helpless.

Social service agencies to which this great army of unemployed and their wives and their children turn find themselves with greatly reduced budgets, for subscriptions have been cut or dropped altogether. They have to reduce their staffs, and those who are left find themselves utterly unable to give the service which is so greatly demanded.

The relief agencies should be given so much money that no man or woman or child will go hungry or cold or shelterless in Chicago this winter. There are, however, all our other agencies whose work is increasing daily because of unemployment. Are they going to be forgotten? We need money for more workers; we need volunteer service given as it was during the war; we need automobiles by the hour or the day to cover the vast distances in this great city; we need emergency funds.

If you would understand what unemployment really means come and spend a day in our social settlements and our social service agencies. There are no bands on our streets leading this great army of unemployed; they come to us one by one. There are old as well as young men and women and boys and girls and babies in its ranks. They have no uniforms. They get shabbier day by day.

Can we not get the money, the personal service, the spirit to respond to their great needs? And as we determine that we will for evermore have peace after a time of war, so may we come to be intelligent and humane enough to find a way to give opportunity to all who wish to work after this tragic time of unemployment.
JESSIE F. BINFORD.
Director Juvenile Protective Association of Chicago.

THE PLIGHT OF THE JOBLESS WOMAN.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—We are glad to hear of the shelter given to jobless men, but what about the hundreds of jobless women? Don't forget that there are many former office employés who are single and penniless, their savings gone. There are vacant houses on the near south side and elsewhere that could be used for these women and girls out of employment. No doubt the Eleanor club would be glad to operate them if some one with money and a heart would finance it.
ONE OF THEM.

TWO SUGGESTIONS.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—In connection with your program to aid the unemployed this winter, will the following ideas be helpful?

There must be scores of clubs formed by young men and women which have really ceased to function as originally planned, but which will have funds in the treasury. Why cannot such funds be released and property distributed through you?

Aren't there in the banks a number of "dead" accounts with funds that could be legally released for distribution through you? Couldn't the banks give your legal department a list of such funds so that you could effect their release?
RALPH J. ROSENTHAL.

A LOAN FUND.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—There are a lot of men here who will be in very desperate circumstances this winter who will not accept charity. These men have too much pride for that. Why cannot a loan fund be accumulated for such cases, where the applicant can give his note and pay the obligation when he again gets a position?
FREDERICK S. PENTZER.

THE CIVIC WHALE.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—I am thinking of organizing the Dead Whale for Mayor league. Would he have any constitutional disability to serve? If elected, how frequently would he have to come to life in order to collect his salary?
C. VIC LEE.

SEEN AT SARNIA.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—About three weeks ago while visiting my brother's family in Sarnia, Ont., we drove out to Point Edward, about 20 miles away on Lake Huron, and we observed a searchlight on the water. It was something new to my brother. He did not know just what to make of it. I said if I were in Chicago I'd say that's the Lindy light. Imagine our great surprise the very next morning while reading the Sarnia Observer to find an article about seeing the Lindy light at Point Edward and it also said it was a distance of 600 miles away. I sure felt proud of our city.

WILDCATS.

La Grange, Ill., Oct. 15.—I read with much interest in today's issue of THE TRIBUNE C. H. MacAulay's protest against the Northwestern football team appropriating the term "Wildcats" from the boys of the Kansas State Agricultural college, who, he states, have used it twenty years.

The use of the term by Northwestern and Chicago sports writers dates from the Kentucky-Chicago game played at Stagg field in 1925, at which time the "Kentucky Wildcats" naturally were given much publicity, which was considerably increased by the fact that they brought the usual live wildcat with them as mascot. The University of Kentucky football team has been known as "Wildcats" for at least thirty years, probably longer, the title having been earned in a game in which the Kentucky team fought a heavier Illinois team to a standstill, evoking from a spectator an admiring "They fight like wildcats."

PEDERSEN HAS TWO PENCHANTS: SPORTS, WELFARE

County Board Candidate Native of Chicago.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Sports form a background for politics with a growing number of candidates this campaign, among them Ingolf P. Pedersen, one of the Republican nominees for county commissioner. Pedersen is a jeweler with a penchant for welfare work and an athletic interest in boxing, baseball, golf and skiing.

The ski-jumping jeweler, acting in the interest of the orphans at Mooseheart was promoter and impresario of the first legalized prize fight in Illinois under the new boxing law. Pedersen has among his friends James J. Davis, secretary of labor and candidate for the senate in Pennsylvania, and Rodney H. Brandon, director of public welfare under Gov. L. L. Emmerson, both directing heads of the Loyal Order of Moose, and to help raise funds Pedersen staged the boxing bout for fraternalism.

Made $18,000 for Mooseheart.

The event was the championship battle between Sammy Mandell and Rocky Kansas at the White Sox ball park in 1926, and at the end Pedersen handed a check for $18,000 to the Mooseheart officials toward the erection of a gymnasium for the orphans.

Ingolf started as a newsboy. He was born in Chicago 42 years ago, and after high school went to business college and Y. M. C. A. classes. At 19 he joined the jewelry house with which he is now identified, as its first employé, and has remained there ever since, 23 years with the same company, of which he is now an executive.

All his life Mr. Pedersen has taken an active interest in sports. He became a pretty good amateur boxer, and he was a baseball player in the old Mercantile-Manufacturers' league. He was playing with them when his team won the championship and was given a free trip to Cuba.

Boosts Police Field Meet.

For the last nine years Mr. Pedersen has been one of the active members of the police field meet committee. In this he says his interest has been twofold—athletics and welfare, the meets not only encouraging the police to participate in health building athletics but furnishing, through the sale of tickets, a reserve for the Policemen's Benevolent association without which it would be necessary to tax the police members higher dues for the organization.

Several years ago Mr. Pedersen's bent for welfare work led him to make a personal inspection at intervals of the various county and state institutions in Cook county, and among his indorsements from civic workers is one from Mr. Brandon of Gov. Emmerson's cabinet, dwelling upon his experience in the operation of relief agencies.

3 Drowned in Long Island Sound When Boat Upsets

Fairfield, Conn., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Three New Yorkers were drowned in Long Island sound two and one-half miles off Panfield light today when their fishing dory overturned. Harry Schmidt of the Bronx swam for almost two hours before he got to Fairfield beach with the news. The men who lost their lives were George Schmidt, Yonkers; Harry Eifler of Manhattan, and Walter Reilly of Pelham parkway.

RUTH M'CORMICK TO OPEN CHICAGO DRIVE TONIGHT

Lewis Gives Another Day to Downstate.

The last two weeks of the Illinois senatorial campaign, in which both major parties will concentrate on capturing Cook county's million and a half votes, will start tonight with Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican nominee, addressing three meetings in Chicago. James Hamilton Lewis, the Democratic nominee, will quit the rural arena following two speeches today, and after resting tomorrow will enter the fight in Cook county.

Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, dry independent candidate for senator, will continue her downstate campaign for one more week before entering the Cook county competition next Monday.

Mrs. McCormick's Program.

Mrs. McCormick finished her downstate tour Saturday and spent yesterday resting up for the opening of her Chicago campaign. Her first speech will be heard by members of the Illinois club, a woman's organization, in the Auditorium hotel at 8:30 tonight. Following this, Mrs. McCormick will hasten south to speak before a Fifth ward meeting at 9:30 at 1440 East 55th street. She plans to conclude her first day's schedule with a speech in the home ward of B. W. Snow, county Republican chairman, who has arranged for a rally of his Sixth ward followers at the Trianon ballroom, 62d street and Cottage Grove avenue.

Former Senator Lewis, who originally had planned to wind up his downstate activity last Saturday, changed his plans to include a speech in Elgin at noon today and another at Rockford tonight. He had canceled an engagement to speak at Elgin a week ago, due to indisposition.

Tour State for Five Weeks.

Both Mrs. McCormick and Mr. Lewis spent more than five weeks in their tour of the state, each going into virtually every county. Mrs. O'Neill began her campaign several weeks later than the others, and decided to devote an extra week to downstate after her two chief rivals had withdrawn from that territory.

The radio is to play a prominent part in the Cook county campaigns of the senatorial candidates, both Mr. Lewis and Mrs. McCormick planning numerous speeches on the air.

Next week the candidates will spend their noon hours addressing audiences in downtown theaters, but this week they are confining their efforts to neighborhood meetings and organization speeches.

ROB GIRL CANDY CLERK.

Miss Elsie Smeatana, 1420 South Kedvale avenue, was held up yesterday by a man in the Martha Washington candy shop at 11 South Kedvale avenue, where she is employed as clerk, and robbed of $10.

DRY LAW BREAK ON WICKERSHAM BODY RUMORED

Kenyon Wanted to Quit, It Is Reported.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Recurrent rumors that the Wickersham commission is on the verge of an open break on the prohibition issue gained fresh credence in the capital today following published reports that Judge William S. Kenyon of Iowa, a dry member, recently submitted his resignation to President Hoover.

Judge Kenyon, according to the story being repeated among those close to the commission, offered to withdraw from the group several weeks ago when the dry law debate approached the showdown stage and the President pursuaded him to remain a member. It was said further that the immediate occasion of the dispute was the question of industrial alcohol control and that the commission since has agreed with Judge Kenyon's ideas.

Refuses to Comment.

Reached by telephone at Omaha where he is sitting in the 8th district federal court, Judge Kenyon was quoted as refusing to confirm or deny the reports, explaining that he could not talk about the affairs of the commission.

The commission is not in session now. After a series of meetings the last two weeks it adjourned Friday until after the November elections. Prohibition was known to be the outstanding question at issue during the meetings but Chairman George W. Wickersham studiously avoided any commitments as to the trend or outcome of the discussions, while the other members referred all inquiries to him. Mr. Wickersham said, however, he hoped a prohibition report would be ready for congress in December.

Doubtful About Policy.

Despite the cloak of secrecy drawn around the commission's proceedings, signs have turned up from time to time strongly indicating inward turmoil over prohibition recommendations, the disputes centering upon these questions:

Does the commission have authority to report on the wisdom or unwisdom of prohibition? Or should it confine its work to methods of better enforcing the dry laws? If it finds prohibition unenforceable should it say so? Should it deal with prohibition as the chief objective of its investigation? Or should prohibition be subordinated to studies of general crime conditions?

Mr. Wickersham has stated that so far as he is concerned he believes if the commission finds prohibition unenforceable it should say so.

works. For days natives have been flocking to the capital by auto, buggy, donkey, or afoot. Thousands of colored electric lights illuminate the streets.

The great Kabul bazaars, through which goods of central Asia pass en route from India, are thronged with thousands bartering and trading camels, horses, skins, clothing—everything.

It is evident that Amanullah's chances of regaining the throne are absolutely gone. Tribal leaders assure that Nadir Khan is the most popular of Afghanistan's rulers for generations. The tribes hail him as the nation's greatest warrior in a nation of warriors, and because he respects their religious customs and tribal authority.

Government Family Affair.

The present government is largely a family affair. The king's brother, Prince Mohammed Hashim Khan, is prime minister, another brother serves as minister of war, and a third is minister to London.

In foreign affairs the king is trying to steer a straight course between Great Britain and Russia, his powerful neighbor which maintains a large legation staff here.

I arrived here last Monday, traveling from Peshawar, India, to Kabul as guest of the crown prince, who was returning from Paris to witness his father's coronation. We made the journey by auto in three days.

The roads around Peshawar are swarming with British Indian troops preparing a punitive expedition against the Afridi tribes who raided Peshawar two months ago. Khyber pass, the gateway to India, is armed to the teeth. There are sentinels every few yards for 15 miles, and there are blockhouses every few hundred yards. Every strategic hill is guarded and barbed wire entanglements guard the encampments.

Chicagoan at Coronation.

The only other American here is David Joffo, Chicago business man, who arrived a month ago by airplane to negotiate with the Afghan government. Mr. Joffo, in company with Essahar Khan, business adviser and colleague, came through Russian Turkestan armed with letters from Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Congressman A. J. Sabath of Chicago, and Afghan notables without mishap. The soviets seized his colleague at Tashkent. Only after the Afghan ruler threatened to recall his minister to Moscow did the Russians release him.

Stove Explodes; Farmer and 3 of His Family Die

Parsons, Kas., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Ed Kennedy, 36, Big Island farmer, and three members of his family burned to death last night in a fire caused by an explosion of kerosene sprayed into a heating stove. The farm home was destroyed. The victims besides Kennedy were Marvin Kennedy, his 6 year old son, and Edna Tyler, 11, and Harold Tyler, 4, his stepchildren.

WOMAN, ESCORT ARE SHOT DEAD ON BUSY STREET

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—A young woman, recently separated from her husband, and her escort, later identified as John Koumius, alias "Jack the Greek" of Brooklyn, were shot to death while hundreds looked at a Brooklyn street intersection today.

The police, who ascribe the crime to jealousy, were looking for Antonio Escobar, husband of the slain woman, Mrs. Andrea Escobar. The couple, have a 2 year old son, Tonio. The woman left her husband two months ago after several quarrels.

DEMOCRATS SEE HOUSE CONTROL, GAINS IN SENATE

Party's Confidence Soars to High Point.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Complete control of the house and greatly increased strength in the senate was predicted for the Democrats today by Jouett Shouse, chairman of the national executive committee. A gain of at least 60 house seats and at least six senate seats were forecast by Mr. Shouse, who earlier in the campaign did not venture to claim an increase of more than 40 members of the lower branch of congress and four or five in the senate. To control the house the Democrats need 53 more members, while to capture the senate they must gain 10 seats.

The Shouse statement indicates that with the election two weeks distant Democratic confidence in the outcome has soared to a high point. Mr. Shouse said heretofore the Democratic national organization has refrained from making any definite prophecy.

Predicts Democratic Majority.

"I unhesitatingly make the prediction today, based on a dispassionate summary of the facts, allowing full consideration to overoptimism in some of our reports, that the house of representatives of the seventy-second congress will show a Democratic majority," said Mr. Shouse. "To attain this requires that the Democrats should elect representatives to 53 seats now held by Republicans. My figures show a minimum of 60 seats in this category. I firmly believe that the overturn will be nearer 70 than 60.

"In any event there will be enough Democratic representatives two weeks from Tuesday to give to our party definite control of the house. By this I do not mean control through a coalition with the progressive wing of the Republican party in the house, which has been submerged up to date by the enormous majority that came in with President Hoover.

"As to the senate there are too many states in which the issue is close to justify a similar prediction. We will make many gains in the senate, and there is a better basis than most campaign predictions are founded on for the assumption that these will be sufficient to make it Democratic.

"The present complexion of the senate is 39 Democrats, 56 Republicans, and one Farmer-Laborite. The most conservative estimate for the senate after March 4, 1931, according to our reports, gives us 45 Democrats, 50 Republicans, including all their factions, and the one Farmer-Labor man, Shipstead. This takes no account of such states as Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado, and Wyoming, in all of which states the outcome is doubtful and in several of which the nonpartisan observers such as the correspondents of the great newspapers give the Democrats the best of the situation. If we win in three of these doubtful states we will have one more senator than the Republicans.

Predict New England Gains.

"According to our figures, we will gain at least seven congressional votes in New England and at least 15 in the group comprising New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, and West Virginia. We will reclaim all the seats in the south that were lost in the Hoover election. From the middle west, extending from Ohio to Kansas our gains will be not far short of 30."

The trend against prohibition as already shown by developments during the present campaign was noted today by Henry H. Curran, president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment who said that political parties in 18 states have gone on record either for outright repeal, a referendum on the question, or demanding state rights. Repeal planks have been adopted by either the Republican or Democratic parties in 12 states. In Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Wisconsin and Washington both the Republican and Democratic platforms call for repeal, while in New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland and Illinois the Democratic party platform contains planks demanding outright repeal.

Illinois to Have Referendum.

The Republican platforms of Rhode Island and Illinois commit the party to abide by the result of the referenda to be held on November 4, while the Democratic platforms of Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota and Iowa call for referenda on the question of repeal or otherwise commit the party to refering all constitutional amendments to the people. State rights planks were adopted by the Democratic conventions in Colorado and North Dakota, while planks straddling the prohibition question by declaring the people of these states had the right to work for repeal or retention of any law were adopted by the Republican conventions in Massachusetts and Maryland.

Law enforcement planks have been adopted by the Republicans in Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Ohio, South Dakota and West Virginia and by the Democrats in Arkansas, California, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas.

Referendum votes are scheduled in three states on election day, Illinois, Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

MERIT RULE, PLEDGE OF CARLOS AMES IN CAMPAIGN APPEAL

Carlos Ames, Republican nominee for sheriff of Cook county, issued a statement yesterday outlining the policy he proposes to adopt if elected sheriff. Mr. Ames said he intended to inaugurate a system for segregating the hardened criminals, who, he said, were an evil influence on younger prisoners. He said he also would develop a plan for working and educating all prisoners, to prevent any unrest and ill results from idleness.

The Republican nominee said he would operate the county highway police department and the county jail on a merit basis, the jail guards and highway police to hold their jobs and obtain advancement only on the basis of meritorious service.

Mr. Ames said he had obtained valuable knowledge of modern penology during his work as secretary and manager of the board of managers of the state reformatory at Pontiac.

DIAMOND BETTER, BUT NERVOUS IN CITY'S HOSPITAL

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A series of bulletins issued today at the Metropolitan hospital on Welfare island gave assurance that the condition of Jack "Legs" Diamond, gangster who has four bullet holes in his body, was "satisfactory."

The racketeer, who was ejected from Polyclinic hospital yesterday because the hospital disliked the publicity he brought to it, indicated he felt much better in body but not so well in mind.

He protested against his forced removal to the Municipal hospital, expressed a belief the public officials around him would "put something over on him" when he was able to walk, and was quoted as telling his few callers that he wished he had been taken to his fortified country home at Acra, N. Y.

2 Men Are Electrocuted in Pushing Car from Pole

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 19.—(AP)—When Ivan Baker, 36, ran his automobile into a city lamp post here early today he walked to a restaurant and asked Hugh Hitchcock, 29, to help him push the car back into the street. A few minutes later both men were found dead, electrocuted by 2,200 volts of city current with which the spring of the automobile had come into contact.

Col. Stone Thrown from His Horse and Injured

Fort Snelling, Minn., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Col. David L. Stone, commandant of the United States army post here, was injured today when his horse slipped and threw the officer to the ground.

RUSS PROHIBIT RELIGION LIKE U.S. PROHIBITS BOOZE

Preaching Is Done on the Sly, Pastor Reveals.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Oct. 19.—The prohibition of religion in Russia is analogous to the prohibition of liquor in America, according to the Rev. Ivan Prokhanoff, president of the All-Russian Evangelical Christian union, who was granted a visa to visit the United States by the Riga consulate yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Prokhanoff, whose organization is the largest Protestant group in Russia, with 1,500,000 persons, says that religious persecution under the leadership of the bolshevik organization Besboshniki (godless) has made religion contraband throughout Russia and as a result the great majority of the inhabitants have become more devout than before.

Clergy Face Greater Risks.

The pastor, who has visited America several times, says that priests and clergy who are "bootlegging" religion in Russia face greater risks than the liquor bootleggers in America; for, while the latter face fines and imprisonment, the Russian religious leaders are facing death from starvation, exile, imprisonment in the far north lumber camps, and the even more terrible threat of having their wives and children evicted and left in the streets to starve.

He has been invited to attend the world convention of the Churches of Christ at Washington, where he will discuss the plight of the Russian clergy.

"In the early years of bolshevism communists concentrated their attacks against the Orthodox church and the Protestant religion was left comparatively in peace," said the clergyman. "Later the godless organization widened its attack, seeking to discredit the churches by inviting priests and preachers to engage in debates before the workers. This popularized the church and, when the campaign failed, terrible persecutions resulted and thousands of churches were closed and the leaders exiled.

Religious Popularity Rises.

"Driven underground, we were forced to bootleg religion, and its popularity continues to increase. Religious education work was forbidden and it was impossible to print any kind of religious literature in Russia. The only recourse was evangelistic work. Our organization has 12,000 preachers, the majority of whom conduct services secretly.

"A gradual change from semi-peaceful propaganda to the most violent kind of persecution shows the fear with which the Reds regard religion. At present the condition of the population is extremely bad, but the situation of the religious leaders is worse, for they are denied bread cards and the privilege of purchasing scanty rations and necessities at government stores.

"A protest from the world's greatest religious leaders last spring caused a short cessation of the persecution of religion in Russia, but this has again been renewed, and Rome under Nero was a summer resort for Christians compared to Moscow today."

JEWISH GROUP FORMS AN ANTI-COMMUNIST SOCIETY IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—A group of Jewish immigrant workers today launched the American Society of Anti-Communist Jewish Workers, an organization devoted to counteracting communist influence and propaganda among the immigrant Jewish working classes.

Addressing the group of foreign born Jews invited to the meeting William Winter, an attorney, denounced the "unscrupulous organizations who prey on the ignorance of the immigrant Jew by inducing him to join their rebelling ranks."

Winter described "communist propaganda activity" as "a barbaric force, a destructive influence to threaten the safety of American Jewry," and in contrast declared that the American Jew today "occupies a place so powerful, so important, so meritorous, that if every Jew were to leave this nation there would remain only a structure where before there was an institution."

TWO AIR RACERS KILLED AS THEIR PLANES COLLIDE

Thousands See Flyers Fall to Death.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Two airmen crashed to their death today after their planes collided during a free-for-all race, the closing event of the all-eastern states air meet at Mercer airport.

The victims, Richard W. Mackie of Valley Stream, N. Y., and George Zinn of Rydal, Pa., were among six contestants in the final race of a two day meet. They collided as they rounded the first pylon and their deaths were witnessed by thousands of spectators.

Zinn's ship clipped that of Mackie and both fell, bursting into flames. Mackie was thrown clear of his plane, but Zinn died in his cockpit. Whether he succumbed to flames or the fall was not determined.

Zinn, formerly an owner of the Rainbow Flying field at Washington's Crossing, represented Trenton in the trans-continental air race in 1928. Mackie also was a skilled pilot.

Mackie an Expert Pilot.

Valley Stream, N. Y., Oct. 19.—(AP)—R. W. Mackie, killed today in an airplane collision at Trenton, N. J., was considered one of the best pilots in this vicinity. He was believed to be the only man ever to have looped a Ford tri-motor plane.

He was 36 years old, married, and the father of two children. For a short time this spring he was assistant manager of the Curtiss-Wright field here. Later he took a position as a commercial pilot.

CIRCUS ELEPHANT, TOPPLES OVER; KILLS BOY OF 11

BLACKPOOL, England, Oct. 19.—(AP) — A circus elephant which was brushing against a railing along a pathway near the circus here today lost it balance and toppled over, killing an 11 year old boy. The boy, Joseph Robert Elgey, walking along the pathway, had tripped and fallen just as the elephant toppled. The big animal's knee came down on the boy's back, killing him instantly.

An eyewitness of the accident said the elephant appeared to be quite peaceable. After killing the boy it rose and stood still until led away by attendants.

Joseph was very fond of animals and had come out to the field to say good-by to his circus friends, who had given their last performance at Blackpool on the previous night.

SHE GOT HER MAN!

Impersonated by DOROTHY APPLEBY

Constance Sinclair, one of society's fast young set — a disciple of Freud and Elinor Glyn — an ultra-sophisticated girl whose whims and desires over-reach all bonds of parental restraint—has had everything—and is decidedly "out to get her man"—knows what she wants when she sees "him"—her methods, although not exactly within the bonds of propriety, mean little to her so long as she achieves what she sets out to accomplish. She "struts her stuff" at the Apollo Theatre in the comedy hit, "Young Sinners." Mats. Wed. and Saturday.

BALKANS SPEED PLANS TO AVOID WARS IN FUTURE

Stormy European Corner Leans Toward Peace.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ATHENS, Oct. 19.—The weathercock of the stormy corner of Europe—the Balkans—is slowly turning peaceward. Torn asunder by three wars within eighteen years, each of which ended disastrously for conqueror and conquered, the danger of economic and political disaster, is bringing the Balkan nations together for self-protection.

"The Balkans for the Balkanese" was the slogan of the pan-Balkan conference, held here under the chairmanship of the former Greek minister of agriculture, M. M. Papanastasiou.

The committee which called the conference encountered from the beginning great difficulties. Bulgaria demanded that the question of her minorities in Jugo-Slavia and Greece be discussed, whereupon Jugo-Slavia threatened not to send any delegates to the conference.

Eliminate Chief Obstacles.

Then the question of inviting Turkey arose. Turkey, not being a member of the league of nations and regarded by the other Balkan countries, Jugo-Slavia, Rumania, Albania, Greece, and Bulgaria, as partly Asiatic, thus stirred up trouble unwittingly.

After the conference opened, the various obstacles were overcome with more or less success.

Though the prevalent atmosphere is and always was rather antagonistic, Prof. Makas, a deputy of the Greek parliament, and Dr. Spiropulos, professor of international law, managed to get a proposal through the various committees, which may be called the Balkan-Locarno system.

It calls for:

1. Obligatory arbitration for all Balkan countries.

2. Establishing of a central office of the Balkan countries.

High Court of Arbitration.

3. The Balkan countries agree to regard this office as the supreme court of arbitration.

4. The foreign ministers of the Balkan countries are to meet three times annually.

5. The Balkan countries agree to use sanctions against any aggressive member.

6. War as a means of national policy is outlawed.

7. The central Balkan office alone is to decide which country, in case of a war, is the aggressor.

This pan-Balkan proposal, seconded by M. Lafontaine, representative of the International League for Peace, will be put before the various parliaments for ratification. It is expected that within the next year the pan-Balkan conference will be authorized to constitute a central Balkan office.

BULLETIN.

PORTO ALEGRE, Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, Oct. 20 (Monday).—(AP)—Brazilian revolutionary quarters announced capture of Victoria, capital of the state of Espirito Santo, by rebel forces in an official communique early today. The victory segregates the important loyal state of Bahia from the central government at Rio de Janeiro. The communique said:

"We are informed from Bello Horizonte that Col. Campos Amaral occupied Victoria, capital of Espirito Santo, Sunday, and that the entire state of Espirito Santo is now in the power of the revolutionists."

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Oct. 19. (AP)—An official government communique today said federal forces had inflicted a severe defeat on rebels operating in the state of Minas Geraes near the town of Cambuquira. Rebel losses were said to be severe.

The communique, adding that complete calm prevailed in Rio de Janeiro, said government forces had pushed forward along the Parana-Sao Paulo frontier, and airplanes had been sent into the interior of the state of Parana to drop bombs on the rebels.

Use Chapel as Jail.

The government has set aside the Sala Capella, or chapel, and another section of the house of correction as quarters for political prisoners arrested because of revolutionary activities. This will segregate them from ordinary prisoners.

José Armando Ribaira de Paula, who was appointed federal interventor in the state of Espirito Santo last week by President Washington Luis, will leave for his new post shortly. He will proceed first to the capital of the state, the city of Victoria.

Rebel sources in Pernambuco yesterday claimed the insurgent movement had spread to the state of Espirito Santo. A rebel army from Pernambuco is advancing upon Bahia and control of Espirito Santo would give them an opportunity to attack from the rear the federals under Gen. Santa Cruz defending Bahia.

Florianopolis Hinders Rebels.

PORTO ALEGRE, Rio Grande do Sul, Brazil, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Brazilian revolutionary government, claiming advances along the long front on the border of the states of Parana and Sao Paulo, hopes soon to remove a federal thorn in its back which has hampered operations in the north.

The thorn is the city of Florianopolis, island capital of the state of Santa Catharina, which the federal government has held since beginning of the revolution three weeks ago with a small force of men and several warships which have been assembled to harass the coast of the rebel states of Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catharina, and Parana.

Osvaldo Aranha, president pro tem of the state of Rio Grande do Sul, announced today the revolutionary government had resolved to mine the channel between Santa Catharina island, on which Florianopolis is situated, and the mainland. The operation, it was expected, would pen federal warships in the harbor and so prevent their bombarding cities and towns along the rebel coastline.

An official announcement today said the 14th regiment of Cazadores, or scouts, sent from Florianopolis across the channel to Bigussu, had revolted and joined in the revolution.

Northern Advance Continues.

In an exchange of telegrams with Gen. Juarez Tavora, leading the revolution in the northern part of Brazil, Gen. Tavora stated he was advancing down the coast from Sergipe toward the port of Bahia, and meeting with little resistance.

Describes Riots in Bahia.

LISBON, Portugal, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Portuguese physician aboard the steamer Weser, commenting here on events in Brazil, said great feeling exists in the rebel states against Americans. The Weser arrived here today from Bahia.

On Oct. 4, the doctor said, a mob attacked street cars operated by an American company in Bahia and smashed their windows, despite Brazilian flags which were flown from the cars. The mob marched then to the company's office, wrecked the furniture, and turned out the American staff.

Taunt American Citizens.

Afterward many of the populace gathered in the streets and paraded, shouting "Down with Americans!" Meanwhile members of the mob taunted Americans and forced them indoors. The police, the physician said, stood by indifferently. In all, 20 trolley cars were burned.

COBDEN, ILL., WOMAN DIES AT 75.

Anna, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. Allie Miller, Cobden, Ill., aged 75, died suddenly while on a visit with her daughter in Arkansas yesterday. She was the mother of Circuit Attorney Herbert Miller of Benton, Ill., and Henry Miller, former postmaster at Cobden.

FEARS HITLER'S ATTACK ON JEWS MAY CAUSE WAR

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—If Adolph Hitler, Fascist leader in Germany, continues his attacks upon Jews he may plunge the world into another war, Rabbi Louis I. Newman told an audience at Carnegie hall today.

"Hitler's anti-Semitic campaign is folly akin to madness," Rabbi Newman declared, "and 'Hitlerism' is a threat to world peace.

Swiftly and surely, The Ford Truck makes its rounds

FOR the business of quick service, where the trips are short and many, the Ford 1½-ton truck is well suited because of its sturdy design and careful construction. The quick starts, the sudden stops of hauling through heavy traffic serve to emphasize the value of the excellent materials built into the truck.

In such businesses and in numerous others, Ford trucks meet the stern requirements of daily operation through every season with faithful, swift and economical performance.

The engine, for example, develops forty horsepower at 2200 revolutions per minute—a medium engine speed. This, by reducing the wear on moving parts, adds to the life of the truck, while the four-speed transmission increases the range of speed and power. More than twenty ball and roller bearings, at important points in the chassis, ease the strain of schedules that demand speedy and reliable transportation.

Bearings and reciprocating parts are held to close limits of accuracy by means of precision gages in the hands of expert workmen, and extra strength is contributed by the use of forty different kinds of steel in the manufacture of the truck.

Ford trucks are so designed that they can be economically adapted to a large number of businesses. It is possible to procure the Ford truck with a wide variety of bodies, in two different chassis lengths, with single or dual wheels, with open or closed cabs, and with high or low rear axle gear ratios. For light delivery purposes, there is a selection of commercial cars available on the Model A chassis. Go to your Ford dealer, and examine these units in detail.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

CHINA TO APPOINT MANCHURIAN AID TO CABINET POST

BY CHARLES DAILEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PEIPING, China, Oct. 19.—Important changes are pending in the Chinese government which will materially strengthen its Manchurian position. The changes include new ministers of finance and foreign affairs, one story being that the vice ministers would be installed at Peiping.

There is a possibility that Dr. C. T. Wang will be succeeded as foreign minister by Gen. Huang Fu. Dr. Wang is keenly interested in the abolition of extraterritoriality and will perhaps be detailed specially to continue such negotiations. C. C. Wu, ambassador to Washington, will be recalled to take a cabinet post. T. V. Soong, finance minister, also encounters military objections to his reform program.

See Manchurian Ascendency.

It is reported that Gen. Huang's reinstatement indicates further Manchuran ascendency, since, when he was removed, he was accused of being too lenient with Japan in the treaty of negotiations, yet still retaining Manchurian friendship.

The Manchurians are making vast efforts to hold the northern control, having sent 120,000 troops inside the great wall, also recruiting eleven regiments in Manchuria replacing those sent as far as the Yellow river.

BRITISH DIPLOMACY

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19.—The British government, in agreeing on Sept. 23, to return to China the balance of the British share of the Boxer indemnity, amounting roughly to $55,000,000, and in specifying that $40,000,000 out of this total must be expended for railway construction and improvements, has probably been responsible for the most important and strategic business-diplomatic deal accomplished by a western nation in the orient for many years.

American railway engineers and heads of railway equipment houses, who have been trying for years to think out a plan whereby China might be induced to build and finance new railway lines, are still rubbing their eyes and trying to figure out just where they stand in respect to China's future railway construction program.

The first nation to make a move toward restoring to China the huge indemnity exacted by the powers as a result of the Boxer uprising of 1900 was the United States. In 1908, during Roosevelt's administration, congress voted to return to China about half of America's share of the indemnity, the American share being only $24,440,000 out of a grand total of about $350,000,000. In 1924 congress voted to hand the remainder back to China, on the understanding China would use the money for education

Although there were thirteen foreign nations, which participated in the Boxer indemnity, America, first to hand its share back to China, was the object of ridicule, but eventually all countries were forced to follow suit.

Acts on U. S. Precedent.

In 1922 the British government announced its intention of remitting its balance, amounting to approximately $55,000,000, and so powerful was the American precedent that Britain specified "the money should be used for such educational or other purposes which are beneficial to the mutual interests of Britain and China."

This naturally led to the general impression that Britain also intended to use the money for educational purposes, but Britain now has a serious unemployment problem. Hence the recent decision to use the major portion of the Boxer indemnity or approximately $40,000,000 for the purpose of completing the Canton-Hankow railway and financing the purchase of new equipment for other railways.

CLAIM CHEKA CUT UP BODY OF LOST CZARIST LEADER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 19.—After running the gamut from notes found in bottles floating at sea to the alleged confession of the murderer himself, the investigation of the kidnaping of the White Russian leader, Gen. Alexander Koutiepoff, in broad daylight here has led to a clue more grisly than anything imagined by Feodor Dostoyefsky.

Inquiry of certain rumors in Russian circles tonight revealed that friends and would-be avengers of the general are convinced that his body was cut up by the murderers and buried in four separate coffins on a little island in the Seine which serves as a dog cemetery.

The tale has spread throughout the Russian colony, and most émigrés seem to consider this hypothesis already proved. A committee of Russian notables plan to appear before the prefecture of police in a few days and demand that all graves in the dog cemetery be opened. It is supposed that after the general died of an overdose of chloroform in a taxicab, the Cheka kidnapers placed his head in a separate box with an animal tombstone over the grave reading "Ci Git Coco" [Here lies Coco].

GAS STATIONS

FILLING stations are good money-makers. Of the hundreds of cars that pass strategic points every day, dozens need gas. Others need oil. Others want greasing and battery service, water, air.

Auto traffic increases constantly. Good roads multiply and busy intersections spring up. Locating a filling and service station at a hot spot can give you increasing income from a small capital investment.

Daily, opportunities to buy gas stations are offered in the Tribune Want Ads. Here, in this great market-place for business, you can find a first-class chance to break into business, to make money for yourself. And gas stations are only one variety of the business opportunities offered. Every day there are delicatessen shops, beauty shops, restaurants, scores of businesses for sale. See them now in the Business Chances column.

ABYSSINIA DONS GALA DRESS FOR CORONATION FETE

Bless $1,000,000 Crowns by 21 Days of Prayer.

ADDIS ABABA, Abyssinia, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Negus Ras Tafari of Abyssinia and his queen, Waizeru Menen, who will be crowned emperor and empress of Abyssinia on Nov. 2, will spend the entire preceding night in solemn meditation and prayer at St. George's cathedral.

Outside, thousands of Abyssinian Christians, subjects of the "king of kings and lion of Judea," will stand during the vigil holding lighted candles, sacred images, and ecclesiastical banners.

Silently and alone, within the dark cloistered walls of the famous church, built by the Emperor Menelik as a thank offering for the victory of the Abyssinians over Italian troops in 1896, the two sovereigns throughout the night will invoke the blessings of heaven upon their reign, their people, and their country.

Will Be Crowned by Bishop.

As dawn breaks through the inner sanctuary on coronation day, their majesties, clad in georgeous robes of crimson velvet embroidered with gold and set with diamonds, will be crowned by the Coptic archbishop, assisted by six other bishops.

The arbishop and the bishops will pronounce a te deum in the "Geez" language, which is the ancient ecclesiastical tongue of Aybssinia.

The crowns today reposed on a high altar in the church, the six bishops praying over them for 21 days before the coronation. The precious stones and gold with which they are set were purchased in Europe and made by master goldsmiths of the country at a cost of $1,000,000.

Will Use Ex-Kaiser's Coach.

The king of kings will ride in state from his palace to the church in an imperial coach formerly used by Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany and purchased by Abyssinia for $6,000. The coach will be drawn by splendid white horses imported from Hungary, driven by the former coachman of the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria.

Addis Ababa, the country's capital, perched at an altitude of two miles above sea level, has undergone a complete refitting within the past month.

Fifty miles of new highways have been built, palaces, churches, stores and dwellings have been hastily remodeled, and triumphal arches, electric light displays, and pennants and banners have been put up.

World's Oldest Dynasty.

Thousands of cases of foodstuffs, wines, furniture, carpets and other material for the emperor and his guests have recently been brought in from Europe.

The government has commandeered all the automobiles, trucks and carriages in the city and taken over the hotels. For three months officials have been working day and night to give the capital a gala dress for the enthronement of the oldest dynasty in the world.

1928 PER CAPITA TAX IN CHICAGO GOES TO $59.31

Levy Higher than in Average Large City.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Chicago taxpayers in 1928 paid a general property tax slightly higher than the average of other large cities and much higher than the average of smaller communities, as shown by comparative financial statistics issued today by the department of commerce.

The per capita tax levy in Chicago in 1928 amounted to $59.31, while the average for 13 cities of over 300,000 population was $59.08, and for 250 cities of over 30,000 population $43.38.

Financial Transactions.

The statistics issued by the department covered the governments of cities proper and also independent school, sanitary, and park districts co-extensive with the cities, as well as a per cent of the financial transactions of the county governments.

Although its tax levy was higher than the average, Chicago stood out, as it had in past years, having the lowest per capita net debt, excepting St. Louis, of any of the cities in its class. This fact is due chiefly to the five per cent of the assessed valuation limit upon its indebtedness.

Per Capita Net Debt.

In 1928 the per capita net debt of Chicago was $93.27, as compared to a $169.60 average for the 13 largest cities. The per capita net debt of New York was $219.51, Philadelphia $215.13, Detroit $169.58, Los Angeles $188.57, Cleveland $144.59, St. Louis $48.76, Baltimore $174.40, Boston $133.95, Pittsburgh $189.45, San Francisco $145.99, Buffalo and Milwaukee, $99.00.

Chicago's assessed valuation in 1928 totaled $1,250,438,000, and its tax levy was $193,419,000. The total revenues of its governmental bodies, including incomes from licenses, special assessments, and miscellaneous sources, amounted to $241,749,000. Although the total receipts fell short of the total governmental cost payments by $59,397,000, the revenue for operation maintenance and interest exceeded the payments by $75,783,000.

ONCE WEALTHY GAMBLER SLAIN WITH 9 BULLETS

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A body partly identified as that of Charles J. Phayer, 44, once wealthy St. Louis and East St. Louis, Ill., gambler, was found in a ditch along the Center Grove road, four miles south of Edwardsville, Ill., tonight. Deputy Coroner B. H. Weber said the body contained nine bullet wounds.

Last March Phayer was arrested in connection with the $200,000 robbery of the Broadmoor Country club, Indianapolis. The charge later was dismissed.

Phayer operated a gambling house and a saloon at Venice, Ill., and at one time was reputed to be worth more than $200,000.

DOOMED SLAYER BLOWS UP SELF WITH OIL LAMP

San Quentin, Cal., Oct. 19.—(AP)—An ingenious attempt to end his life today resulted in probably fatal injuries to William Kogut, 36, convicted murderer awaiting execution.

Kogut wrenched a piece of tubing from his cell bed, filled it with water and placed a lighted kerosene lamp under it.

After plugging the end of the tubing Kogut lay down to await death. In a terrific explosion he suffered a mangled face which physicians said probably would cause his death.

Kogut, a lumberjack, was convicted in Butte county for stabbing to death Mrs. Mayme Guthrie, rooming house proprietor, May 29.

VETERAN LOSES HIS G. A. R. BADGE; HAVE YOU SEEN IT?

G. A. R. BADGE—LOST—WEST SIDE: rew. Mallory. Mansfield 3818.

There is nothing else so highly prized by Civil War veterans as their G. A. R. badges, which to them are more than a length of ribbon and a bit of bronze. To lose this precious insignia is indeed a great catastrophe, even though the memories of the stirring days of their youth are none the less vivid.

Is Post Commander

The above want ad reports the loss of a G. A. R. badge belonging to none other than Commander John A. Mallory of Farragut Post, G. A. R. Despite the fact that Commander Mallory is 86 years old, he has held this coveted post for the past eight years.

Barter Column Is Like Grab Bag at the County Fair

Remember the "grab bag" at the County Fair? How you tingled with excitement and expectancy as you thrust your hand into the depths of the bag to draw forth your prize. You might draw a top, sans string, a bisque doll, a picture book, an iron soldier or a package of sewing needles. Father had to lead us forcibly away before we spent our whole 25 cents allowance probing the mysteries of that black bag.

Here's Grab Bag for Grown-Ups.

Perhaps there is no column in the Tribune Want Ad Section more interesting than Barter and Exchange. In fact, it is a fascinating game. You simply advertise an article for exchange in the Tribune Want Ad Section, specifying what you want, or indicating your willingness to consider "anything of value," and then await the results.

Take Your Choice.

Here is a list of things one advertiser was offered in response to this two line want ad:

A NEW RADIO, ANY MAKE, EXchanged for anything of value Blank 0000.

He was offered pearl handled silverware, diamond bracelets, 12 gauge shotgun, 7 passenger Lincoln sedan (1926), Model "T" Ford, Airedale dog, Bass Lake property, first mortgage gold bonds, auto credit, glassware, pictures, suit of clothes, hotel furniture, piano, and draperies.

The advertiser finally "swapped even" a new Sparton for a 40 acre tract in Wisconsin.

MISS KING

Want to increase your business? Many a small business has become successful through want ads placed in the Tribune Want Ad Business Directory. This classification has grown in size from a few small advertisements to one that occupies several columns, especially on Sunday. No small part of this success is due to the efforts of Miss King, who is one of the adtakers in charge of Business Directory advertising. If you want to expand your business, call Superior 0100, Adtaker, and ask for Miss King.

Mastodontic Food Capacity Perplexes Cook but Wins $3

How would you fill a ten-ton tract? That's the dietetical problem that seems to trouble Miss Cora D. McGurk, 2014 North 7th street, Terre Haute, Ind. Perhaps here pantry shelves should be made to accommodate bales of hay, which, if served with copious quantities of Wabash River "extra pale," will provide an inexpensive filler food.

Here's the answer that won $3 for Miss McGurk:

One doubts one's eyes, yet it's a fact:
"Men wanted with a ten ton tract"
So help me, Hannah, what for lunch,

211,796 JOBS, 1 YEAR'S OFFER TO CHICAGOANS

Tribune Want Ads Aid Both Employers and Job Seekers

In one year, 211,796 Tribune Help Wanted Ads brought good news to Chicago's unemployed. Many of these want ads offered more than one job, swelling the actual total to a much larger figure.

Job Service Daily

This large number of offers of jobs in the Tribune over a period of one year presupposes a daily job service in equal proportion. The average number of want ads offering jobs to male workers for one week, Sunday included, was 2,472. The daily average would then be 353 jobs. For female workers the weekly average was 2,403—daily, 343. Combining these figures for male and female workers gives a daily average of 696 offers of jobs, and a weekly average of 4,875. Many of the ads offered jobs to numbers of persons.

Jobs of All Types

No matter what type of employment you are seeking, the Tribune Want Ad Section can offer you greater opportunities for finding it. The following list of jobs for men was picked at random from a recent issue of the Tribune Want Ad Section: Accountants, traffic clerks, office boys, chauffeurs, attorneys, pressers, electricians, cooks, sales managers, tree surgeons, candy makers, butlers, night watchmen, enamelers, salesmen, janitors, truck drivers, copy writers, retail clerks, pants makers, shipping clerks, credit and collection men, pharmacists, and many more specific jobs in a wide range of industries.

Variety in Jobs for Women

Women workers, too, have a wide range of jobs from which to choose. Among those seen in a recent issue of the Tribune are: Cashiers, demonstrators, milliners, nurses, beauty operators, typists, grocery store clerks, crochet beaders, dress makers, assistant buyers, copy writers [fashions], foreladies, lampshade makers, embossers, maids, cooks, clothing designers, masseuses, mother's helpers, waitresses, artists, and other jobs in professional, skilled and unskilled help so numerous that space will not permit a full recounting.

Employers Benefited, Also

Tribune Want Ads are just as helpful to the employer. By using them he can be sure that he has canvassed the entire labor market. By using keyed want ads, he can pre-determine and check the qualifications of each applicant, something he must do sooner or later, and save much of the time given to interviewing. When an occasion demands employment of labor in large units an openly addressed want ad in the Tribune can bring immediate, satisfactory response. Consequently, for employer and job-seeker alike, the Tribune Want Ad Section is the best place to exchange salaries for services, and services for salaries.

UNPAID TAX SETS RECORD; HIGHER BILLS PREDICTED

Delinquency Total Is Put at $30,000,000.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Tax delinquencies in Cook county now total more than ever before in the county's history. Approximately $52,000,000 in taxes, within Chicago, were unpaid when the sale of property for taxes started in the middle of September. Many property owners have paid since then, but still the delinquency runs into a high figures, probably between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000.

Some property owners have failed to pay because they have not the cash. Others believe their bills are too high, have paid some on account and have gone to the County court to resist payment on the remainder. One attorney has more than 7,000 clients in Beverly Hills and other communities in the township of Calumet who have appealed to the court to cancel part of their tax bills.

Douglas Sutherland, secretary of the Civic federation, and Simeon E. Leland of the University of Chicago have estimated that the next tax bills will be 20 per cent higher than the last ones. If this estimate proves correct, then Chicago's state and local tax bill next April will be increased about $37,000,000.

The total county tax bill, payable last July 10, was $219,815,828. Now it is estimated that $37,000,000 will be added next April 1 to the $219,815,828 assessed last July, which means that the total of the April tax bills will be in the neighborhood of $256,000,000.

In view of this prospect, the failure of many property owners to pay their July tax bills supplies an opportunity to public officials to devote some thought to curbing expenses, in the opinion of some taxpayers.

July Tax Bills Surveyed.

It also makes interesting the July tax bills, of which the larger items may be summarized as follows:

Government.	Taxes levied.
City	$ 63,881,150.46
Schools	55,850,379.19
County	19,964,425.29
Sanitary district	19,448,392.46
State	13,016,685.17
South park	9,768,136.31
West park	4,292,707.03
Lincoln park	2,807,382.24
Total	$189,029,253.20

These governments which asked $189,029,258 in taxes last July, levied $204,762,971 in taxes the year before the reassessment. Now it is of that $189,029,258 tax bill that property owners are complaining to the extent of not paying their taxes.

Loss and Cost of Collection.

The July taxes asked by the city and the city school system total $119,731,529. Of this sum there has been collected and paid to the city and the schools $74,124,257, which leaves a difference of $45,607,272, or a trifle more than 38 per cent.

Years ago the cost and loss of collection was reckoned at 5 per cent, but in recent years the estimate has been 10 per cent. Assuming that is the present normal percentage of cost and loss in collection, then of the tax levy of $119,731,529, the city and schools could reasonably expect 10 per cent, or $107,758,376.

Of that sum, only $74,124,256 has been collected and paid over to the city and schools. That leaves a deficiency above normal of $33,634,120 in taxes, or about 31 per cent.

DECREASE OF 35% IN ALCOHOLISM DEATHSRECORDED

Deaths from alcoholism in Illinois decreased 35 per cent in 1929, as compared with 1928, according to a report of the bureau of census to the National W. C. T. U. In 1928 there were 368 deaths from alcoholism; in 1929 the figure fell to 240, the largest percentage of decrease in the entire country. For the entire United States there is a decrease, according to the report, of from 4.627 in 1928 to 4,339 in 1929.

Previous reports, according to the national W. C. T. U. at Evanston, show that alcoholism as a cause of death has been reduced by almost half since prohibition. The average alcoholism death rate of the saloon era from 1910 to the closing of the saloons was 5.2 per hundred thousand, according to their report; since prohibition the average alcoholism death rate has been 2.8 per 100,000.

Mrs. Miller in Arizona on Flight East for Record

Winslow, Ariz., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Mrs. Keith Miller, British flyer, completed the first leg of her transcontinental flight in pursuit of a woman's west-east record at 6:29 o'clock here tonight, but in bringing the plane into the airport she broke a wheel and damaged the tail skid of her plane. Mrs. Miller was not injured and mechanics estimated the damage could be repaired in 20 hours. The flyer took off from Los Angeles at 1:10 p. m. and had expected to fly to Indianapolis tomorrow and complete her flight at Valley Stream, N. Y., Tuesday. The record she hopes to break was established yesterday by Laura Ingalls, diminutive St. Louis flyer, who landed in New York after spending 25 hours 35 minutes in the air on her jaunt from Los Angeles.

Canadian Wolf

EVERYTHING about these coats is suggestive of Paris—except their price. For they are so beautifully made and so deftly handled that they seem like coats of a very much higher price.

For instance, note some of their fine points: the silhouette, so well adapted and cut that belts need only be worn if desired; the important furs, both sleek and soft, manipulated as subtly as fabrics; contrast, in silhouette, in colors, in furs; godets which give ample fullness.

Since coats are the basis of every winter wardrobe, around which it is built, they must be selected carefully. With infinite care we have collected this group of the most exclusive winter coat fashions. Select from it now, with assurance.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Northwestern and Notre Dame stepped to the front last Saturday with surprises for the football fans. And in each game it was not the victory itself but the size of the score which roused attention.

The Irish trounced Carnegie Tech, 21 to 6, and did it easily, so easily, in fact, that the next time Knute Rockne cries wolf there'll be none to believe. Not that many of the thousands who are watching Notre Dame's progress did believe when Rockne predicted defeat by at least three touchdowns, but it was generally accepted the game would be closely fought, with victory hinging on a single score.

One Touchdown Is Gift.

Instead Notre Dame had command after the first quarter. The second touchdown was a gift because of a Tech fumble on the three yard line, but to offset that Notre Dame fumbled away a fourth counter in the final period after one of the longest drives of the afternoon.

Rockne may be credited with a sincere fear of Tech. At least, he started his first team lineup, abandoning the shock troop system for the first time in many years. And he pointed his men for the game, the only time he has sought to arouse them during the campaign. Rockne's danger now is that the undefeated Pittsburgh team, which Saturday triumphed over Syracuse, 14 to 0, will catch his men on the rebound next Saturday.

Northwestern's misfortunes, from ineligibility to smallpox, contributed to the belief that Illinois might whip the Wildcats. More, Bob Zuppke has produced sophomore teams in the past which defied the dopesters, so naturally the public was inclined to discountenance his pessimistic remarks.

Wildcats Prove Greatness.

But Northwestern's overwhelming victory, 32 to 0, not only proved Zuppke's truthfulness when he called his eleven light and inexperienced, but it stamped the Wildcats as a great team.

Northwestern has team power. Capt. Bruder is not the only ball carrier, for Ohio and Illinois have been beaten without his services. Rentner, Moore and Hanley, behind a fast, heavy line, continued to carry Northwestern toward a conference championship.

Michigan's 13 to 0 victory over Ohio State was a distinct surprise to the Buckeyes and in a measure to the followers of the Maize and Blue, for the one point triumph over Purdue seemingly had not established their confidence.

Must Count Wolverines.

Michigan certainly must be counted in the conference race. Illinois, Minnesota, and Chicago remain on the Wolverine schedule and in each battle Michigan will be top heavy favorite.

Michigan's strength lies in a rugged line defense and an excellent defense against passes. Coupled with these assets is an intelligent offense centering around Harry Newman's passing and running.

Purdue's 20 to 0 triumph over Iowa was the expected measure of comparison for the teams, while Minnesota's victory over Indiana also was anticipated. The Gopher defense again kept its goal line inviolate as in the Stanford game and the offense functioned for one sprint of 32 yards to the winning touchdown.

While Wisconsin's 27 to 0 defeat of Pennsylvania at Camp Randall was surprising, because of the score, yet the Badgers must prove their mettle in later games. Pennsylvania had won from second rate opponents before meeting Wisconsin, so it is possible was overrated. Coach Lud Wray also started Pennsylvania's second team, which made it a bit easier for Sammy Behr to return a punt for the opening touchdown. That break may have been the turning point in the game, for certainly Wisconsin took advantage of Penn's resulting demoralization. The Badgers meet Purdue, Ohio State, Northwestern, and Minnesota.

Florida took the measure of Chicago, 19 to 0, and unless the Maroons can beat Mississippi Saturday it is likely they will not win a game remaining on their schedule.

Kansas, Nebraska Win.

Michigan State disposed of Colgate, 14 to 7, for the first victory in the series with their eastern rival, while New York university evened the intersectional score by romping over Missouri, 38 to 0. It was the Tigers' third straight whipping.

Kansas emerged with a victory over Kansas Aggies in the annual battle for Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The Green Bay Packers, 1929 professional champions, today won their fifth game of the 1930 season, from the Minneapolis Red Jackets, by a score of 13 to 0.

Much ill feeling developed in today's battle at Nicollette park and it took hard work by the officials to keep rival players from engaging in not one but many fist fights.

There was more hard football played between these two teams than has been seen in a pro game here in many years. The two meet again next Sunday at Green Bay.

Packers Score Early.

The Packers had little difficulty winning, although they ran into stiffer competition than expected. Again it was Green Bay's deceptive aerial game that led to two touchdowns. The Packers were away to the jump in the first quarter, when the visitors carried the ball to the 34 yard line after a poor Minneapolis kickoff. A pass, Lewellen to Nash, was completed on the six yard line. Then Lewellen found a hole at left tackle and scored. Dunn kicked the goal.

It was not until the fourth quarter that Green Bay was able to clinch the game. Again it was a beautiful pass, Dunn to McCrary, that put the ball on the Red Jackets' two yard line. In one play Bo Molenda dived over the line for the score.

Packer Touchdown Recalled.

The Packers had several other chances to score. In fact they did score on a pass to Nash, but Green Bay was offside and the play was called back. Penalties also cut off another good chance for the visitors to score.

Led by Herb Joesting, the Red Jackets made several long marches, but once in scoring distance, the Green Bay defense stiffened and averted scoring. Lewellen was Green Bay's most consistent ground gainer. His kicking, too, was an important factor. Michaelske was the Packers' star in the line, although Nash was exceptional on the defense.

Joesting on the offense and Barrager on the defense were Minneapolis' outstanding players.

GIANTS, 53; FRANKFORD, 0.

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Mixing a sensational overheard attack with a powerful ground game the New York Giants rode rough shod over the Frankford Yellow Jackets to get a 53 to 0 decision in a National Football league game today.

Fifteen thousand shivering spectators saw the game. For one period only, the first, the invaders managed to hold the Giants' second string backs scoreless. A pass, Moran to Wilson, netted the New Yorkers their first touchdown a minute after the second session opened and from there on the Yellow Jackets didn't have a chance.

Soccer Player Killed by Kick on Head During Game

TRIFLE WITH A BEAR TOO LONG AND THINGS HAPPEN

When the Bears trotted onto the field at Comiskey park yesterday they still had fresh in their minds the 40 to 6 trimming the Cardinals gave them last year. The north siders charged into the battle with a determination that swept the Cardinals off their feet, and here is one of the instances in which the south siders were completely bowled over. Red Grange is carrying the ball for the Bears' first touchdown, while his teammates are clearing the way by their hard blocking. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Fete Cadets Now: Their Path to Glory Leads But to Barracks

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 19.—Nowhere else in football are the civilities so elaborately observed as in Boston when the Army is playing Harvard and while some of the hat lifting and saluting that goes on up there on Harvard-Army day may be put down as mere ceremonial flub-dub of a European type, it seems better to overdo such things a little than underdo them.

They were underdone when the Army was in the habit of playing Notre Dame in New York and hard feelings were engendered between the West Point football officers and the city administration, which always had time, money, and man power to squander on celebrated parties, some of them quite dubious, who came here from Europe.

Maybe They Should Use Boats.

Perhaps it has been a mistake of the West Point traffic manager, that he brings the corps of cadets down from the Point by rail instead of shipping them out beyond Sandy Hook on barges so they might come up the harbor where the receptions start.

At any rate, Boston and the state of Massachusetts always are most polite to the West Point people. They arrange a review so that the cadets may strut their formations before the haut monde and the bon ton of New England.

The governor of the state always gives the corps some little present, from him to them, with assurances of profound respect, and the mayor of the town, by rummaging through the museums and municipal attics, generally contrives to come up with some historical bromide, even though he may be wondering, at the moment, what the devil he is going to do with it once he gets it back to the reservation.

Gave Gold Spearheads.

Last year, the governor's present was a set of gold spearheads for the company guidons of the corps, and of course they were very nice to have, but this year the best he could think of was a plaque adorned with the shields of the corps, Harvard and the state. Now if there is one thing that West Point could manage to stagger along without better than any other thing, it is another plaque to be squeezed in between the plaques on the walls of the academy buildings, but the general, diplomat that he is, made a little counterspeech indicating that the governor must have been tipped off, because, next to a swifter scheme of promotion and pay, the U. S. Military academy most desired a plaque.

Thereupon the plaque was turned over to the cadet quartermaster along with a glorified bung starter, officially described as a gavel, carved from one of the original newel posts in Fanueil hall, presented on behalf of the mayor with the compliments of the municipality.

Gavel May Be Handy.

They have no use for gavels at the military academy where the command "attention" always suffices, but I suppose they will put this gavel away, under glass, with a typewritten and fly blown description card leaning against it until such time as the beer ration is restored, when it might be found useful in starting bungs.

This kind of politeness could be pretty thoroughly talked down by any one inclined to talk it down, but I am ambidextrous that way and I think I could talk it up on the ground that unless a town wants to go in for rude and fundamental simplicity in all things, it isn't fair to turn out the fire boats and strew the streets with ticker tape for queens of little monarchies in the Balkans in May and slight the cadet corps of the United States Military academy in November.

Last year, it may be recalled, Maj. Phil. Fleming, the graduate manager of athletics at the academy, thought of quitting New York altogether as a football site on the ground that the children along their line of march to the Yankee stadium taunted the cadets and the police commissioner of the moment, who was a Mr. Whalen, if I remember the name, was a little bit hesitant about giving the football team an escort of motorcycle policemen, the implication being that Tammany Hall hadn't received enough tickets. They were hard to get.

Police Escort Overdone.

The fact of the matter was that the police escort had been overdone in town, with all kinds of pennyante dignitaries bowling past the traffic lights, and it seemed to me that the West Point team might have started a little earlier, they being accustomed to rising at 5:15, thus obviating the need of an escort.

Still, if Paul Whiteman's press agent could command outriders to usher him through the traffic one time on his return from a routine and not too triumphant visit to England, the cadet football team might have been granted the same courtesy without imposing too much on precedent and the finest.

My thought in watching the cadets march upon the common or a football field is a rather lugubrious reflection that the boys, so hopeful and ambitious now and envied of all beholders, will spend a long time waiting for their captaincy bars once they have been graduated from the academy, most of them in posts where the liquor is poor, the social life limited and

Wins Seven Mile Sagebrush Golf Meet with a 96

Rawlins, Wyo., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A sagebrush golf tournament was held today, and Lester Gopp of Parco won the first annual marathon with a low score of 96 in a seven mile hit and walk contest from Parco to Rawlins.

The winner took seven hours and 45 minutes to complete his play. He drove off from the first tee of the Parco club and holed out in a pigmy course here.

Three women started, but only one, Mrs. W. A. Urban of Parco, finished. Her score was 244. Forty-four of the 49 entrants completed the play.

BIG TEN FACULTY HEADS WILL VOTE ON CHARITY GAME

Faculty representatives of every school in the western conference will vote this week to decide whether the Notre Dame-Northwestern football game, scheduled for Nov. 22 at Dyche stadium, Evanston, shall be transferred to Soldiers' field.

Prof. O. F. Long, Northwestern's representative on the Big Ten committee, announced last night that he had mailed requests for approval of the transfer to all of the committee members last Friday. No time limit for the vote was fixed but it is expected the vote will be completed before the end of the week.

Game for Charity.

The transfer was proposed in order to raise funds for charity. Dyche stadium seats less than 50,000 spectators, while Soldiers' field will accommodate 110,000. The difference in gate receipts will be turned over to charity if the change in sites is approved.

The formal vote of the conference faculty representatives is the only step remaining before the transfer becomes a realty. The athletic committee of Northwestern university gave its approval last Thursday, and Notre Dame acquiesced as soon as the plan was suggested.

Seven affirmative votes are necessary for Big Ten approval of the transfer. Inasmuch as Northwestern already has cast a favorable vote, only six others will be required.

Others Have Approved.

Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of the conference, and Big Ten athletic directors have approved the charity game, but they have no part in the faculty vote.

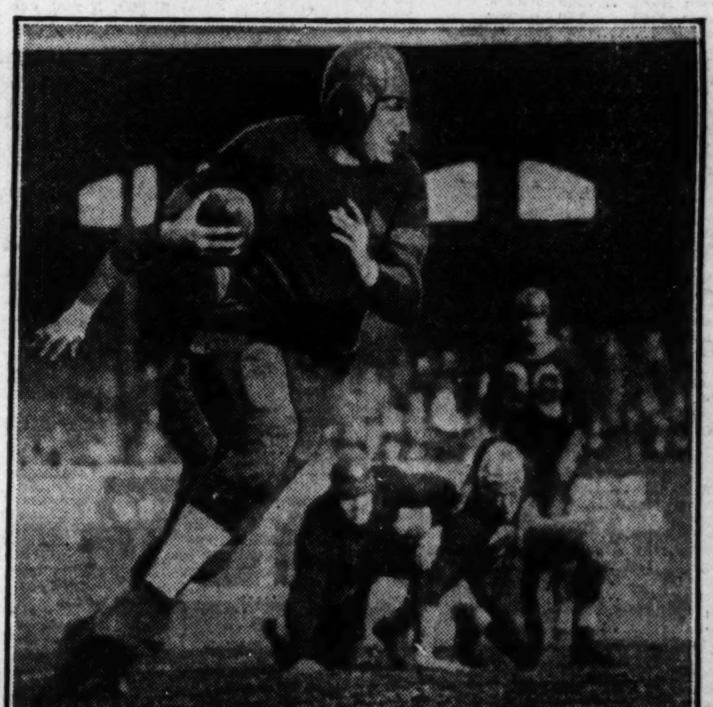
The performance of the Notre Dame and Northwestern teams last Saturday indicates that they are two of the outstanding elevens in the country. Notre Dame turned back Carnegie Tech, 21 to 6, while Northwestern defeated Illinois, 32 to 0. If the teams continue in their present stride, sectional honors may hang in the balance when they meet.

SUBSIDIES FOR ATHLETES GIVE BIG SIX CONCERN

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Faculty representatives of Big Six conference members will meet at the University of Missouri here Friday and Saturday to discuss subsidization of athletes at the member institutions, it was announced today.

The meeting, it was said, will take up certain inequalities of procedure between member institutions, as developed by answers to questionnaires sent out last spring, with an effort to standardize practices of the six schools.

Announcement of the meeting included no definite statement of matters to be discussed, and Missouri athletic officials declined to say whether charges had been brought against any school or athlete



Red Grange gave the Bears enough points in the first half to insure victory over the Cardinals. Emulating his dashes of college days, he sweeps through the opposition for his second touchdown. The half ended 12 to 0, and thereupon Walter Holmer took charge of the scoring.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.
Green Bay, 13; Minneapolis, 0.
Brooklyn, 14; Newark, 0.
Providence, 7; Stapleton, 6.
Bears, 32; Cardinals, 6.

Last Thanksgiving day the Cardinals wound up the city professional football series by walloping their north side foes, 40 to 6. But yesterday the Bears began a new page in the eleven year old title campaign by romping to a 32 to 6 victory at Comiskey park.

One year ago Ernie Nevers scored 40 points for the Cardinals—six touchdowns and four placements. Yesterday Nevers was granted six points by the hard charging Bears. Meanwhile Red Grange twice raced around the left side of the Card line for touchdowns, and Walt Holmer went the famous red head one better in the second half, scoring three times.

Hard Schedule Slows Cards.

Seven thousand watched the game, and while the chill breeze did not bother the players, many of the spectators left the concrete stands before the contest ended. The Cardinals apparently were demoralized by injuries and the hard schedule of their recent eastern trip.

Only on one occasion did Nevers and his crew get going with that off-tackle smashing which was so effective last season. This was in the third period, when a concerted rush down the field and a Bear penalty for interfering with the receiver of a forward pass placed the ball on the one yard line, from where Nevers crashed over. He was bothered by a knee injury and did not enter the contest until the Bears were leading, 12 to 0.

The Bears wasted no time in launching their scoring spree. Early in the first period Red Grange circled the Cards' left end and then reversed his field to cover 38 yards to the goal line. Grange's mates furnished excellent blocking for the run, but he evaded the last two tacklers much in the manner of five years ago when he ran for Illinois. Lintzenich missed the kick for the seventh point.

Grange Scores Again.

An intercepted pass a few minutes later gave the Bears the ball on the Cards' 43 yard line. Grange, Nagurski, Lintzenich, and then Grange again made it first down 15 yards from the goal. Grange shot through tackle and sprinted this distance for his second marker. Lintzenich attempted to pass for the extra point but threw wildly.

Whatever chance the Cardinals had was lost early in the third quarter on a series of misplays which ended when Holmer intercepted a pass to cross the goal. Randolph, at center, passed poorly for a fourth down kick, and the Bears took the ball. However, the Cards staved off the threat and took the ball on downs at their four yard line.

Makes Score 19 to 0.

Again Randolph passed erratically to Belden, who unable to kick standing behind his own goal line, attempted to run with the ball. Cornered, he then forward passed directly into Holmer's hands and he trotted across the line. Jole Sternaman drop kicked successfully and the score board read: Bears, 19; Cardinals, 0.

The Cardinals' touchdown march, which the Bears all but stopped, followed. A fourth down pass, Nevers to Belden over the goal line was given to the Cards on the one yard line

BY FRENCH LANE.

The last two weeks of Chicago's long racing season which get under way at Hawthorne this afternoon are going to be mighty big weeks in the life of Jockey Henry Roy Riley.

For during this coming fortnight young Mr. Riley will likely win or lose the jockey championship of the American turf. And while he is striving in Chicago for the honors, his greatest rival, Kenneth Russell, a Harry Payne Whitney jockey, will be riding just as desperately at Latonia.

Riley Takes Lead.

Riley and Russell have been nip and tuck in the jockey race for the last three months. One and two winning mounts often has been the margin separating them, but during a great part of the time Russell has usually been in first place. But a winning streak which Riley enjoyed at Hawthorne last week put him temporarily on top and as he will be finding more riding opportunities at Hawthorne than Russell will at Latonia his chances of clinging to the lead appear unusually bright.

With the race so close it is likely Riley will go to Latonia or Maryland at the end of the Hawthorne season and remain in action at least as long as Russell does. If the title race continues to be a neck and neck affair both boys could go to Jefferson Park and fill many engagements during the month of December. But most of their followers believe that one or the other will take such a commanding lead during the next two weeks that the scrap for first place will be as good as over.

Will Mean More to Riley.

The championship will mean much more to Riley than it does to Russell. The latter is under a long term contract to the Whitney stable. He rides the western division horses which are trained by Mose Goldblatt. But Riley is only a youngster and his contract is being eagerly sought by many prominent owners and it will be sold before the beginning of next year's racing at a high figure.

While the riding crown will go to either Riley or Russell, there is another lad well down on the list who might have been far out in front if he had started riding a little earlier in the year. This youngster is Eugene James, who, for the last three months has brought home many more winners than either Riley or Russell. But James did not ride until during the July racing and by that time Riley and Russell each had about seventy-five winning mounts to his credit.

Two Year Olds Clash Today.

Two year olds clash in the best race on Hawthorne's program today. It is the third event, and is the only allowance affair on the program. The youngsters will be asked to go a mile and seventy yards. While the other numbers all carry the claiming clause, they have attracted the best grade of platers here and there is a strong possibility the program will be run off over a fast track.

Hunters Urged to Help U. S. in Duck Hunt

BY BOB BECKER.

Sportsmen who plan on duck hunting this fall are urged to coöperate with the bureau of biological survey at Washington, D. C., in watching for banded ducks in their bags of waterfowl. There are thousands of ducks and geese now flying around with identification bands on their legs.

In fact, bird banding coöperators of the federal department have in the advancement of studies of our game birds banded ducks and geese at more than 50 different stations throughout North America. These points where waterfowl have been trapped and tagged range from the arctic regions south to the gulf coast, Louisiana especially, and from Maine to the west coast.

In order to assemble further information on the migratory habits of the waterfowl the biological survey wants a report on every banded waterfowl that is killed. Sportsmen everywhere are urged to help. In case you kill one of these birds you are asked by the survey to do this: write down the number printed on the tiny aluminum band, including the series designation, such as A, B, or C, give the date on which the bird was killed and the locality where it was obtained. Then mail this information to the biological survey, department of agriculture, Washington, D. C.

In return the federal government will tell you where and when the bird was banded, and send some interesting information on the application of the banding system to bird study.

Not only are thousands of waterfowl wearing bands, but also many song birds. More than 1,700 amateur ornithologists maintain traps to catch birds, which are banded and then released after proper records are made in a book. The biological survey keeps the records for all of these helpers, notifying them when any of their banded birds have been found.

There are several of these banding stations in and close to Chicago. One is located right in the heart of the south side of the city. Another, maintained by W. I. Lyon, president of the Inland Bird Banding association at Waukegan, ranks as one of the pioneer banding stations in the central states.

BRICKIES WHIP JUGO-SLAVS, 5-0, IN SOCCER GAME

The Brickies started scoring early in the first period, when Coutts and Monroe broke through the Slavs' defense. The feature of the game was the scoring of the Brickies' forward line, which has failed to show team work early this season.

monotonous and glory is not. The ranks seem the same every year, for the uniform changes very gradually, but a class goes out to the army every spring and the cadet corps which appears unchanging is completely renewed every four years, with a few exceptions.

One Returns for Game.

One such young man who went out eleven years ago reappeared in Boston Friday night, a first lieutenant of infantry but hopeful of receiving his captaincy in three more years, and I doubt that life in the army had yielded him many minutes of that pomp which is one of the lures for young cadets since June week, 1919. It struck me that anything any governor or mayor can do to kid the cadets along and make them feel enviable is little enough to do for them, considering that they will soon be glorified and sent out to stand by for years as officers of the regular army.

It takes little to make them feel good. Give them a crowd to ooh and ah at them as they swing by, give them some trinket carved from the original wood of Peter Stuyvesant's leg or a few kind words beginning, "As a token of the respect of the citizens of the great state of so-and-so," and they are fortified for long months of hard routine at the academy.

Boston Generous with It.

Boston does it generously. Of course, the boys are being strung along, because Boston and Massachusetts, in a past war of some importance, were not particularly distinguished by the excellence of the shoes or uniforms which they sent down to the troops at contract prices and the people who bought blockade cotton, to the detriment of the union cause and the aggrandizement of certain basic New England fortunes of today, certainly were not Illinois farmers.

But soldiers always are paid off in medals of bronze or pewter, little strips of ribbon and cheers for the sustenance of their vanity. A silver plaque costs a state, say $100, and the governor, on a holiday Saturday afternoon, in the fall, probably has nothing better to do than to assure the cadets that his state holds them dear as the guardians of the nation. It seems positively churlish to do less than this for the young men of the United States Military academy.

French Runner Breaks One Kilometer Record

PARIS, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Jule Ladoumegue, French middle distance runner, today bettered the world's record for the one kilometer run, covering the distance in 2 minutes 23 3-5 seconds. The old record for 1,000 meters was 2:25 4-5 held by Otto Peltzer of Germany. This was the second world's record broken by Ladoumegue in the last two weeks and both of them were lifted by the Frenchman from Peltzer. On Oct. 5 Ladoumegue ran 1,500 meters in 3:49 1-5 to break Peltzer's mark of 3:51.

THROAT DOCTORS pick OLD GOLD in Public Test of 4 Leading Cigarettes

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Himself

"Believe it or not . . . Here's real authority. Registered physicians, specializing in the care of the nose and throat! Doctors who see every day the ill-effects of cigarettes that are too harsh, too raw, too irritating to delicate membranes.

"I picked the Doctors as taste-testers because they naturally judge cigarettes for their throat-ease.

"This was to be a taste-test . . . but I knew every doctor would instinctively rate the four cigarettes on their smoothness and throat-comfort as well as their flavor.

"Believe it or not . . . these registered physicians, without knowing what brand they were choosing, picked OLD GOLD by the decisive ratio of 2 to 1.

"I'm getting used to amazing victories for OLD GOLD . . . but I'll admit this one would be hard to believe if I hadn't personally counted the votes. A Certified Public Accountant also audited the score."

"I certify that an audit of the complete and final results of the Ripley taste-test conducted with Throat Specialists gave OLD GOLD 50%, Brand X 25%; Brand Y 0% and Brand Z 25%." Signed, J. S. M. Goodloe, Certified Public Accountant. Left—Rip Checking Score.

The Bears received and on the second play Holmer raced 48 yards to the Cards' 32 yard line. A pass, Holmer to Drury, made first down 11 yards from the goal as the quarter ended. Holmer's second smash at the line brought another score and again Sternaman added the point. That made the score: Bears, 26; Cards, 6.

Trafton's interception of one of Never's passes and his subsequent 25 yard run gave the Bears their last scoring opportunity 20 yards from the goal line. Walquist passed to Drury, who was stopped on the Cards' eight yard line. On fourth down Holmer went off tackle for the final three yards. Sternaman's kick was short.

PROVIDENCE WINS, 7-6.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Providence defeated Stapleton, 7 to 6, today in a National Professional Football league game. Latone scored the Providence touchdown in the first quarter. Stapleton netted a touchdown in the final period on a 37 yard forward pass from Wyckoff to Ken Strong, but Strong's placement for the extra point was short.

CARBONDALE WINS, 54-0.

Carbondale, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—The Carbondale High school football team smothered Mount Vernon High here last night 54 to 0. Reeves made three touchdown.

N. U. EXPECTS TO USE BRUDER IN GOPHER BATTLE

Hanley Gives Regulars Two Days' Vacation.

Hank Bruder, captain of the Northwestern university football team who was sent to the Chicago Isolation hospital with smallpox on Oct. 11, is expected to be released by the end of this week, and to play in the Wildcats' back field at Minnesota Nov. 1.

A two day layoff from practice has been granted Northwestern's varsity eleven by Coach Dick Hanley in reward for the Wildcats' 32 to 0 victory over Illinois Saturday. Only the freshmen will work out at Dyche stadium today, while 12 of the regulars have been excused until Wednesday. The squad got through the Illinois clash without any additional injuries.

Coach Hanley plans to start preparations for the Minnesota game Wednesday. The clash with Centre at Evanston Saturday is not expected to provide much cause for concern.

Northwestern scouts who have watched Minnesota this fall are of the opinion that Coach Fritz Crisler has been keeping his Gophers under wraps, awaiting the invasion of the Purple on Nov. 1.

Hanley is still wondering when his running attack is going to get started. He feels that the Wildcats cannot hope to continue winning games on forward passes alone. In the two conference games Northwestern has completed six out of ten passes, five of them going for touchdowns. Two other touchdowns have been made as a result of intercepting passes.

Pug Rentner, the Joliet sophomore, has been on the throwing end of this deadly passing attack while Frank Baker and Lee Hanley have done the receiving.

WOLVES DRILL FOR ILLINI.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Michigan's football squad will settle down to work tomorrow to prepare for the game which is always regarded as the highlight of the Wolverine schedule, the contest with Illinois, to be played here next Saturday.

With the exception of Samuels, the entire squad came through the Saturday battle with Ohio State minus injuries—and when it trots out for a light drill tomorrow afternoon, will be reinforced by Howard Auer and Norman Daniels, both of whom were out of the Saturday game. Samuels had a slight hand injury before going into the Ohio State game, and had to be taken out.

ZUPPKE PRAISES PURPLE.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Bob Zuppke had no harsh words for any player today as he studied over plans to strengthen the Illini for their game at Michigan on Saturday.

"It was a tough one to take, of course," Zuppke said. "Northwestern had a fine, well coached team. Our men were outclassed in sheer physical strength and showed the faults characteristic of green teams. The line did fairly well on defense, but the secondary defense was outrun by the Wildcats."

No Illinois team under Zuppke ever took a like beating. In 1922 Michigan won, 24 to 0, and in 1913 Chicago defeated the Illini, 28 to 7.

YUNEVICH INJURED.

Lafayette, Ind. Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Purdue's football squad returned from Iowa City today with Alex Yunevich, veteran full back, nursing a dislocated shoulder. Yunevich started the second half of the Iowa game and carried the ball only once before he was injured.

With Wisconsin the homecoming opponent here Saturday, Kizer is hopeful that his list of convalescents will dwindle during the coming week. The Boilermakers were not forced to use either Jack White, veteran quarter back, or George Van Bibber, tackle, against Iowa, and the rest is expected to make it possible for the two veterans to work against the Badgers. Ed Moon and Richard Bateman, ends, who were left at home because of ankle injuries, are also expected to be in shape for the Badgers.

ONE BADGER CASUALTY.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Wisconsin will start work for Purdue tomorrow. The only casualty of the Pennsylvania game was a slight muscle bruise in the leg suffered by Joe Linfor, sophomore half back. It will keep him out of uniform until Wednesday.

Purple, Irish Elevens Prove Their Class

the state chadpionship, while Nebraska recovered from its defeat a week ago by nosing out Iowa State, 14 to 12.

The east also had its share of surprises over the week-end. Chief of these was Yale's 21 to 0 victory over Brown. A week ago Yale lost to Georgia and Brown defeated Princeton. Which proves probably that Princeton is not as strong as Yale and Georgia, for the big red eleven from Cornell whipped Princeton Saturday, 12 to 7. And, too, Brown may have lost the fine edge which characterized its play a week ago.

Army broke Harvard's list of victories by a one touchdown triumph, 6 to 0. Neither had been given an edge in advance, but the result stamps Army as a strong defensive eleven, equal, if not superior, to the 1929 team.

Alabama Beats Tennessee.

Alabama disposed of its leading southern rival, Tennessee, 18 to 6. It was Tennessee's first defeat since 1926, although Kentucky tied Tennessee in 1929. Southern Methodist and Baylor provided the thrills in the southwestern section with a 14 to 14 tie.

The Oregon-Washington game was the premier attraction Saturday on the Pacific coast. Dr. Clarence Spears, who last year coached Minnesota, sent his Oregon squad through to a 7 to 0 victory over the Huskies, now directed by Jimmy Phelan, who last season coached the conference champions, Purdue. The northwest had waited for this game ever since the two former Big Ten coaches had been secured. A record crowd of more than 35,000 saw the game.

Washington State, victor over California and Southern California, continued its undefeated progress with a triumph over Gonzaga, 24 to 0. Oregon State lost to Stanford, 13 to 7.

Carlos Ames Nine Beats Elmhurst Launders, 5 to 0

Matt Ruppert pitched the Carlos Ames indoor baseball team to its third straight victory yesterday when he shut out the Elmhurst Launders, 5 to 0, at Welles park gymnasium.

Rockne Says Victory Was Big Surprise

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—With one of its hardest obstacles, Carnegie Tech, passed successfully, Notre Dame's football players are turning attention this week to next Saturday's game, the first on the road, at Pittsburgh.

The decisiveness of yesterday's 21 to 6 victory over the Tartans was a surprise to every one, including Coach Rockne himself.

"I don't know what got into the team," Rockne said today. "They must have been inspired, because they never played before as they did yesterday. There was great improvement in every department of the game and it would seem that the team found itself, at least for this game. I can't explain it."

Pitt won, 14 to 0, from Syracuse yesterday, and Rockne, although he made no such dire predictions as he did for Carnegie Tech, said that he is worried about next Saturday's battle. He fears that his team rose to the heights for this one game and that it may slump. He also pointed out that Jock Sutherland has his team primed for this battle and that there still is considerable feeling in Pittsburgh concerning last year's national championship race, when partisans of both Notre Dame and Pitt were claiming the title for their teams before Pitt lost to Southern California in its final game.

All of the Notre Dame players came through yesterday's game in good physical condition. Larry Mullins, full back, and Frank Leahy, left tackle, are expected to rejoin the team this week. There will be no practice for the varsity tomorrow, but intensive work will start Tuesday.

Iowa, Indiana Drivers Win Texas Auto Races

Waco, Tex., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Two out of state drivers won three out of seven automobile races at the closing of the Texas Cotton Palace today. Gus Schrader of Cedar Rapids, Ia., won the championship race in which Arch Powell of Indianapolis was second in 30:2½ and annexed the Continental free for all race of nine laps in 4:54 1-5.

U. of Iowa Negro Golf Star Wins Tournament

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—George Roddy of Keokuk, Negro star of the University of Iowa golf team, won the eastern Iowa amateur golf championship over the University of Iowa course this afternoon with a score of 158. R. V. Harmon of Waterloo was second with 160; Calvin Kay of Iowa City, third.

Rosenbloom Risks Title Wednesday; Tops Week's Card

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbaum, champion of the light heavyweights, offers the principal relief from the nation-wide boxing drought this week by defending his title in Madison Square Garden Wednesday night against Abie Bain, young Newark, N. J., scrapper. Except for this one title defense, big time boxing has come almost to a standstill throughout the country.

Rosenbloom, who has weathered a large number of fights, is overwhelmingly favored over Bain, who has fought only a few times as a light heavyweight, although he has a fairly long record in other divisions. The Harlem cuffer is expected to have only one difficulty—that of making the 175 pound limit—and he is reported to be close to the mark. The bout is to go the regulation title distance of 15 rounds.

Two heavyweight battles head the week's program in Boston. On Tuesday night Jack Gagnon and Con O'Kelly, both Bostonians, clash over the ten round route with the prospect of the winner meeting another townsman, Jack Sharkey. Thursday, Johnny Risko, Cleveland's bounding baker, takes on Dick Daniels, Minneapolis heavyweight, in another ten rounder.

Other bouts on the week's national program include:

Odie Cleghorn to Pilot Detroit Hockey Club

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Odie Cleghorn of Montreal, former manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National Hockey league, will sign a contract tomorrow to manage the Olympics, Detroit entrant in the International Hockey league, Charles Hughes, president of the Detroit Hockey club, announced tonight. Cleghorn will succeed Frank Foyston, who refused the club's offer of a new contract.

Loyola Faces Long Drills in Tackling

If hard work will hoist Loyola's Ramblers out of their losing streak the strenuous practice sessions which Coach Eddie Norton has mapped out this week should revive them when they battle Coe college here Friday night.

Coe, with many veterans in its fold, is coming here to avenge the 6-0 defeat handed it by the Ramblers last year.

Extensive drill on fundamentals will be the keynote of all Loyola practices for the next few days, with special emphasis placed on tackling. The Rambler tackling, which has been unsteady all season, fell off alarmingly in the game with Loyola of the south, and is the phase of the game which needs most attention.

Defensive work of the back field was also below par Friday night. Failure of the Rambler backs to assist the forward wall on defense, enabled the southern school to annex many additional yards.

EAST'S LIST OF UNBEATEN TEAMS SHRINKS TO 13

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The east's list of unbeaten and untied football teams has shrunk to thirteen, with Dartmouth's high powered array setting the pace in scoring.

Dartmouth, victorious in four games, has piled up 225 points while holding the opposition scoreless. Cornell holds second place with 186. Colgate, beaten once, is third with 185, and Carnegie Tech, also beaten once, is fourth with 164. Only eight teams can boast uncrossed goal lines, chief among them being Dartmouth, Fordham, Army, Pittsburgh, and Western Maryland.

In individual scoring, Jim Murphy of Fordham and Bart Viviano of Cornell are tied for the honor of leading the east. Each has scored ten touchdowns for a total of 60 points. Individual scoring leaders follow:

JAYHAWKS AND OKLAHOMA SHARE BIG SIX LEAD

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Kansas has joined Oklahoma in the leadership of the Big Six conference football race after a 14 to 0 defeat of its traditional rival, the Kansas Aggies.

Oklahoma, with no conference standing at stake, lost to the University of Texas Longhorns before 20,000 at Dallas, 17 to 7.

Nebraska, Big Six champions, toppled by Oklahoma a week ago, narrowly escaped again, beating Iowa State, 14 to 12.

Missouri lost again, this time to New York university, 38 to 0, in what perhaps is the end of relations between the two schools.

Next week brings two more titular contests. Kansas will face Iowa State in its first 1930 game on its home field at Lawrence and the Aggies will go to Norman to meet Oklahoma. Nebraska has a non-conference game with Montana State in Lincoln and Missouri delays its conference opening another week by meeting Drake.

MOUNT CARMEL, LOYOLA ELEVENS WIN PREP GAMES

Loyola academy and Mount Carmel High were the victors in yesterday's Catholic league games, the former defeating St. Philip, 26 to 7, at Loyola stadium, while the latter scored a 7 to 0 victory over St. Ignatius at St. Rita field.

Loyola had an easy time in marking up its third victory in the north section of the league, holding a 19 to 0 margin over St. Philip at the half. Hoeffer scored two touchdowns, one on a 15 yard run and another on a plunge.

Durkin scored on an off tackle play and Martin, broke into the point column by catching a 20 yard pass from Durkin and sprinting five yards to the goal line. Durkin added both extra points. Serritella scored the losers' touchdown, going ten yards through guard for the score in the last period.

Mount Carmel went into a tie with Leo for the leadership of the south section by its victory over St. Ignatius. The game was evenly played throughout, and Mount Carmel did not score until the last two minutes of play.

Healy intercepted a St. Ignatius pass on the latter's 25 yard line. With Flynn leading the Mount Carmel ball carriers, they advanced to St. Ignatius' 7 yard line, whence Malloy took it over for a touchdown. Capt. Henderson added the extra point on a drop kick.

St. Ignatius threatened in the first, third and fourth quarters, advancing to within ten yards of touchdowns, but the Carmelite line held. Liska and Budrieckis featured for the losers.

Says Amer. Dept. Stores Inventories Are 50% Less

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Frank H. Anderson, president of American Department Stores corporation, announced that present inventories of the company are 50 per cent less than a year ago. He said net profits for the six months ended Aug. 1 were ten times greater than the actual operations in the stores a year ago. "This net profit," he added, "was realized in spite of the very sharp decline in commodity prices and was only possible because of a rigid control over expenditures."

SPECULATORS LOOK ASKANCE AT GRAIN PRICES

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Grain and mercantile markets the world over are depressed to a level where speculators are timid as a result of recent losses, and extreme caution prevails. The indisposition to buying despite the low prices is so widespread that it is believed that all unfavorable factors have been discounted or will be in the near future.

Under such conditions there is little inclination to make a bull stand, and until this situation is changed and the mental attitude of speculators switches from pessimism to something more like optimism, advancing prices are not looked for.

Traders who take a broad view of the world's grain business conditions are mostly of an open mind. They realize that grain prices are down to about the cost of production in many sections and with wheat in Chicago around 52@49c under last year, corn 14@18c, oats 14@14½c, and rye 51@58c lower, they represent deflation, but are not considered as warranting short selling, as prospects for profits on such transactions are regarded as limited.

Short Sellers Timid.

There are many men in the wheat trade who have regarded wheat a dangerous short sale ever since it left $1. Probably this view has prevented short selling at times and there is a disposition to believe that there is no large short interest in the market to act as a sustaining factor when a covering movement sets in. On this point there is room for arguments, as returns to the Grain Futures Administration show exactly how the trade stands.

The wheat situation is not a hopeless one despite the fact that the trade is carrying a record visible supply in the United States and Canada, as a turning point is at hand which is expected to become more potent as the season advances. Primary receipts are the smallest at this time in ten years. Exports, however, are not heavy, and it is claimed by a few close observers that the United States has missed its opportunity in not selling more millions of bushels of wheat for export during the last three and a half months, when it had foreign markets largely to itself. Canada has also made the same mistake, and both countries are now confronted with fair to good crop prospects in Australia and Argentine, where the new harvest is within one to two months. These countries, according to Broomhall, the English statistician, have a possible promise of 175,000,000 bu more wheat in their coming harvest than last year.

The present picture of the world's wheat situation might easily be changed. Latest estimates on thirteen northern hemisphere wheat producing countries aggregate 2,801,925,000 bu, an increase of 5.9 per cent over that of 2,644,643,000 bu for the same countries last season. This would indicate sufficient world's supplies for all requirements and suggest the necessity of increased consumption to absorb the surplus.

Look for Larger Consumption.

In America the belief exists that increased consumption of wheat through feeding operations will eventually result in a disappearance of our surplus. On the other hand, traders who take a long view of the situation suggest that it is too early in the season to place too much confidence in estimates of feeding until supplies begin to decrease with unusual rapidity, and reports from the interior suggest an exhaustion of stocks in farmers' hands, and in interior mills and country elevators. In the southwest farmers' stocks are large, being 43 per cent of this year's crop, or 43,000,000 bu, compared with 38 per cent, or 44,000,000 bu, last year, and 80,000,000 bu in 1928.

December established a new low, reaching 75¼c at the beginning of the week, and was up to 78⅛c on Saturday, with the finish at 77½@77⅝c, with March 81½@81⅝c, May 83½@83⅝c, and July 84⅝@84¾c, old style. The new style varies slightly from the old style deliveries. Prices for the week follow:

Corn futures have declined from a premium to a discount under those of wheat. Studies World Gold Supply and Central Bank Reserves

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York Oct. 19.—In response to the widespread interest aroused by discussion of the relation of the world's gold supply to the needs of business for currency and credit and the general level of prices, the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce has issued a study of central bank reserves and the world gold supply. The bureau professes to pass no judgment upon the various opinions that have been set forth on the subject, but simply to present statistical data.

It is stated, however, that since the war several changes have been made in the use of gold for monetary and reserve purposes, and important economies have been effected.

Pointing out that the rapid increase in the world production of gold preceding the outbreak of the world war had made possible a gradual rise in prices, the study shows that during and since the war the annual production of gold has ceased to expand. During the last few years it has been roughly 12 per cent less than just before the war. Moreover, according to various experts, production and trade since the war have increased somewhat more rapidly than the growth of the world's monetary gold stock.

Not Inadequacy.

This fact in itself, according to the department of commerce study, is not evidence of an inadequacy of gold supply, since the amount of gold required to maintain a given level of prices depends upon the way in which gold is utilized and upon its relation to other forms of currency, to the use of bank credit and to other methods of settling transactions.

During recent years, the study continues, marked changes have taken place with regard to the position of gold in the currency systems of the world and with regard to the use of substitutes for gold in effecting business payments.

Prior to the war circulation of gold coinage was widespread and the use of fiduciary currency and checks was limited; the employment of the gold exchange standard was relatively new and not widespread. Following the war, which resulted in general suspension of the gold standard, revised monetary laws were introduced under which gold occupies a very different place than that held before the war.

Alter Monetary Units.

Some of the monetary units have been altered in their relationship to gold, free coinage and free circulation of gold as an essential feature of the gold standard have been widely discarded. Gold has become primarily a reserve against the circulation of paper money and central bank deposits. Gold reserves have been concentrated in the vaults of central banks.

In this connection it is remarked that in 1929 more than 90 per cent of the world monetary gold stocks was concentrated in the hands of central banks, contrasted with about 67 per cent in 1914.

Referring to the frequently advanced theory of maldistribution of the world gold supply, the study points out that if monetary gold stocks were inequitably distributed among nations after the war one would expect to find actual ratios of reserves very close to minimum legal requirements in a wide number of countries, particularly at a period when the level of world trade was high and commodity prices and interest rates were firm.

On June 30, 1928 and 1929, when conditions were of this character, the actual ratios of reserves, the study shows, were not generally close to the minimum. Of twelve countries permitting gold only to constitute reserves, the central banks of only Lithuania, France, Java, both in 1928 and 1929, and South Africa in 1929 had actual ratios less than 10 points in excess of legal minimums. Central banks of other countries, excepting Japan, had substantial ratio margins on both dates.

SHOW DECLINE OF $62,471,504 IN TAX RECEIPTS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—(AP)—A decrease of $62,471,504 in government tax receipts in the first quarter of the present fiscal year as compared with the same period last year was announced today by the internal revenue bureau.

From July 1 to Sept. 30 the government income from all tax sources was $708,363,707, as compared with $770,835,212 in the first three months of the last fiscal year.

The major part of the decrease occurred last month when the tax collections dropped $48,847,552 from $593,983,224 for September, 1929.

Only six of the 36 classes of taxes showed increases and they were minor items. Income taxes registered the greatest drop, being $55,740,192 less than collections in the first three months last year.

Corporation tax collections declined $14,055,350, while individual income tax receipts decreased $41,684,842. The total income tax receipts from July 1 to Sept. 30 was $553,725,824, composed of $302,675,618 corporation taxes and $251,050,206 individual.

The six classes that showed increases included taxes on rectifiers, retail and wholesale liquor dealers, manufacturers of stills, etc., case stamps for distilled spirits bottled in bond and brewers, retail and wholesale dealers in malt liquors. The increases in these divisions totaled only $274.

The tobacco tax was the only general subdivision that showed an increase and this was due to a jump in the manufacture of cigarets and cigaret papers. Cigarets paid $97,881,500 for the first quarter, compared with $96,020,214 last year, while cigaret papers paid $413,373 this quarter as against $375,096 a year ago. The total tobacco tax, however, was only $9,450 more in the first quarter of this year due to decreases in large and small cigars, large cigarets, snuff and chewing and smoking tobacco.

Taxes on bonds of indebtedness, capital stock issues, etc., and on capital stock sales or transfers, which had increased during the stock market boom, dropped off $1,350,770 and $5,314,147, respectively. The playing card tax declined from $954,584 in the first three months of the last fiscal year to $827,701.

EXPECT MORE TO FOLLOW TEXAS OIL PRICE CUTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 19.—Although the recent reductions in the price of crude oil in the north Texas and Texas Panhandle areas are described as being due principally to local conditions, it is believed by some important executives in the oil industry that a cut in the general mid-continent area is only a question of time.

Probably less oil in proportion to production is being sold in Oklahoma and adjoining areas below the regular posted prices than was the case in these two Texas districts. Nevertheless, it is said, the situation is almost identical, and probably will be further aggravated instead of improved by a reduction in the adjoining state of Texas since it will enable the large number of small refiners there to sell their products below those in Oklahoma.

A cut in crude oil prices in these Texas districts by an important purchasing company has heretofore been followed almost immediately by somewhat similar cuts in the general mid-continent area.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 19.—An issue of $15,000,000 three year 4½ per cent notes of the American Rolling Mill company is being offered tomorrow at 99¾ and accrued interest by a banking group headed by the Guaranty company of New York and including the Chase Securities corporation, the National City company, W. E. Hutton & Co., the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh, Kidder, Peabody & Co., and Field, Glore & Co.

Proceeds of the sale will be used to retire indebtedness incurred in connection with the company's recently completed expansion program, and will provide additional working capital.

A syndicate headed by the National City company and including First Union Trust and Savings bank, A. B. Leach & Co., and Chatham Phenix corporation are offering an issue of $3,422,000 Phoenix, Ariz., 4½ per cent municipal improvement bonds at prices to yield from 4.10 to 4.30 per cent, according to maturity.

Cites Labor Discontent as Handicap to Soviet Plans

BY SCRUTATOR.

Political ideas from the land of the soviets always will look like the delirium tremens animals to capitalist leaders. But there is little need for the industry of Europe and America to fear Russian economic competition if translations from official Russian government documents, made and rebroadcast by the United States department of commerce, given an accurate picture of working life in Russia.

It appears in these papers that the soviet officials, having laid out numerous programs for industrial production, and having specified how much of each commodity should be produced in a given time, have found that forward looking statistics are just figures until some workmen make them come true.

The information in these papers rather destroys the illusion that the party leaders in Moscow are able to crack their whips or fingers and make everybody work hard. For, it is related, the great Donetz coal basin produces only 67 per cent as much as it was ordered to, and the reason is discontent of labor and the high rate of turnover.

Many Workers Quit.

Of 15,000 coal miners employed in the Ural regions in the last seven months, 12,000 are reported to have quit, while 44 per cent of the metallurgical industry's workers walked out in the third quarter of 1930. At Leningrad, the government metal working plant lost 40 per cent of its labor in a few months and in iron and steel the turnover in three months reached 50 per cent.

Some interesting solutions are suggested as possible by the Russian journalist detailing these troubles. His publication, it should be remembered, is a government organ. Regulation of pay so that there will be no competition for men of equal skill; the offering of premiums to the more efficient workers, which smacks of capitalistic methods; greater use of female labor and better service by commissaries and manager of living facilities, are among these solutions.

A report of a meeting in Moscow, called in September to discuss the general cussedness of labor, included the following: "One speaker stated the use of industrial immigration held great promise. It was his belief that hundreds of thousands of foreign skilled workers could be readily persuaded to come to Russia to work. Attention was called to the irregular work of the coöperative stores, whereby the workers were obliged to waste days and even weeks waiting to receive the products distributed by these shops."

Lack Inducements.

Here, perhaps, lies the reason why the soviet program can succeed, if at all, only a long ways in the future. It can't offer to the worker any wealth in return for his efforts. Where nations are concerned wealth is not the land that can be divided into tracts of acres, nor the money in the banks, nor the ore and oil in the ground. Rather it is the things that are produced every six days and consumed every seven.

Until the Russian worker gets the idea, which these documents show he hasn't, that there is some sense in working hard, Russian competition in world markets will probably consist of goods that are produced with a minimum of labor. The lumber and the coal and the pulpwood sent out were only desperate means to get a little foreign cash. The wheat and the oil—Russia is exporting more oil than she produced ten years ago—are likely to remain her principal competitive media in world markets.

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COVERS ITS 1930 DIVIDEND

The Commonwealth Edison company earned its full year's dividend in the first nine months of this year, according to the quarterly report, which shows earnings for the nine months and for the third quarter improved over the corresponding periods of 1929.

Net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 totaled $11,590,933, equivalent to $8.20 a share on 1,413,258 shares outstanding. This compares with net income of $11,007,729 for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1929, which was equivalent to $7.79 a share on the present capitalization. Net income for the third quarter of this year was $2,805,267, or $1.98 a share, compared with $2,561,572, or $1.81 a share on the same basis, for the third quarter of 1929.

PERHAPS STOCK MART HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

Acts Like Previous Aftermaths.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 19.—It is hard for the new generation in Wall street and in the outside public to comprehend that what has been happening in the recent markets—renewed liquidation on the stock exchange a year after the panic, announcement of one Wall street failure and random talk of others, unsettlement not only in foreign markets but in foreign politics, with revolutionary outbreaks.

It is almost exactly what has happened at this stage in the aftermath of previous great panics. As events before last October's reckoning clearly indicated, the practical reminiscence of the the present day speculator rarely goes back of 1914 or 1918, and often no further than 1924 or 1925. The idea that financial history is repeating itself is extremely unlikely to occur to him.

This is why everything in such a market as last week's seemed new and strange and entirely out of touch with the previous range of human experience. It accounts, among other things, for the largely prevalent idea that nothing of the sort would ever have occurred on the stock exchange, but for activities of "the bears." If there were illusions in the "bull market" of 1928 and 1929 [and nowadays nobody seems to doubt it], there are illusions in plenty on concessions such as now exist.

Reaction to Conference.

The conference between the president of the stock exchange and the President of the United States reported last week in the Washington dispatches, awakened only mild interest in Wall street. The dispatches clearly intimated that action in relation of "bear selling" would be left to the stock exchange, and the stock exchange had already officially declared

IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT NATURAL GAS

Article 3—The Market

The superiority of natural gas as a fuel has become generally recognized and the demand is increasing with great rapidity. New markets are being established throughout the country and a network of pipe lines and distribution systems is spreading into territory where natural gas was never before available.

Indicative of the market possibilites in the industrial field is the increasing use of natural gas in the electric light and power industry, which is illustrated by the following figures on the principal fuels used for generating electricity—

	Coal consumed	Gas consumed

In this period the amount of coal increased 18%, whereas the consumption of natural gas increased 400%. Wherever natural gas is available, it is being adopted by the electric industry as a substitute for other types of fuel.

While the electric industry has been the leader in adopting natural gas, other industries are not far behind because...1 • natural gas is generally the cheapest of all industrial fuels, 2 • it is more easily handled than coal or oil, 3 • requires no storage space, 4 • demands no tie-up of capital in fuel inventories, 5 • leaves no residue and 6 • gives off an even and easily controlled heat. There is scarcely a known industry that will not convert from other fuels to natural gas whenever it is made available.

While the industrial market is enormous, the domestic market is equally important. Five out of six persons of the United States do not have natural gas. The rapidly expanding domestic market is strongly affected by the following factors...1 • The substitution of natural gas by cities now using manufactured gas. 2 • Extension of lines to communities which at present have no gas service. 3 • The increasing use of natural gas per customer.

Natural gas has twice the heat content of manufactured gas and usually costs materially less. Accordingly, when natural gas becomes available, manufactured gas companies find it desirable to shut down their plants and to operate as natural gas distributing companies.

In extending the main transmission systems to principal markets, the lines usually pass near communities not having gas service of any kind. Serving such towns is merely a matter of building distribution systems, which can be furnished from the main lines.

The increasing use per customer is a third factor affecting the expansion of natural gas in the domestic field. Formerly used principally for cooking, natural gas is now used for many purposes, including the heating of homes, a use which is being rapidly extended. Particularly is this true in cities which previously had manufactured gas, such as Denver. In January 1929, when manufactured gas was being used, this city had 417 gas heated structures; in January 1930, 18 months after natural gas was turned into the mains, the number had increased to 7,713, and still is gaining.

Southern Natural Gas Corporation furnishes natural gas to Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. Contracts are in effect between the Corporation and cities, public utilities, and industrial companies in this territory for approximately 50,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day. The potential market is great and it is estimated that within a year the company will be supplying 125,000,000 cubic feet per day, well balanced as to domestic and industrial load.

CALL MEETING OF BOND CREDITORS OF CHINESE GOV'T

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19.—Residents of Chicago and other American middle western cities who in 1918 purchased approximately $5,000,000 worth of Chinese government bonds, but who have received neither interest nor principal since 1929, are reported somewhat incensed as a result of the Nationalist government's announcement that a representative meeting of all Chinese government creditors is called for Nov. 15.

The meeting had originally been scheduled for Oct. 1, but it was found impossible to hold it then owing to the war situation, but T. V. Soong, minister of foreign affairs, stated to THE TRIBUNE that all foreign ministers in China whose nationals hold defaulted obligations of the Chinese government had been asked to send representatives to Nanking in the middle of November for the purpose of discussing the situation.

The plan of the Chinese government has not been disclosed, but T. V. Soong last week warned the government that is was necessary to retrench in expenditures enabling the budget to balance in order to enable the repayment of foreign loans which led to the impression that the government is contemplating an extensive refunding operation.

The exact sum to which the government is defaulted in foreign obligations is not known, but the amount is a large figure, extending over a period of more than a decade, the largest portion, including American and Japanese loans, having been advanced to China during or following the world war.

Among the American loans was $5,000,000 advanced to the old Peking government by the Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, which was finally defaulted in 1929. The total American claims, including loans as well as defaulted bills against railways covering materials and including interest, amounts to approximately $30,000,000.

Behaves as in Previous Aftermaths.

its policy—to discipline severely authors of its "bear raids" accompanied by maliciously circulated rumors, but not to attempt such a thing as suspending or prohibiting "short sales."

Even if the idea of bear selling as the single cause for the fall in stocks lost some of its vogue last week, the idea of a falling stock market as the cause for trade depression seemed to have revived. Intimations came from the steel trade, for example, that October's decrease in "unfilled orders" and its lowered ratio of mill activity must be due to the decline on Wall street. Undoubtedly, that decline might influence hesitant consumers. Even the Broadway shopkeeper scans the daily stock table with the idea of learning what is the trend of things, and he does so even in normal times.

This is obviously on the theory that the stock market's action is prophetic.

Failed as Prophet.

Whether that theory is at all times and in all respects correct, however—whether the market always indicates not only what is going to happen but how good or bad its character will be—is not so certain. Exactly how prophetic was the stock market, for example, in August and early September, 1929. It is of record that the stock market "averages" actually rose 14 per cent during that six weeks' period. What happened to trade and and industry in the sequel every one knows.

We shall in due course learn whether the market's recent plunge into "new low records" was prophetic of the new industrial future, or only indicative of the existing Wall street mood. This much at least may be affirmed without dispute—that the mood of the moment has been as wildly exaggerated on the side of despondency as was the mood of last autumn on the side of confidence; also that the momentum behind the market's recent downward course was as powerful as that behind the rising midsummer market of 1929. Beyond this it is useless to predict.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 19.—The International Paper and Power company has erected the first important aluminum electric transmission line in the United States to link the new Fifteen Mile Falls hydroelectric plant of the New England Power association, one of its principal utility subsidiaries, with the switching station at Towksbury, Mass., a distance of 126 miles. Power is to be transmitted at 220,000 volts over the new aluminum line.

Substantial Families in Financial Distress

We are advancing funds each month to families who have accumulated securities and now find themselves in a deplorable condition as a result of the temporary depression and require aid for legitimate living expenses. We have already advanced thousands of dollars to this worthy cause and desire assistance from investors who wish to further the good work. Every safeguard to prevent fraud or misrepresentation is employed under this plan. We invite most searching investigation.

Bulges in oats are being taken by cash handlers to hedge their purchases of oats. The movement, however, is the lightest at this time in five years or more. There is a little spreading between new and old, and between December and May.

The range during the week was not large, and at the close prices were unchanged to ¼c higher than a week ago. Old style December finished at 36½c; March, 38⅛c, and May, 39½c.

Bendix Subsidiary Cuts Instrument Prices 20%

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Price reductions averaging 20 per cent in aeronautical instruments and equipment were announced today by Pioneer Instrument company, a division of Bendix Aviation corporation. Charles H Colvin, president of Pioneer, said the reductions were made possible through installation of new plant equipment, reorganization of manufacturing methods, and the recent coördination of its activities with those of Aircraft Control corporation, acquired by Bendix.

New York City $75,000,000 Stock Sale to Be Awarded

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—One of the largest items of municipal financing scheduled for this week will be the sale of $75,000,000 4 per cent corporate stock by the City of New York. This award will be made Tuesday. Other state and municipal issues coming out this week will be comparatively small, and the total amount is figured at about $103,000,000, compared with about $15,000,000 last week.

Michigan Steel Corporation Reports Rising Production

The Michigan Steel corporation's production has increased steadily since the first week in September, which was the low period of the year so far, officials report.

BOND MARKET RECOVERS ITS EQUILIBRIUM

New York, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The bond market regained its equilibrium last week. Resumption of the upward trend after more than a fortnight of unsettlement climaxed by some of the most drastic declines of the year originated in the rally of Latin-American issues starting Tuesday and continuing steadily through the short week. Brazilian, Chilean, Argentina, Peruvian, Colombian, and Uruguayan municipal and bank bonds, which had lost 5 to 25 points, recovered a good portion of the loss.

This sharp recovery, which in turn imparted a better tone to the entire foreign list, was attributed not so much to any marked improvement in political and economic conditions there as to a feeling that the reaction had been carried too far. The result was that the list found support from bargain hunters attracted by the greatly increased yields afforded by the lower prices, and speculators who saw an opportunity for a quick profit.

The improvement in the domestic group was more gradual and accompanied by considerable irregularity. Prices of bonds were a little higher at the end of the week as a result of cautious buying, and the averages showed an upturn for the first time in a fortnight.

The American Rolling Mill Company
Three Year 4½% Gold Notes

To be dated November 1, 1930

To mature November 1, 1933

Guaranty Trust Company of New York, Trustee

A letter from Mr. Charles R. Hook, President of the Company, to which reference is hereby made, and of which copies will be furnished upon request, is summarized by him as follows:

The Company is the largest manufacturer in the world specializing in high grade iron and steel sheets. Directly or through subsidiaries the Company also manufactures culverts, bolts and nuts, reinforcing rods, bars, forged steel wheels and wire products.

The Company has developed and patented a method for the production of iron and steel sheets and light plates by a continuous rolling process from the ingot to the finished product which has been in successful operation for over six years and has revolutionized the sheet industry. General licenses for the use of this patented process have been issued to The Weirton Steel Company, The Wheeling Steel Corporation, The U. S. Steel Corporation, The Republic Steel Corporation, The Otis Steel Company, Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, Gulf States Steel Company and The Great Lake Steel Corporation.

Purpose of Issue

The proceeds of the sale of these Notes will be used to retire indebtedness incurred in connection with the Company's recently completed expansion program and will provide additional working capital.

Balance Sheet

The consolidated balance sheet of the Company and its subsidiaries as of June 30, 1930, adjusted to give effect to this financing, shows net tangible assets, after deducting all liabilities other than funded debt, of $117,897,704. Total funded debt amounts to $44,291,300. Current assets, including the proceeds of this financing, amount to $44,559,804 and current liabilities to $3,411,187.

Earnings

Consolidated net income of the Company and its subsidiaries (not including Sheffield Steel Corporation which was acquired in 1930), after depreciation and depletion but before interest and Federal income tax, for the two years ended December 31, 1928 and 1929 (the first two years in which earnings of the Columbia Steel Co. and Norton Iron Works were included), as certified to by Messrs. Haskins & Sells, amounted to $6,185,097 and $8,307,239, respectively, or more than 2.8 times and 3.8 times the annual interest requirements on the total funded debt to be outstanding upon completion of this financing.

For the six months ended June 30, 1930, such net income (including earnings of Sheffield Steel Corporation), as reported by the Company, amounted to $2,760,504 or at the rate of more than 2½ times such interest requirements.

The unsatisfactory industrial situation now prevailing will undoubtedly be further reflected in the current earnings of the Company, but there has recently been a substantial increase in the volume of bookings which, it is hoped, marks a definite improvement in the demand for the Company's products.

Equity

Dividends on the Company's common stock are being paid at the rate of $2 per share in cash and 5% in common stock per annum. The outstanding preferred and common stocks at present quoted prices have an indicated market value of more than $60,000,000.

Authorized and presently to be issued, $15,000,000. Coupon Notes in denomination of $1,000. Interest payable May 1 and November 1, without deduction for any Federal income tax up to 2%. Principal and interest payable at the principal office of Guaranty Trust Company of New York. Redeemable as a whole or in part at the option of the Company at any time on 30 days notice at 101% and accrued interest to and including November 1, 1931; thereafter to and including November 1, 1932, at 100½% and accrued interest, and thereafter at 100% and accrued interest.

Pennsylvania Four Mill Tax Refundable

When, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of counsel. All legal details pertaining to this issue will be passed upon for the Bankers by Messrs. Davis, Polk, Wardwell, Gardiner & Reed, of New York, and for the Company by Ralph R. Caldwell, Esq., of Cincinnati. It is expected that definitive Notes, or interim receipts exchangeable for definitive Notes when prepared, will be ready for delivery on or about November 5, 1930.

2 NEW CALENDAR CHANGES BEFORE WORLD MEETING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Two definite proposals for a fixed perpetual calendar will be taken up at the Geneva calendar reform conference next October according to an announcement today by the American national calendar simplication committee.

Out of several hundred plans, some fantastic and impracticable and others of scientific merit, but too radical for acceptance, the experts of the league of nations and the various national committees have in general agreement chosen two as the most practical, the American committee which is headed by George Eastman, Kodak manufacturer, reported.

Prefer 13 Month Proposal.

One of these plans provides for the division of the year into 13 months, each month with four weeks; the other comprises the so-called equal quarters plan which retains the present number of months, merely changing the number of days in some of them so as to equalize the quarters of the year.

"The 13 month proposal," said the committee statement, "is advocated as the most practical possible remedy for all the defects of the present calendar, in so far as the astronomical facts permit, without abolishing the use of the 7 day week."

Both types provide for fixity of day names by the use of the "year day" principle which consists of giving a separate name, such as "year day" to the extra day in each year beyond the 52 weeks, and the name of "leap day" to the extra day in leap years.

Treaty Necessary for Change.

An official invitation to participate in the conference is expected to be received by the United States soon after the meeting of the council of the league in January. A resolution directing the President to accept such an invitation is pending in congress.

The procedure contemplated, as indicated by information received by the American committee from Geneva, is for the conference to draw up a protocol embodying a specific plan of reform and measures which should be taken in common to put the new calendar into effect. The protocol would then go to each government for signature and upon approval would become a multilateral treaty. Ratification by the senate would be needed in the United States.

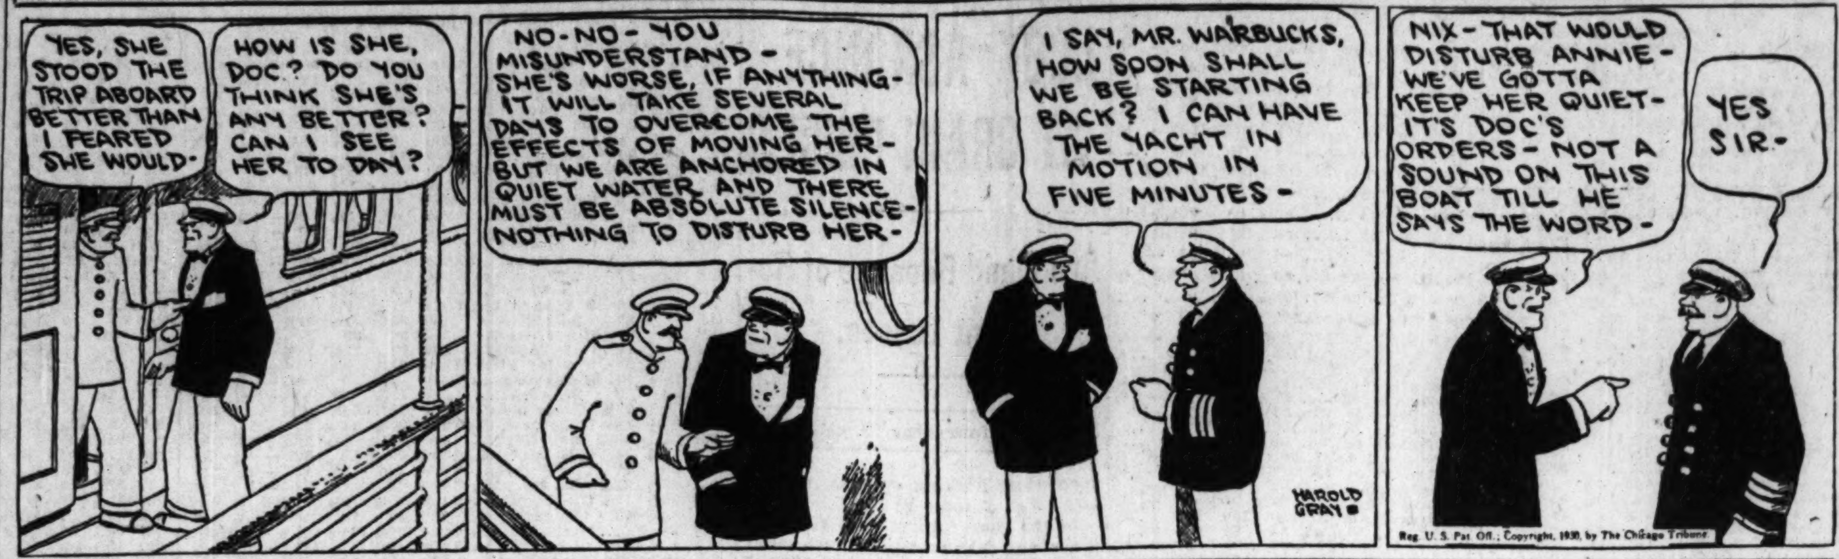
RADIO NOVELTIES ON DISPLAY AT COLISEUM TODAY

Voices that may be seen, a grid glow tube that is actuated by sound, and a mechanical man that drives an automobile are among the novelties on display at the ninth annual Chicago Radio show, which opens at the Coliseum at 2 p. m. today.

In addition to the latest developments in radio sets, phonograph combinations, and television apparatus, Illinois National Guards and United States Naval reserves will demonstrate wartime uses of radio. The Chicago police department also will display one of its latest radio equipped squad cars.

Numerous entertainment features have been arranged, including a demonstration of the making of talking pictures and an "electric eye" which will count the visitors as they arrive, recording the total on an adding machine. The show will continue through next Sunday.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—Silence



YES, SHE STOOD THE TRIP ABOARD BETTER THAN I FEARED SHE WOULD-
HOW IS SHE, DOC? DO YOU THINK SHE'S ANY BETTER? CAN I SEE HER TO DAY?
NO-NO- YOU MISUNDERSTAND- SHE'S WORSE, IF ANYTHING- IT WILL TAKE SEVERAL DAYS TO OVERCOME THE EFFECTS OF MOVING HER- BUT WE ARE ANCHORED IN QUIET WATER AND THERE MUST BE ABSOLUTE SILENCE- NOTHING TO DISTURB HER-
I SAY, MR. WARBUCKS, HOW SOON SHALL WE BE STARTING BACK? I CAN HAVE THE YACHT IN MOTION IN FIVE MINUTES-
NIX- THAT WOULD DISTURB ANNIE- WE'VE GOTTA KEEP HER QUIET- IT'S DOC'S ORDERS- NOT A SOUND ON THIS BOAT TILL HE SAYS THE WORD-

E. V. VALENTINE, NOTED SCULPTOR, DIES SUDDENLY

Richmond, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Edward Virginus Valentine, famous sculptor, who was known principally for his recumbent statue of Robert E. Lee in the Lee chapel at Lexington, Va., and other southern subjects, died here today. He would have observed his 92d birthday on Nov. 12.

Mr. Valentine had been in failing health for several months, but his death came unexpectedly.

Born at Richmond on Nov. 12, 1838, a member of a family prominent in Virginia history, Mr. Valentine began his studies of sculpture here and later studied under Couture in Paris, continuing his instruction in Italy and Germany.

He was twice married, on Nov. 12, 1872, to Alice Churchill Robinson, who died Aug. 23, 1883, and later to Katherine Cole Mayo, who died Feb. 5, 1927. There were no children.

3 Day Miracle Procession in Peru Draws Big Throngs

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LIMA, Peru, Oct. 19.—In spite of the establishment of a divorce law and other evidences of the anti-clerical policy of the new government, one of this city's greatest annual religious spectacles, namely, the three day "procession of the miracles," has drawn the usual large throngs and the ceremonies have proceeded without untoward incident.

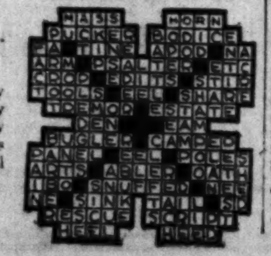
SATURDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



FINDS SENTIMENT MORE DEPRESSED THAN WARRANTED

Foreman Bank Sees Hopeful Signs.

Despite the fact that it is clearly seen that business recovery will be slow, business sentiment is more depressed than actual conditions warrant, in the opinion of the Business Observer, monthly review of the Foreman-State National bank.

The Business Observer points out many hopeful signs in the present situation. It makes a comparison between the present depression and that of 1921, taking nine indices as a guide, and expresses the belief that the pronounced upswing in the business curve cannot be expected before the first quarter of 1931.

Commodity Firmness.

Regarding the present situation the publication says: "October statistics make somewhat better reading than October sentiment. This has been the case now for two consecutive months. In September the figures on commodity prices revealed a firmness that had not been present for over a year, and yet business sentiment turned downward with the stock market. This month we have additional assurance because commodities have maintained comparative firmness for another thirty days. Also, a clear majority of our business indices registered seasonal improvement, or better, between August and September.

"Business sentiment, nevertheless, is more depressed now than when the bottom was not in sight. Stock market prices have broken the lows of last November. The best explanation seems to be that business has heretofore refused to believe we were in a major depression and speculators, until now, have scouted the idea of a slow recovery."

Car Loadings Rise.

Substantial increase in car loading figures and an advance of slightly more than seasonal proportions in electric power output served to put a better complexion on the week's crop of industrial news, although production of steel and automobiles showed further marked recessions, reports to THE TRIBUNE indicate.

Some encouragement was derived from the figures for export trade during September, made public during the week, which showed a gain of 6 per cent over the August total. The advance was largely due to the improvement in cotton exports.

Reports from the steel industry were tinged with marked caution. Buyers were reported extremely conservative in making commitments and the price structure again showed signs of softness. Operations for the industry as a whole, according to the Iron Age were at the rate of 55 per cent, compared with 58 per cent a week ago and 61 per cent two weeks ago.

MAKERS OF OIL BURNERS REPORT BUSINESS GOOD

Manufacturers of domestic oil burners not only have escaped the general business depression of the last twelve months but are enjoying the most prosperous year in the history of the industry. This was disclosed at the recent quarterly meeting of the directors of the American Oil Burner association at Atlantic City.

Sales for the first nine months of the current year were more than 11 per cent ahead of the same period last year, said Harry F. Tapp, executive secretary of the association. Some companies reported an increase of more than 50 per cent, and the directors were unanimous in their belief that 1930 would exceed by a generous margin the record established last year, when more than 125,000 oil burners were placed in American homes.

More than 600,000 household burners already are in use, and it was conservatively estimated that the total in use at the end of 1930 will exceed 655,000. This estimate was not based on the optimistic hopes for the remaining three months of the year but instead on the trend of the last ten years.

Weekly Board of Trade Stocks

Liquidation most of last week carried prices down and the majority of stocks on the Board of Trade made new lows for the year and in the most instances the finish was at the bottom, or only slightly above it.

Ohio Public Service.

Please give me what information you have about the Ohio Public Service company and whether their 6 per cent preferred stock is a safe investment.—G. W. Y.

Ohio Public Service company is controlled by Cities Service Power and Light company, which is, in turn, a subsidiary of Cities Service company. The company supplies electric power and light in 175 Ohio communities, including Warren, Mansfield, Sandusky, Lorain, Elyria, Ashland, Massillon, Fort Clinton and Alliance. Power is also supplied wholesale to distributing companies in other communities. Properties include generating stations having a combined capacity of 130,100 k. w. and 2,200 miles of high tension transmission lines and small electric railway holdings.

Gross revenue has remained about the same for a number of years. Earnings, however, have increased. In 1929 net income, after charges and taxes, was $2,782,585, equal to $20.36 per share earned on 136,657 preferred shares. All the common is owned by Cities Service Power & Light company. In 1928 net income was $2,254,391, equal to $16.62 per preferred share, against $1,569,146, or $11.68 per share, in 1927.

At the close of last year the balance sheet indicated current assets of $3,206,707 and current liabilities of $1,667,804, leaving a net working capital of $1,538,903. Profit and loss surplus was $3,321,595. Total assets and liabilities were $54,142,809.

Cumberland County Power and Light.

I am looking for a safe place to put my money so that I will not be worried. Are the Cumberland County Power & Light 4½s of 1956 regarded as safe?—J. E. E.

Cumberland County Power & Light company furnishes electric light and power in Portland, Me., and 34 other communities nearby. A total population of approximately 160,000 is served. Gas is supplied in two communities and the company operates under lease the street railway system of Portland and South Portland.

The first mortgage 4½s, due June 1 1956, are secured by a first mortgage on all the company's fixed property. Earnings are about 3.47 times annual interest charges.

S. S. Kresge Company.

Wish you would give me your opinion on buying S. S. Kresge $1,000 bond. Also, is there a bond of the I. C., C. St. L. & N. O. which can be purchased now? If so, which of these would you advise? I am just a working man, earning an ordinary salary, and have that amount saved which I want to invest wisely.—F. C. Z.

S. S. Kresge company first mortgage sinking fund 5s, which were offered in June, 1930, and mature June 1, 1945, are sound.

Illinois Central Railroad company and Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans Railroad company joint first refunding 5s, series A and B, and the 4½s, series C, due Dec. 1, 1963, are listed on the New York stock exchange. They are sound. Any of these should be suitable for the purpose mentioned.

Milwaukee Elec. R. & L. to Redeem 5% Series A Bonds

The Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light company has announced that on Dec. 1 next it will redeem all its general and refunding mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series A, at 105 and accrued interest. Prior to the redemption date holders of these bonds may exchange them for the company's refunding and first mortgage 5 per cent bonds, series B, due June 1, 1961.

CHILLY WEATHER GRANTS HOPES OF WHOLESALE DIST.

BY HOWARD CARSWELL.

Encouraged by the sudden advent of wintry temperature last week, large Chicago wholesale mercantile houses anticipate a responsive buying rush for the seasonable cold weather articles to strike today and early this week in full force. These expectations are based on the heavy retail buying over the week-end of woolens and blankets, cold weather clothing, etc., which would naturally react quickly to an upturn in demand for the wholesale lines.

Although business in the wholesale district has remained satisfactory recently, the trade generally has been hoping for the coming of chilly weather to further stimulate sales.

"One local executive reported the largest single order of blankets ever received by his firm had been placed by an out of town department store. Gift articles and toys for the holiday trade also created a good volume of business," reports the Chicago Association of Commerce in its weekly review.

Buying during the usual autumn Founders' week of Butler Brothers was reported to have been substantially the same as during the same event a year ago. Attendance of country customers during the week jumped over 50 per cent from that of the 1929 week.

An advance of ½ cent to 15 cents in the mill list price for 80 squares of percale was explained by one prominent wholesale house as portentious of proportionate advances elsewhere, since mills have been producing so cheaply that prices are firming.

A shortage of men's overcoats and of blankets this winter is predicted by William J. Baxter, director of the woolen clothing research bureau, New York, who points out in a statement that forward orders of retailers have been declining steadily since 1924 and that they are now at a level that would not cover a mild winter. The government production figures for topcoats and overcoats in September listed 258,000 garments, against 394,000 in September last year, the report says.

Labor Predicts Victory at Norwegian Election Today

OSLO, Norway, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Norway tomorrow goes to the polls for a parliamentary election after an exciting campaign. The Laborites, who three years ago jumped sensationally from 32 to 59 seats in the storting, say they will obtain a clear majority in the body, with its 150 seats, bringing about the first purely labor government in the country.

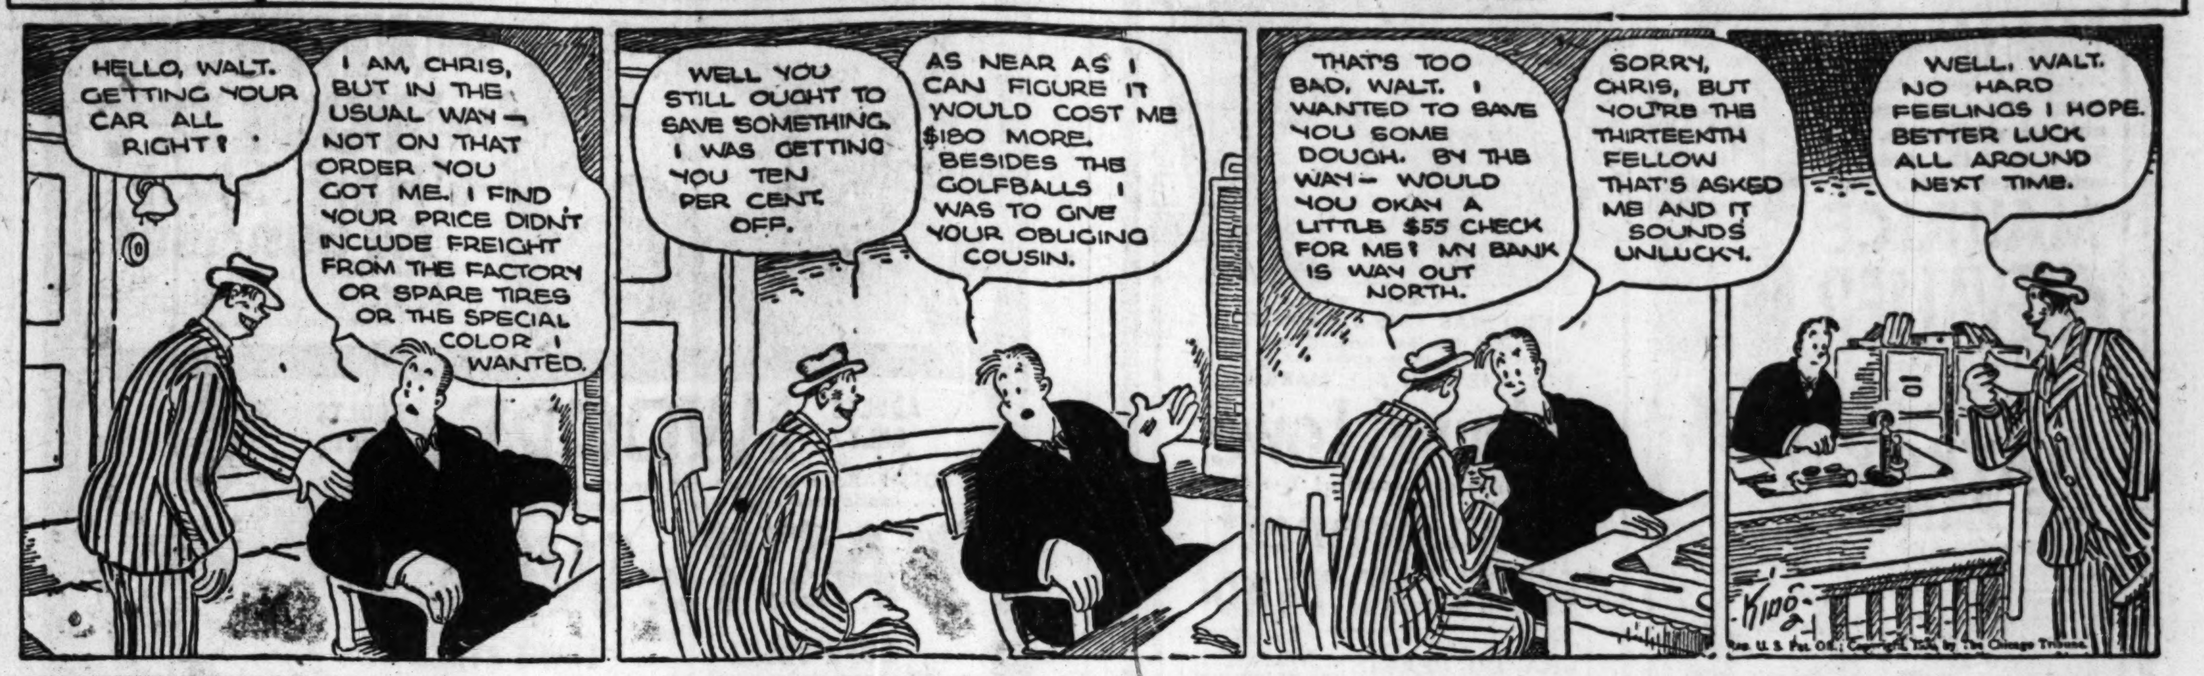
GASOLINE ALLEY.—NO EXCHANGE OF FAVORS



HELLO, WALT. GETTING YOUR CAR ALL RIGHT?
I AM, CHRIS, BUT IN THE USUAL WAY—NOT ON THAT ORDER YOU GOT ME. I FIND YOUR PRICE DIDN'T INCLUDE FREIGHT FROM THE FACTORY OR SPARE TIRES OR THE SPECIAL COLOR I WANTED.
WELL YOU STILL OUGHT TO SAVE SOMETHING. I WAS GETTING YOU TEN PER CENT. OFF.
AS NEAR AS I CAN FIGURE IT WOULD COST ME $180 MORE. BESIDES THE GOLFBALLS I WAS TO GIVE YOUR OBLIGING COUSIN.
THAT'S TOO BAD, WALT. I WANTED TO SAVE YOU SOME DOUGH. BY THE WAY—WOULD YOU OKAY A LITTLE $55 CHECK FOR ME? MY BANK IS WAY OUT NORTH.
SORRY, CHRIS, BUT YOU'RE THE THIRTEENTH FELLOW THAT'S ASKED ME AND IT SOUNDS UNLUCKY.
WELL, WALT. NO HARD FEELINGS I HOPE. BETTER LUCK ALL AROUND NEXT TIME.

Begin "SNOW" Now

If your friends had warned you against the man you loved. . . . And, after marriage, their predictions came true. . . . What would you do? Shelia Fay is faced with this fearful problem in "SNOW," by Ednah Aiken. Don't fail to read every chapter of this dramatic tale of a woman's struggle to regain her happiness.

In the Tribune today—and every day!

SNOW

By Ednah Aiken

INSTALLMENT I.
A ROMANTIC MEETING.

The month of roses and of weddings was at its apex when Sheila Fay's marriage to "the wild boy of Harvard" was accomplished. Every one who had, or thought they had, the right to protest had protested—her uncle and guardian, John Donohue; her suitors, among them notably Jim Molloy; her companions distributed over what is known in California as "the Peninsula," as well as her more recently acquired friends of Vassar and Harvard. Before she could turn the June page of her calendar she had learned why the wife of the richest, handsomest youth of her set was not to be envied.

Because of the storms of opposition she had weathered, and friendships she had declared shattered, the wedding had been restricted to family and attendants. King's roommate had come west to stand up with him, and he, too, wore the look of a mourner—but sturdily Sheila countered, wasn't he also a bit in love with her? A friend of years, Madge Burke, was matron of honor—reward for having held her peace—and her husband, a Harvard alumnus, had to be included, but any one could see how they felt about it. . . .

As she turned away from the altar, so sickeningly sweet with scent of syringa and orange blossoms, Sheila saw Madge's face—as a controlled Cassandra's. Beyond the carved panels of chancel and transept stretched the rows of untenanted pews which the thin line of wedding guests could not dent. A funereal aspect the church presented, and the hand which rested on the slender bridegroom's arm trembled. Before she had reached the vestibule, crowded with gaping country folk and reporters, King's sweet stare had restored her.

The first time she had met that characteristic stare she was leaving the gate of the Fay estate, astride Chain Lightning; the next, she was lying in a strange field where she had been ignominiously tossed. A scant half hour had intervened, but because of the interval of oblivion—on the ground softened by sweet smelling alfalfa—pulse beats had registered an eternity.

When she opened her eyes, there stood the stranger, staring.

"Fetch Chain Lightning instead. I've got to punish him."

She saw he was thinking her light headed from her fall. "My mount," she explained "It was—a test—today." Pain was making her stammer; idiotically stammering! "If he—gets away—with it—he'll never be fit—for polo!"

Because he was a horseman, he understood then, and his stare rendered respect to the girl from whose cut cheek blood was streaming. "I'll find him. But I must get you somewhere first."

Angrily she answered: "We're losing time. Perhaps you'd lend me your mount?"

The taunt sent him vaulting to the saddle. Negotiating the road as though it were a race track, he disappeared in the grove of trees which screened the chain of lakes. She resigned herself again to a merciful stupor. He would find the culprit. . . .

Later, she became conscious of humble strangers—laborers; several women; a girl with an infant in her arms. They wanted to carry her into one of the neighboring cottages. "The gentleman had sent them," they said. But Sheila would not be touched. She insisted she must be there when her horse was brought back, and scoffed at the suggestion of a doctor. "I am all right; it's a mere skin bruise."

With teeth of pain biting at ribs and lungs, she tried to rise. Even the help of two men failed to prevent agony. She stood rigid, under a scrub oak, her breathing shallow and labored, her teeth boring into her lip.

Convincing them, at length, they were superfluous, she got rid of them, the workmen going back to their tasks in fields and truck gardens, the weary looking women to their homes. The girl with the infant refused to leave her alone. With silent sympathy she had been watching the tortured lip.

"You're not all right," she insisted, as soon as the others had left. "But you've got guts. You'll meet this"—she nodded a foreign stamped face toward the tiny sleeping one—"Better'n ever I did."

Sheila wanted to acknowledge the homely tribute, but a devastating stab silenced her. Endless then became the waiting. It was torture to be still, and agony to move. The sun reached its zenith, and had begun to descend the sky when the horseman returned, leading the unsubjugated Chain Lightning.

The woman with the infant had bound the bleeding face with a handkerchief found in the pocket of the ruined habit. A reassuring smile pushed over the bandage when the horseman's voice, sounding oddly distant, said, "There must be a telephone somewhere about. I'll send for my car. I'll promise to look after your horse."

"Car? What have I been waiting here for? D'you think—I'd let him—get away with it? I'm going—to ride—him—home. Will you help me up?"

Asking to be mounted, she who vaulted to saddle as lightly as any jockey! As he gave the two bridles to the companioning woman, Sheila kept her face turned from him, lest he see the cruelly punished lip. But the agony of motion deserved the solace of poppy seed. . . .

Her uncle and the stableman were waiting for her by the gate, but she was mercifully unconscious of being taken from the saddle. When she opened her eyes again, she was in her own room, on her bed, the golden glow of curtains and walls merging with the sunlight. There were dark shapes between her and the windows.

One of the shapes moved; gave the nervous cough of the habitual smoker; her uncle. . . . Some one giving orders—was it her aunt, or a nurse? Some one else was whispering; an unfamiliar voice—why it was the stranger who had captured Chain Lightning!

John Donohue's bass tones answered him. "She's always like that—indomitable. I knew that horse was a rotten buy, but she would have him."

Her aunt's treble, whispering shrilly. "You should have exercised your authority, John." Marian was always saying "You should" and "You ought." The incurable teacher's habit. "It's a wonder she wasn't killed."

"I should be shot for stupidity." The voice of the handsome youth again. "I never dreamed she was badly hurt."

Another shape was adding itself to the group. Dr. Gibbs disentangled himself, leaning over the bed. "Well, what have we smashed this time, Sheila?"

"It ribs again, Dr. Gibbs. Ribs. All of 'em, I think. You shan't [illegible] me."

Soon more shapes were whispering, moving about. Some one was saying [illegible] "Breathe deep," when any one could see she couldn't breathe [illegible]. The universe was becoming a pulsing dynamo—no, she was being [illegible] through a cylinder into throbbing darkness; she was being dropped into a [illegible] void. Thoughts came to her which she promised to remember when [illegible] returned to the world of tiresome speech—and there were the familiar [illegible] discussing her!

Seve[illegible] days had passed before she concerned herself with the identity of the h[illegible]seman. Marian told her he was the son of the widow of Joshua George of [illegible] chewing gum fame and fortune; that he had been summoned, so he himself ha[illegible] stated, from Harvard, to the gloomy mansion on the Hillsborough hills where the mother was dying. When told, a few days later, that the end had come, [illegible] heila, whose mother memory was one of loveliness and sharp tragedy, orde[illegible] the gardener to make up a sheaf of lilies of the valley. The day she sat [illegible] for the first time she received a short note from King George.

"I'm leav[illegible] tonight for Harvard. They're making me take the exes. I'll never forge[illegible]—" a word had been erased; substitions inserted—"that ride."

Her friends [illegible] were eager to gossip about him, but she would not listen. Her uncle's cont[illegible]ibution was guarded; because she knew he feared to rouse her championship. "The cards," he said, judicially, "were stacked against the boy. Looks, [illegible]ealth—why even his royal name was a mocking tap of fate. 'King Georg[illegible], the first!' And his grandfather, on his mother's side, John King, had bee[illegible] a day laborer."

Mary George, ev[illegible]ry one agreed, had been a devoted mother; her victorious opponents were the s[illegible]ycophants which wait in shadows and sunshine for rich youth. She had left [illegible] what John Donohue called "a spendthrift trust." Her son was not to enter [illegible] into his inheritance until he was thirty or perhaps thirty-five. But the la[illegible] gives him the full income, unless disinherited, and what loving mother'd d[illegible] that? The wrong kind of women, and men, too, teaching him to misspe[illegible]d it. "O, he's sentenced, all right," summarized Donohue.

Good Morning!

If you're feeling that way you'll find that "Brothers" fills the bill. It's short on sex—and a little long on hokum—but it's interesting, sincerely acted, and intelligently directed.

The piece, adapted from the stage play by Herbert Ashton Jr., features Bert Lytell [who also appeared in the "legitimate" version] in a dual rôle. He plays the "brothers." Both of them. Not, of course, when they are discovered as foundlings in an orphan asylum, some 30 years ago, and one is adopted by a washerwoman and the other by a wealthy lawyer. Somebody's babies look out for these characterizations in adorable style. It is later when the babes are grown that Mr. Lytell takes them in hand, and he does a good job as Eddie Connelly, accused of murder, and Bob Naughton, the real culprit, who is called upon to defend the brother who has been mistakenly charged with the young lawyer's crime.

There's something homely, honest and appealing about this film from start to finish. The story is depicted simply and with no gestures and the star has able support. I like Dorothy Sebastian so much. She THINKS! Claire McDowell does a charming "mother" bit, and Rita Carlyle has several hilarious entrances as a certain habitually inebriated "Mag" forever in quest of a disappearing friend. Frank McCormack is clever as a saloonkeeper, and Francis MacDonald makes good in his one or two tempestuous scenes.

Produced by Universal.
Directed by Monte Bell.
Presented at Woods" theater.
Featuring Lupe Velez, Lewis Ayres, and Edward G. Robinson.

"There will come a time," says an old Chinese philosopher toward the end of this picture, "when East will discover that it is West, and vice versa"—or words to that effect.

Well, maybe. At any rate the benignant comment falls as oil on waters that have been mighty choppy, for the story of "East Is West" deals, as you know if you saw the play, with the love affair of an American boy and a supposed all-Chinese girl.

If your idea of a good show is one that's lurid and sex-y—and a manager told me the other day that "adults only" pictures are the only ones you DO care for—why, then, "East Is West" is your meat. Provided, of course, the censors leave any of it.]

The action starts on a Chinese "love boat" where girls are sold to the highest bidder. The maiden singled out for your particular consideration, is saved from the fate known as "worse than death" by a clear eyed American youth who loves her at first sight At his instigation and with his money, the old Chinaman quoted in the first paragraph buys the plitty Ming Toy and brings her to America, where, again she is rescued by the adoring "Mister Billee Benson." This time the cheated jaws belong to the great Charlie Young, chop suey king, who cuts up plenty.

Billee takes the Chinese girl to his home where she becomes a sort of household pet until the boy announces his unalterable intention of making her Mrs. Billee.

Enter Charlie Young, full of low resolves. Much is about to happen but doesn't because—Ming Toy turns out to be ——? You guess. Yarn sure does tax your credibility.

"Now our babees won' have peegtail!" coos she sweetly.

The picture has been rather deftly directed by Monte Bell. The acting all passes muster, though, as a Chinese maiden, Lupe Velez is just a little Mexican girl, at no time looking, acting or speaking in character. [To my way of thinking.] But she's winsome and you'll like her. Lewis Ayres, whom you'll remember for "All Quiet on the Western Front" and "Common Clay" gives a creditable performance. The honors go, I should say, to Edward Robinson whose impersonation of Charlie Young is extremely clever.

DOUMERGUE PICKS 'RIGHT FORK' EVEN AT BERBERS' FEAST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FEZ, Morocco, Oct. 19.—President Doumergue and the impeccable Becq de Fouquieres, his master of ceremonies, were today confronted with the knottiest problem of etiquette they have faced during their present Moroccan trip, if not in their whole careers.

It was the old question of what fork to use, but complicated by the fact that there were not any forks at all. This puzzling situation came up during a luncheon in President Doumergue's honor on the peak of Djebel Hebrid in the Atlas mountains where the president was guest of wild Berber tribesmen.

Squatted in front of a tent on the mountain top, surrounded by a forest of cedars 120 feet high, plate after plate of weird native food was laid before the president.

According to the African custom there were no forks, knives or spoons, and M. de Fouquieres, who is one of the social arbiters of the capital, was completely stumped by the noval problem of etiquette. President Doumergue, however, solved it by good naturedly pitching in with both hands into a bowl of famous couscous, and then tackled some "mechoui," concoction of chicken floating in thick gray, onions and raisins. President Doumergue snagged a chicken and tore it apart with his fingers in approved Berber fashion.

The hosts later produced a few bottles of champagne and forgot their Mohammedan scruples for a toast. There followed some dancing girls who performed to simple, gymnastic rhythms of pipes and tomtoms. President Doumergue and his aide beat time with their hands.

The MURDER at the VICARAGE

INSTALLMENT LV.
A SECRET UNCOVERED.

Griselda went on:

"You see, Len, I have a steadying influence coming into my life. It's coming into your life, too, but in your case it will be a kind of—of rejuvenating one—at least, I hope so! You can't call me a dear child half so much when we have a real child of our own. And, Len, I've decided that now I'm going to be a real 'wife and mother' [as they say in books], I must be a housekeeper, too. I've bought two books on household management and one on mother love and if that doesn't turn me out a pattern I don't know what will! They are all simply screamingly funny—not intentionally, you know. Especially the one about bringing up children."

"You haven't bought a book on how to treat a husband, have you?" I asked with sudden apprehension as I drew her to me.

"I don't need to," said Griselda. "I'm a very good wife. I love you dearly. What more do you want?"

"Nothing," I said.

"Could you say, just for once, that you love me madly?"

"Griselda," I said, "I adore you! I worship you! I am wildly, hopelessly and quite unclerically crazy about you!"

My wife gave a deep and contented sigh.

Then she drew away suddenly.

"Bother! Here's Miss Marple coming. Don't let her suspect, will you? I don't want every one offering me cushions and urging me to put my feet up. Tell her I've gone down to the golf links. That will put her off the scent—and it's quite true because I left my yellow pullover there and I want it."

Miss Marple came to the window, halted apologetically and asked for Griselda.

"Griselda," I said, "has gone to the golf links."

An expression of concern leaped into Miss Marple's eyes.

"O, but surely," she said, "that is most unwise—just now."

And then in a nice old fashioned ladylike maiden lady way, she blushed.

And to cover the moment's confusion we talked hurriedly of the Protheroe case, and of "Dr. Stone," who had turned out to be a well known cracksman with several different aliases. Miss Cram, by the way, had been cleared of all complicity. She had at last admitted taking the suitcase to the wood, but had done so in all good faith, Dr. Stone having told her that he feared the rivalry of other archeologists who would not stick at burglary to gain their object of discrediting his theories. The girl apparently swallowed this not very plausible story. She is now, according to the village, looking out for a more genuine article in the line of an elderly bachelor requiring a secretary.

As we talked I wondered very much how Miss Marple had discovered our latest secret. But presently, in a discreet fashion, Miss Marple herself supplied me with a clew.

"I hope dear Griselda is not overdoing it," she murmured, and added after a discreet pause: "I was in the bookshop in Much Benham yesterday—"

Poor Griselda—that book on mother love has been her undoing!

"I wonder, Miss Marple," I said suddenly, "if you were to commit a murder whether you would ever be found out."

"What a terrible idea!" said Miss Marple, shocked. "I hope I could never do such a wicked thing."

"But human nature being what it is," I murmured.

Miss Marple acknowledged the hit with a pretty old ladyish laugh.

"How naughty of you, Mr. Clement." She rose. "But naturally you are in good spirits."

She paused by the window.

"My love to dear Griselda—and tell her—that any little secret is quite safe with me."

Really Miss Marple is rather a dear. . . .

"SWEET ADELINE."

A musical comedy, score by Jerome Kern, book and lyrics by Oscar Hammerstein II.; given at the Illinois theater, Oct. 19, 1930, under the management of Arthur Hammerstein.

THE CAST.

Dot, a piccolo player	Beatrice Kay
Emil Schmidt	Robert C. Fischer
Addie	Helen Morgan
Nellie	Evelyn Wade
Lulu Ward	Irene Franklin
Dan Ward	Hans Robert
Tom Martin	Thomas Thompson
Suppers Day	Charles Butterworth
Sam Herzig	Alonzo Price

And others.

BY CHARLES COLLINS.

THE Illinois theater has begun its season last night on the theory that to start with an accepted hit in mid-October is a far, far better thing than to join the traditional Labor day parade with a premature fizzle. And no one who visits "Sweet Adeline" will enter any objections.

This show is a bountiful musical comedy, pleasantly romantic, suavely humorous, engaging of mood and charming of melody. It has a score by Jerome Kern, who is such an old master of popular stuff that the young moderns ought to begin writing high brow essays about him. It has for leading woman the well known and deservedly popular Helen Morgan, who sits upon pianos and gently warbles sentimental ditties in a way that causes night club cynics to sob into their napkins and resolve to lead better, nobler lives. It has—well, it has everything that a musical comedy needs. It is an admirably organized entertainment—one of those flawless in plan that linger for years in playgoing memories.

"Sweet Adeline" runs to the historical, or "period," style which has been the vogue for ambitiously staged lyrical romances since "Show Boat" led the way. It deals with the eccentric customs of Early Americans in and around New York at the time of the Spanish-American war. For some unknown reason that period has been labeled the Gay Nineties, and is always treated by librettists as if it were as remote as the reign of George III. So "Sweet Adeline" indulges in the quaintness of "manners" almost as elaborately as if it were a revival of "The School for Scandal."

But it does not fall into the comic vice of burlesquing its period. It gets the easy, simple charm of the Nineties [which may have been "gay" to some but were grim to others] and tells a sentimental tale that harmonizes with the thirty year old songs of its overture medley. Its title derives from Miss Addie Schwartz, a beer garden waitress and singer who rose to Broadway fame and became Adeline Belmont, whose slipper was craved as a chalice for champagne by every buck in town. The drunkard's song about Adeline, it should be noted, has nothing to do with the case.

Miss Morgan is a winsome lady with a pleasant little voice and a quavering way of singing sob ballads with emotional simplicity and reticence. In an unaffected way she has decided charm, and she carries the plot of "Sweet Adeline" persuasively. Others in the large cast who are important to the performance are Irene Franklin, the vaudeville star, now vividly comic as a burlesque queen; Charles Butterworth, vastly amusing as a vapid "dude" of the period; Robert C. Fischer, as a gentle beer garden papa, and Evelyn Wade and Beatrice Kay as lively girls of the soubrette variety.

"Sweet Adeline" is musical comedy that can be not only enjoyed but also respected.

Friends Revive Memory of Foe of Crooks.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

"He bequeathed a legacy to this generation—an example of civic patriotism."

It was thus that Hoyt King, his friend and associate for many years, spoke yesterday of the late George E. Cole. It was mainly in that rôle—as a fearless and vigorous Chicago patriot—that his memory was honored yesterday at the City club in an assemblage of his old friends and supporters.

George E. Cole, who died last Aug. 18 in his eighty-fifth year, during his lifetime was one of the most relentless prosecutors of crookedness in city politics, in whatever form or field he discovered it. He was instrumental in founding several important organizations still functioning actively in the interests of better city and state government, and the spokesmen at yesterday's memorial meeting were drawn from those organizations.

They included Graham Taylor of the Chicago Commons, who presided as chairman; J. Frank Aldrich of the Union League club, who contributed personal reminiscences of his old friend; Hoyt King, chosen by him in 1896 as secretary of the Fourth Ward league; Walter L. Fisher, who spoke on behalf of the Municipal Voters' league and the city council; Lessing Rosenthal, who represented the City club; Henry P. Chandler of the Citizens' association; Clifford W. Barnes of the Legislative Voters' league, and David E. Shanahan, who discussed Mr. Cole's influence on constitutional revision and the public life.

"His service" Walter L. Fisher declared, "to his community never can be adequately recognized, because it never will be adequately known."

Mr. Aldrich, Mr. Fisher and other speakers recalled Mr. Cole's strenuous opposition to the "boodlers" in the city council years ago, and incidents of the battle which was eventually won through his leadership and bold tactics.

"For a period of years," Mr. King recalled, "the city council had been notoriously and blatantly corrupt. Mr. Cole's first campaign against it was spectacular and successful beyond his or any one's expectations. In his first campaign he was sued for $175,000 damages for publishing over his own signature that a certain eminent and outwardly respectable alderman was a boodler. Cole stuck to his guns and went to work to prove the charge.

"The locating of a witness and demanding his appearance to testify to the fact that he had paid the alderman $500 as a bribe caused the alderman to dismiss the suit. Also in this campaign one of Cole's independent candidates for aldermen was Meyering.

"That candidate was counted in again after five months' battle to force the council to recount the ballots. The perpetrators of this fraud were lodged in Joliet."

It was related by Mr. Aldrich that Julian S. Grinnell, state's attorney who in 1886 convicted the ballot box stuffers and sent the "boodlers" to Joliet was the man who in 1887 sponsored Mr. Cole for membership in the Union League club.

Chicago War Hero Buys First Salvation Army Doughnut

The first "doughnut" of the Salvation Army's annual drive today was sold to the first American soldier to receive the distinguished service cross in the world war. Capt. Margaret Metzger sold the first tag, and it was purchased by Capt. William D. Meyering.

Under the direction of Mrs. Charles S. Clark, tag day chairman, 6,000 women were stationed throughout the city and suburbs to sell the paper tokens. The drive is sponsored by the women's division, of which Mrs. Charles King Gorsant is president.

This division is responsible for the army service at the Women's Home and Hospital, the Women's Emergency lodge, and the Salvation Army fresh air camp, Camp Lake, Wis.

To continue this work $79,521.25 is needed. It is anticipated that this will bring the total of the Salvation Army drive fund to a little over $200,000, or about what will be needed by the army to carry out its work for the next twelve months.

Society Girls Selling Books to Winnetkans

BY THALIA

The Chestnut Court Bookshop and Rental Library in Winnetka, opened recently, has as youthful proprietresses Miss Louise Lackner and Miss Agnes Pierce.

Miss Lackner started out last summer fulfilling a pet ambition to sell books when she and her sister, Antoinette, conducted a peripatetic library, "Little Parnassus," through northern Wisconsin and Michigan. "Little Parnassus," a light motor truck converted into a movable library, was inspired by Christopher Morley's story of a traveling library, "Parnassus on Wheels." The girls combined business with pleasure and made summer visits as they went their way.

The new bookshop is a further development of the same idea. It's done in modern style with steplike book shelves and a black, silver, blue, and apricot color scheme.

Miss Pierce, daughter of Albert E. Pierce, also a Winnetkan, has just returned from a year of travel and study abroad. Miss Lackner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Lackner, have come in town for a month or so and are at the Belmont hotel.

Another young woman who is following her particular predilection in the matter of going into trade is Miss Florence Cremin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Cremin of 20 Scott street.

She has taken a job in a florist shop to be opened today in the Board of Trade building, and is to design bouquets, table decorations, and general floral schemes.

Several of her friends are to assist her at a tea party opening the new shop this afternoon. Nowadays the tasteful chatelaine chooses flowers and vases to harmonize with the furnishings of her abode, and the choice of floral adornment is not a hit-or-miss affair, and so Miss Cremin expects to find ample opportunity to demonstrate her artistic inclinations.

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Wegener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Wegener of 2440 Lake View avenue, to Bennet B. Harvey, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Harvey of 340 Barry avenue, is to take place this afternoon. The service is to be read at the Fortnightly by the Rev. Stephen E. Keeler at 4:30 o'clock, and will be followed by a reception for the small group of guests attending the wedding. Mrs. Daniel Peterkin Jr. is to be matron of honor for Miss Wegener, and the groom's sisters, Mrs. Charles G. La Forgee [Beatrice Harvey] and Miss Roberta Harvey, are to be the bridesmaids. William MacMillan Lewis of St. Louis is to serve Mr. Harvey as best man and Charles G. Le Forgee, John Duncan, John Clark, and Samuel Clark Jr. are to be the groomsmen. Mr. Harvey and his bride are to reside on the near north side when they return from their European wedding trip.

Miss Anne Holmes, daughter of Mrs. Enoch Turner Holmes of Cocoanut Grove, Fla., is to be married this afternoon to Charles Shepard Reed Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shepard Reed of 12 Scott street and of Ottawa, Ill. The ceremony is to be performed at the Christ church in Ottawa, and will be followed by a reception at the Reed residence, Hickory Hill. Mrs. Philips Dunham is to be Miss Holmes' only attendant and Thomas Phillips Field is to be best man for Mr. Reed.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Ashcraft Jr. of Evanston are to give a debut tea this afternoon for their daughter, Miss Anne Ashcraft, at their residence from 4 to 6 o'clock. Assisting the debutants will be Miss Caroline Smith, Miss Hortense Henry, Miss Evelyn Boscaren, Miss Elsa Armour, and Miss Jane Martin.

Plans for constructing a new building to house the Opera club have been delayed and the old quarters on Walton place are being redecorated for the coming season. As usual, the opening party will be on Halloween. The board of governors for the season include George Woodruff, chairman; Orville Taylor, Benjamin Marshall, Col. Horatio Hackett, Stuart Logan, James Martin, Leeds Mitchell, Robert Upham, Weymouth Kirland, Edwin W. Sims, and George Leach.

The Chauncey McCormicks and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Hopkins have been making a short stay at the Coronado hotel at Coronado Beach, Cal., before proceeding on for a trip into Mexico.

Mrs. G. F. M. Ennis (Ethel Kirkland) of Uitenhage, Cape province, South Africa, landed in England on Saturday and is taking the first boat for this country to come to Chicago to be with her sister, Mrs. Victor C. Sanborn of Lake Forest, and her brother, John W. Kirkland of 25 East Walton place.

Mrs. Eleanor Hall Winterbotham has rented her New York apartment to Mrs. Stewart Patterson for 3 months and sailed on Oct. 10 to spend the winter in Europe. She is to visit in Paris, from there go to Warsaw, Poland, and then on to England, returning to this country in January.

Mrs. Henry D. Patten is in town, having spent the summer in Europe visiting with relatives and friends, and she and Mr. Patten have taken the residence in Lake Forest known as the old Harry Durand house, on College road, for this and next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin N. Veeder of Winnetka are planning to give a subdeb dance at the Indian Hill club on Dec. 26 for Mr. Veeder's sister, Miss Caroline Veeder.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Mrs. M. Murray La Mont is at the Barclay until sailing on Nov. 8 to spend the winter in England.

Dr. and Mrs. R. Williams gave a dinner last night at Sherry's for Mrs. Williams' daughter, Miss Lesta Ford, and Albert George Clay, who will be married tomorrow.

Mrs. Willis Gemmill Mitchell gave a tea this afternoon for Miss Peggy Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton D. Baker of Cleveland, who is a student at Sarah Lawrence college, Bronxville.

Mrs. James Seligman will return Wednesday on the Ile de France and will be at the Ritz Tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ogden Bacon have returned from Newport.

MISS LUCILLE TATHAM.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clinton Tatham of Glencoe announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucille, to Willis Harrison Littell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence C. Littell of Kenilworth. Miss Tatham is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority at Northwestern university, and Mr. Littell a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity at the University of Chicago.

Y.M.C.A. Will Discuss Work in Germany, Mexico, and in U. S.

Progress of the Young Men's Christian association in this and other countries, and work in prospect for the coming months will be the topics for discussion at the National Council of the Y. M. C. A. opening today at the Edgewater Beach hotel. It will continue through Thursday. Francis S. Harmon of Hattiesburg, Miss., president of the council, will preside.

Dr. Erich Stange of Cassel, Prussia, general secretary of the National Alliance of the German Y. M. C. A., will be the guest of the council. The council comprises 353 members representing 1,890 associations in the United States.

Work with the American Indians, with Mexicans, Negroes, and in rural communities wil come under consideration at the gatherings. Relationship of the organization to the churches will also be discussed.

William E. Speers, chairman of the home division committee, will report today that 1,086,000 members are enrolled in the 1,890 associations in America. His report will also include the statement that the net property and funds of the Y. M. C. A. have increased to $238,000,000, which is double that of ten years ago, and that operating expenses annually have reached $63,000,000.

Americans in China.

PEIPING, China Oct. 19.—The following Americans registered today at the Peiping bureau of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE: Mr. and Mrs. William Sherman Hay, Winnetka, Ill.; T. W. Magill, Kenilworth, Ill.; Mrs. Peter W. Phelps, Marquette, Wis.; Mrs. Anna M. Fisher, 8217 Harper avenue, G. W. Robbins, 2816 North Campbell avenue, and Mrs. Blancher Basford, Chicago.

SEVERAL CHANGES IN BOXHOLDERS FOR METROPOLITAN OPERA

New York, Oct. 19.—[Special.]—Changes in the "golden horseshoe" of the Metropolitan Opera house are shown by the list of boxholders for the twenty-third season under the direction of Giulio Gatti-Casazza, opening next Monday evening with Verdi's "Aida." The list was made public today.

Edward S. Harkness relinquishes his box because he will spend the winter in Europe, and John N. Willys his because he was appointed ambassador to Poland. J. P. Morgan, H. Edward Manville, and Frazier Jelke are the individuals having exclusive use of parterre boxes, aside from those held by estates.

Otto H. Kahn, chairman of the Metropolitan Opera company, shares one with Walter G. Ladd, for odd matinées with Mrs. Christian R. Holmes, for even Mondays, and with Marius De Brabant for even Wednesdays.

Mrs. Robert Goelet will share a box with the duchess of Roxburghe, the former May Goelet. Van Rensselaer Pryn no longer shares a box with Vincent Astor and William T. Dewart.

Harris Fahnestock's name is omitted from those on Mrs. E. H. Harriman's; Miss Iseline's will be shared on odd Mondays with Mrs. T. Kieley.

The name of Cass Gilbert is omitted from that held by the estate of Elbridge T. Gerry and those of Edwin C. Jameson and William R. Coe are added.

Sunday Concerts Include That Given for Legion Auxiliary

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Yesterday afternoon's round of concerts began at the Civic theater with a violin recital by Henri Temianka. He and Yvonne Krinsky were heard in Schumann's sonata for violin and piano, played with perhaps more enthusiasm than the music deserved, but with smooth tone, excellent shading and phrasing, and all around competence of manner.

Next door at the Civic Opera house Isador Berger, the newly appointed concertmaster of the Chicago Civic Opera company, appeared with the orchestra of that organization in a concert for the benefit of the Cook county council of the American Legion auxiliary. A large audience was there. The orchestra, directed by Charles Lauwers, played the prelude to "Hansel and Gretel," followed by the overture to "Mignon," whereupon Mr. Berger took the stage with the Tschaikowsky Concerto in D, playing with excellent if none too great tone and easy command of all violinistic resources.

On the other side of the loop, Geraldine Farrar gave a song recital. From a flashing notable of opera she has become a silver-and-white lady of lieder, evidently a careful student of song literature with the dramatic instinct still strong within her, acting some of her songs with gesture and facial expression, occasionally changing a note at will—again the operatic feeling creeping out—and at all times well loved by her audience, as she always has been and always will be.

Returning after an interval, Carl Friedberg played a piano recital at the Studebaker. Adhering closely to standard works for the greater part of his program, his Schumann had the warmth and incisiveness of a new, delightful adventure in music, which under his fingers it came close to being. The "Symphonic Etudes" appeared with their repetition marks canceled, an example of restraint thoroughly recommended to all pianists who will play the set in future.

Vera Mirova, a delightful dancer, appeared at the Playhouse with Frank Sykora, cellist, as assisting artist. Miss Mirova took up only part of her program with the oriental dances, of which she is a brilliant specialist, permitting herself to go into competition with dancers of more western and therefore more conventional divertissements, and showing thereby an excellent reason why she should stand competition.

The Chicago String quartet gave the first of two Beethoven concerts at the Chicago Woman's club theater, and not merely Beethoven but the late Beethoven, the works where he put his most extended and imaginative ability into the form of music for four stringed instruments. The quartets of yesterday were opus 127 in E flat and opus 130 in B flat, played studiously, carefully, and with sincere attention to the composer's directions.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Patrick J. Hurley will be joined by the secretary of war, who is on a western inspection tour, in ten days Mrs. Hurley is spending a few days in Philadelphia, Pa.

The ambassador of Chile and Senora de Davila were guests at dinner today given by Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Crosby at their Warrenton home.

Miss Gertrude Lamont, daughter of the secretary of commerce and Mrs. Lamont, is in Boston, where she went for the Harvard-Army football game. Upon her return Miss Lamont will prepare for a trip to Princeton for the Princeton-Navy game.

The chief of staff and Mrs. Charles P. Summerall will return to their home in Florida as soon as Maj. Gen. Douglas MacArthur takes up his post in Gen. Summerall's stead.

Admiral and Mrs. William S. Benson have as guests Mrs. W. G. Cutler, who leaves today for California; en route she will stop in Chicago to visit her brother, William N. Pelouze.

Political interest as well as that of smart society centers about the debut ball Dec. 27 of Miss Katrina McCormick, daughter of Representative Ruth Hanna McCormick, nominee for the United States senate. No further plans have been made for the debut.

Food Talk.

Big cities boast of their school systems. They are proud of their well trained teachers, modern heating plants, and up to date libraries. But not many of these that I know about can vaunt themselves on their system of feeding the school children.

There are many schools in big and bustling cities where little or no attention is paid to the miserable way children spend their lunch money.

Children often eat hurriedly in shops that are dirty, poorly kept, and where sanitation and careful service are never practiced they need to be taught to eat a well balanced meal in a leisurely way and to refuse to accept anything that lacks appetizing appearance and flavor.

Teachers and school children may be helpless in this matter so far as I know. But I do know the mothers are not. They can prepare an appetizing dietetically correct lunch for the child to take to school. And easier still, if the school is not too far away the child can come home to a nourishing hot luncheon.

The school child's business is to develop physically and mentally, and he cannot do this unless he has the proper amount of rest, exercise, and food, and one is about as important as the other. A good, easily digested lunch will not only supply a child with needed energy and repair material but will also stimulate his afternoon mental processes.

The first essential of the school luncheon is attractiveness in both appearance and flavor. Children enjoy nicely served food and usually will eat every bite set before them. The school luncheon should contain carbohydrates, proteins, minerals, and vitamins. Milk and some other protein food such as meat or fish, carbohydrates such as bread or macaroni, rice or potato, fruits and vegetables should appear in every luncheon, since it is the child's heartiest meal.

The luncheon suggested in today's menu is good from the standpoint of appearance and food value. This and other similar ones may be packed and taken to school. A thermos bottle will be needed for the cocoa. The cottage cheese can be seasoned, perhaps a few nuts added and put into a paraffined paper cup that comes with a tight fitting lid. The tomato can be taken whole, and if salt is sent along the child will enjoy eating this out of the hand. Canned fruit may be taken in waxed paper cups. Fresh fruit, however, is better, but should always be thoroughly washed, then dried and wrapped in paraffin paper. Sandwiches, cookies, celery, and lettuce should be wrapped in paraffin paper. And a folded pretty paper napkin is indispensable—it is useful and attractive.

VEAL LOAF.

1 cup bread crumbs.	1 chopped onion.
¼ teaspoon pepper.	2 eggs.

Parboil the veal for 15 minutes. Put the veal, ham, and salt pork through a food chopper. Add the bread crumbs and seasoning and onion. Then add the eggs well beaten Mix well and put in a square baking dish. Put lumps of butter on top and brush with egg. Place the dish in a pan of hot water and bake for two and a half hours in a moderate oven [375 degrees F.], basting occasionally with water or a little beef stock. Serve hot with a brown gravy, or slice and serve cold with salad.

Walter Dill Scott's Decade at N. U. Will Be Celebrated

A dinner, marking Dr. Walter Dill Scott's tenth anniversary as president of Northwestern university, will be given him at the Palmer house Oct. 31. The celebration, sponsored by a group of business and professional men, will have Dr. Frederick Paul Keppel, president of the Carnegie corporation, as its principal speaker.

As to Northwestern's growth during the decade of President Scott's administration, the number of students in 1920 was 7,000; last year more than 14,000. The faculty has grown from 500 to 1,000. The annual cost of operating the university has increased from $1,400,000 in 1920 to $4,000,000 in 1929.

Of the many developments, the outstanding one was the concentration of the professional schools on McKinlock campus, in Chicago. The various schools and halls are the first units in a $25,000,000 educational enterprise in the heart of Chicago.

E. H. Gary Memorial Church Dedicated by Rites in Wheaton

Services at 11 o'clock yesterday morning marked the dedication of the new $300,000 Gary Memorial Methodist church at Wheaton. Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes gave the dedicatory sermon. Judge C. D. Clark, chairman of the board of trustees, made the presentation of the new structure, which replaces the church built in 1901 by the late Elbert H. Gary in memory of his parents, Erastus and Susan A. Valette Gary.

The former church was destroyed by fire on Jan. 7, 1929. Under the present pastor, the Rev. James H. Durand, a meeting of the trustees was held within twenty-four hours after the blaze and a resolution passed to rebuild at once.

On the ground floor of the present church is located a banquet hall, kitchen, classrooms, and large junior department. The first floor is occupied by the auditorium, beginners department, ladies' parlor, choir room, chapel, and primary department. On the second floor of the west and north wings are a gymnasium, classrooms, pastor's study, and locker rooms. The gymnasium boasts a stage and may also be used for dramatic presentations.

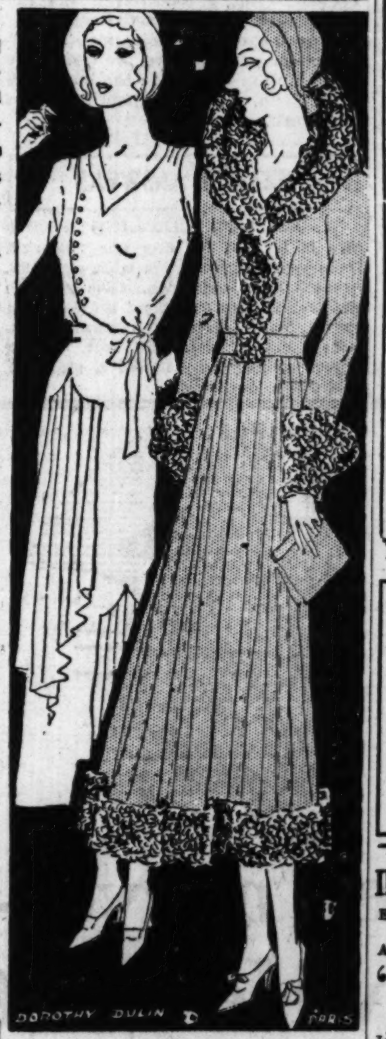
Skirt Coats Flare Into Paris Fashions

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.



PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Long coats are likely to be definitely divided into fitted waist and full skirt this season. Such coats emphasize the hour glass figure, which is the new ideal of many of the Paris couturiers. Often the coats really imitate dresses.

Augustabernard's ankle length velvet evening coat, with its full skirt, fitted waist, and draped collar, is one of these. Patou follows this formula in a number of his daytime ensembles. Lanvin makes fitted and flared skirted coats and buttons them up the center front. Chanel has some evening coats with dolman sleeved tops cut at the waistline and with long circular skirts. She likes double breasted, full skirted redingotes for daytime, and so do Schiaparelli, Irene Dana, and Lenief, S. A.

This Patou afternoon ensemble in his new astrakan beige—a melting, mauve-gray beige—trimmed with its namesake fur, has a long coat of wool velours, with skirt, made full by alternating stitched and unstitched plaits, and a fitted waist joined by a wide incrusted belt of the wool velours. The fur is applied as a yoke and plastron which grow into a draped collar, and is also used to make the flaring cavalier cuffs and a five inch band round the hem. This coat is considerably longer than its companion frock of astrakhan-beige crêpe de chine, which is trickily cut.

The New Baby and Behavior Problems May Arrive Together

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"Perhaps you'd be interested to know," writes a young mother with a new baby, "how well I managed when the baby came.

"One day I was washing out some baby clothes and my small son came into the bathroom. When he saw what I was doing he was all agog. Questions came fast and furiously and, determined ahead of time to answer them, I found myself telling him how babies grow and are born.

"Of course he was absorbed and delighted. Well, we had such fun talking it all over and planning for the baby. And when the baby came he was so happy. He isn't a bit jealous and would no more harm the baby than I would."

All mothers do not go about things in this way, but I wish they would. It is a serious mistake for a mother not to share this great event with the small son or daughter who is already on the scene. We've written on this subject before—but letters show it needs repeating.

Suppose you had always had the entire affection and attention of your mother and father—and perhaps grandmother and grandfather and uncles and aunts. Then suppose, one fine day, a tiny baby appeared. And all your world came to see, to admire, to exclaim over and to talk about it.

And suppose that your mother after that was so busy taking care of it that she had little time for you. "I can't come now, honey, I'm fixing the baby's food," "I can't read to you now, dear, I'm going to bathe the baby," etc. And suppose your father was absorbed in the newcomer, too. Wouldn't all that be a blow? And would it be surprising if you resented the change and in some way tried to draw to yourself some of that beloved mother's time and notice?

This is what often happens. And the means that your little boy or girl uses to attract your notice we call behavior problems. Perhaps to get your attention he has to—quite subconsciously—have temper tantrums, or become disobedient, or refuse to eat or slip out of those carefully built up elimination habits. But get your attention he will—by hook or crook.

Prevent these developments by sharing the baby's coming with your little son or daughter—and by watching your step after the baby arrives.

FARM AND GARDEN BY PAUL POTTER

WINNER PRAISES CONTEST.

Proof that a great part of Chicagoland has its eyes focused upon a more beautiful area of homes, lawns and gardens is being received from scores of persons who completed competition in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S $5,000 1930 home lawn contest for which checks and certificates have been issued to 195 winners. A sample of devotion to nature comes in a letter from R. W. Dvorak, Fox River Grove, Ill., a member of the Chicago crime commission:

"To say that Mrs. Dvorak and myself were pleased and surprised would be putting it mildly. We hoped but hardly expected that the two seasons of healthy and pleasant though sometimes strenuous work in and around our new house would earn such speedy and valued recognition.

"I personally have found mental and physical recreation in the task of making my home surroundings more beautiful. The work of aiding nature into functioning at its best has been exhilarating and instructive.

"Mrs. Dvorak and I both thank you for giving home and nature lovers a chance to earn recognition. Your contest has spurred thousands into making their surroundings more beautiful this year and many more will do so the next.

"In closing I can only add that if all persons who today are cooped up in apartment houses and who seek a kick out of life in cabarets and other expensive emporiums of night life where the necessary loss of sleep breaks down physical resistance could experience the pleasures of seeing Mother Nature at her best, there would be a greater increase in home owners and amateur gardeners."

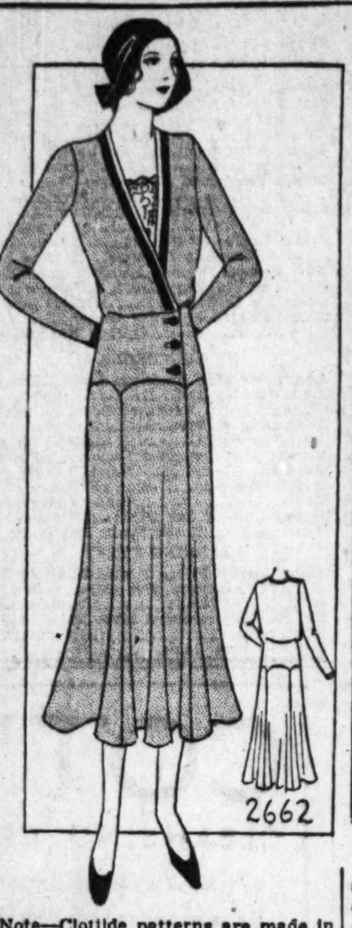
PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

(Registered U S Patent Office)



Note—Clotilde patterns are made in New York exclusively for THE CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE. They are perfect in fit, up to date in style, and the easiest of all patterns to use.

WOMAN'S DRESS.

The lines of this dress are slenderizing for the mature figure, with the wrapped treatment of the bodice narrowing the breadth, and the side buttoned closing of the hip yoke aiding in the narrowing. The long skirt is cut scalloped at the top to meet each circular gore that widens into a gracefully flaring hem. Any of the new daytime fabrics are suitable.

The pattern, No. 2662, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4⅝ yards of 39 inch material with ¼ yard of 9 inch wide all over lace, and ½ yard of 35 inch contrasting.

If You'd Keep That Youthful Look, Pay Heed to Your Eyes

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

As has been stressed before in this column, the eyes do not get the consideration due them by women hot in the pursuit of youth in all its youthful symptoms.

The other day I ran across a woman in company with her granddaughter, a small youngster of 7. This woman's eyes really have the warmth, the light, and the freshness of a young girl in them. The lids are unwrinkled. I asked Mrs. X. about the care she gave.

"Since I was 25, I guess, I've bathed them in a salt solution every morning. Just a tiny particle of salt on the tip of the spoon to a glass of water."

Not many women can boast that constant devotion, can they?

Those three minute compresses night and morning, which are being advocated more and more, are being adopted by women who care. You have your bowl filled with fresh, clean absorbent cotton pads. Dip one in warm water and let it remain on the closed lid for a little bit. Take another bit of cotton and dip it in cold water and apply to the lid.

If you are going out for an evening and feel a little tired-eyed, try this freshener measure. Of course, you can get eye tonics and preparations to lay on the lids that have been studied out by experts for the benefit of women eager to sharpen the beauty of their eyes.

If you can spare fifteen minutes before you go stepping and want your eyes to dazzle the gentleman with whom you step, lie down and apply the cotton pads one after the other, or even cold pads alone will do a lot to rest the eyes.

One specialist recommends ten minute compresses of cotton dipped in as hot distilled water as can be borne, to which has been added one per cent of salt. But I recommend the hot water applications plus the cold.

A good eye wash which may be sufficient for you is a two per cent boric acid solution applied to the eyes with an eye cup. It makes them feel clean and fresh.

Bright Sayings of the Children

After playing riotously with my nephew Kenneth one whole afternoon he refused to lie down and sleep when bedtime came. Repeated admonitions from his father found him still wide awake and talkative. In exasperation his father finally said, "If you don't go to sleep I'll get another little boy and give you away." A second of silence, then in a wistful voice from the bed came, "I don't blame you." P. F.

Here's One Way of Putting Joy Into Dishwashing Job

BY DORIS BLAKE.

When you read a headline, as was printed recently, about putting joy into dishwashing, you wonder if the instigator of it ever had to stay in and do the dishes while the neighbor kids were out in the yard skipping rope and having a good time. Or, you wonder if the writer might not be a person who never knew familiarity with a kitchen until the day of pastel skittles and baby blue saucepans was inaugurated. One can work up so much more joy over the dishwashing duty if it is not associated as a drudge duty or a punishment of childhood.

It is curious the antipathy there is for this one household duty. No other single performance has the same power to irritate. Dusting, floor mopping, washing, straightening up, while sometimes not conducive to stir song in the heart, still do not stir the soul to mutiny as often as does the washing and drying of dishes.

Perhaps the reason lies in its three-a-day schedule—the hopelessness of never getting through with it. The actual meal preparing takes place three times a day—but here we have a creative instinct satisfied in a degree. There's nothing creative about dishwashing. It is a drudgery. But compared to dishwashing of other days, well, there is a comparison that could put joy into dishwashing on a disheartened day.

The right spirit and a knowledge of scientific methods are suggested by a noted home economist as the means of putting joy in the dread job. Apropos the October moving into new quarters or the fall housecleaning season, we suggest an idea that might make the kitchen drudgery something far removed from slavery.

The idea of a colorful kitchen—one where the housewife can build up a pretty background for her labors—certainly is not new. Young housewives have adopted the idea with their first housekeeping venture, but older housewives who have been at it for years are sometimes loath to introduce the novelty of color, gay and stimulating, into the walls, the linoleum, the curtains and the kitchen utensils proper. If they would, this change might be the very tonic needed to lighten this household task.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Offers Walking Shoes.

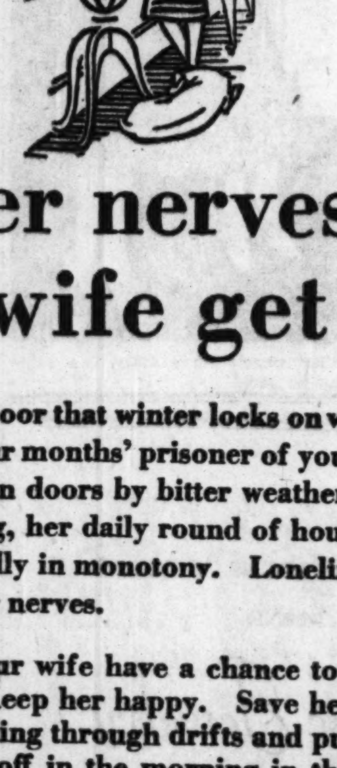
"I have a pair of good one-strap black walking shoes, arch preserver make, in size 9½-AA which I shall be glad to give to some woman. If I find some one wearing this size I shall be able to supply her from time to time. MRS. C. J."

If you wear this size, your shoe problem may be solved for the future. If you'd like to be the recipient of this steady supply, write me; please do not telephone.

Crippled Woman in Need.

"I know a woman who is in need of every sort of clothing, especially a coat. She wears size 50, and 7 in shoes. She is crippled and cannot work and her husband has tuberculosis. MRS. A. L."

Here is misfortune in a tremendous share. Can you help a bit by supplying the clothing the woman needs so badly?



Winter nerves—does your wife get them?

Open the door that winter locks on women. Don't make a four months' prisoner of your wife. Confined within doors by bitter weather and dangerous footing, her daily round of household duties grows deadly in monotony. Loneliness develops into winter nerves.

Let your wife have a chance to get about in winter! Keep her happy. Save her the discomfort of wading through drifts and puddles. When you drive off in the morning in the family car, put a second warm, comfortable one at her disposal. You can pick one up at small cost by checking through Tribune Want Ads. Chicago's best used values are advertised there. Hundreds of serviceable cars attractively priced are advertised daily. Field Supervisors Depot Managers Branch Managers

We must develop within the next 60 days a few men to manage new branch operation in Illinois and other states. If you are honest, thorough, and earnest in your work, and have real sales ability, coupled with sound, practical experience in the handling and controlling of men, we will spare neither time nor efforts in training you for these positions. Only high calibered men who have sufficient background to warrant the possibility of development in a short period need apply.

If you can qualify you will be connecting with one of the oldest and largest manufacturers in this particular field with over 80 direct branches from coast to coast.

You can be certain of immediate income and a bona fide opportunity, second to none today in Chicago. Our sales organization has been advised of this advertisement. Apply to District Manager, Room 361, 4554 Broadway.

LOANS ON YOUR SIGNATURE ONLY

Why not ... two or more endorsers when you can borrow money at The LOCAL ... ON YOUR SIGNATURE ONLY?

We prefer to loan money to the man or woman steadily employed ON THEIR OWN SIGNATURE. Our records show that the greater part of our loans are SIGNATURE ONLY LOANS.

This service is such a departure from the old method of making loans that people are amazed when it is explained to them.

Loans made from $10 to $300. Pay any time and pay only for the time you keep the money. Our service is made for the borrower.

For the few who do not qualify for a SIGNATURE ONLY LOAN, we make FURNITURE LOANS or LOANS WITH ONE ENDORSER.

Give us a call. You will appreciate our service and we will appreciate your business.
